

BARTENDERS ARE INDICTED

Three bartenders of this city were indicted Wednesday by the grand jury on a charge of selling liquor to Percy Hale, a minor, of Ashland. The men arrested were Ed Stockton, Dan Mayer and Matt Finney. They were released on a bond of $250 each.

Some time ago the night watchman at Ashland found young Hale in a drunken condition. He arrested him and asked where he obtained the liquor. On information that he had secured it at Medford a number of Ashland citizens interested themselves in the matter and asked Mayor Neil of that city to take steps in the matter. Hale declared that he could buy whiskey in Medford at any of the saloons and, accompanied by the Ashland chief of police, he came down and purchased whiskey at the Nash bar, Brown's bar and the one run by Karnes brothers.

This information was laid before the grand jury, which indicted the bartenders selling the liquor in each instance.

As there is a city ordinance providing a heavy fine for a minor misrepresenting his age Hale may be prosecuted. However, acting as he was in the capacity of a detective, he may escape on this technicality.

Mayor Neil of Ashland states that he took the matter up in order to determine whether the whiskey was obtained in Medford or whether some individual of that city was engaged in "bootlegging."

FIND $42 NUGGET ON ROGUE RIVER

Taking a tip that good money could be made by "rocking" the gravel of Rogue river two men of this city, G. F. Wilson and Harry Evans, are rejoicing today at their good fortune, for their first day's work netted them $42.25 in one nugget.

The men left Medford last Monday broke. They drifted into Woodville and struck M. L. Johnson for a meal. They also asked for work but could not secure it. Then they were told to go and "roek" gravel in the river. Full of hope, they left Woodville and started down the stream. Woodville was still smiling over the method taken in getting them out of the city when the two men reappeared. One had a huge nugget which he succeeded in selling to the Woodville bank for $42.25. They are still working on the river.

FIRE BOYS ARE NOT TO WALK OUT

Mayor Canon today announced the following appointments as paid firemen: Eugene Amann, chief; Harry Ling, assistant chief; Frank Lindsey, Charles Bossom, Victor Danielson and Con Cady, firemen. The city council and the Medford fire department have adjusted their differences and there will be no walkout. The matter was settled definitely Wednesday afternoon. Fire Chief Amann will remain as well as Assistant Chief Harry Ling. W. J. Lawton resigned as driver. The firemen agreed to accept the scale of wages as first provided by the council, with this difference, that at the end of six months the salaries will be raised $5 a month and another $5 at the end of the year. Eugene Amann will receive $100 a month for holding down two jobs, fire chief and building inspector. The other members of the paid department will be appointed by Mayor Canon soon.

GLOVER IS CLEARED BY GRAND JURY
