If you are asking this question, why not study your neighbor's advertising and go him one better? Maybe his ads are bristling with originality-more likely they have a certain amount of originality and more of stick-to-itiveness.

The man who has a fixed advertising policy and keeps hammering away is the one who brings the trade to his store. Small ads placed often are bigger pullers than large ones spasmodically placed. The buying public is trained to look for the regular announcements of the most successful merchants in Medford.
