"This condition," the Bulletin continues, "would be brought about by the equity of the great corporate interests of the state and nation and it is certain that further publication of Ruef's narrative with its exposures of the financial magnates who have been the source of corruption, would give Ruef that equity."

"I suffered from indigestion for a long time. Last May I almost died. The doctor told me it was acute indigestion and I could not be cured. Since that time I have suffered very much, as some days everything I ate even light food, as soft boiled eggs, would distress me. I lost fifteen pounds. Plenty of Piano Business for Everyone in Medford

Now is the Time to purchase.

We have no quarrel with any other dealer in Medford, in fact it would not look well for a firm like Eilers Music House, the nation's largest piano dealers and who purchase pianos in railroad lots for 40 large western stores to seriously consider as competition a dealer who has one little store, very little capital and gets most of his pianos on consignment. We are in a position to wholesale pianos to our customers, to sell you a piano for the price the consignment dealer pays for his piano—you save his profit.

In no other line of business is this possible, as the piano business is different in that most pianos are sold on $6, $8 or $10 per month payments and it takes almost unlimited capital—this is where the big dealer has the advantage.

As we announced in Saturday's Mail Tribune that while we are closing out the Bishop stock of pianos it is not our policy to close our Medford store but instead we expect in the near future to be occupying our own new building here.

In all fairness we say—visit all the stores, they have also good pianos, we are not contending that they have not, but we do claim that quality against quality we can save you at all times at least $100 on a piano and right now owing to closing out the Bishop stock a great deal more than this amount.

The piano buying public of the west owe to Eilers Music House a debt of gratitude, for it is a fact that in every city where they have opened a branch store the high prices heretofore asked for pianos have been lowered.

It is this representation of only pianos of quality and the giving of liberal values that has made Eilers Music House the largest piano dealers in America.

We do wish that every intending piano purchaser would read our single column advertisement on page 6 of this paper. We are fully aware that this is the dull season here in the piano business but we know that if the public only realized the startling values offered every piano would be sold quickly.
