RESOLUTIONS. Medford, Ore., May 11, 1912. To the Officers and Members of Rogue River Encampment No. 30, I. O. O. F.:

Whereas, It has pleased the All-wise Father of the Universe to remove from our midst Thresa Hubbard, the beloved wife of Patriarch Fort Hubbard; therefore be it

Resolved, That Rogue River Encampment No. 30 I. O. O. F. extend to the bereaved husband and family its heartfelt and deepest sympathy in this their hour of sorrow. We realize that it is indeed sorrowful to have death part loved ones, yet we would admonish them not to mourn too deeply as this wife and mother has passed from this world of strife to a happier and better one beyond, wherein we shall all be reunited in happiness and peace, therefore be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy be spread on the minutes of this Encampment and a copy be sent to the papers for publication.

Fraternally submitted, L. O. HOWARD, H. D. TURNER, M. L. MEADOWS, Committee.

DR. BAILLIE BESTS WHISLER IN DEBATE

(Contributed)

The debate between Dr. J. K. Baillie, pastor of the Presbyterian church and C. E. Whistler Thursday evening in the W. O. W. hall will be long remembered. The hall was crowded before the debate began. Fortunately for the badge committee, many came wearing yellow flowers for the committee had procured all the yellow ribbon in town and also had a liberal supply of buttons but the supply was quickly exhausted for Phoenix and vicinity is ultra woman suffragist.

Dr. Baillie championed votes for women, and Mr. Whistler presented the negative side. Dr. Baillie's opening speech was so masterly and comprehensive and conclusive that when Mr. Whistler arose to speak he said that it was the best presentation speech he had ever heard in a debate and that he heard a great many, and that it looked from what the doctor had said that the subject had been decided and nothing more could be said on it. He then proceeded to exemplify what he had said in tribute to the doctor's speech. He took exception to Dr. Baillie's claiming suffrage a right instead of a privilege. The audience cared nothing for hair-splitting definitions and Dr. Baillie's authority on its being a right included everything from Webster's dictionary to Blackstone and the great men in the world's history. Mr. Whistler, unfortunately for his argument, quoted Elihu Root and a Judge Sullivan. The doctor's disposal of "Eli" left nothing to be desired and the audience cheered him to an echo. His pronunciation alone, of the name put Root in the Benedict Arnold column. He simply doubted Judge Sullivan's being correctly quoted, which was a logical deduction, as the man Sullivan is practically unknown, but it is a world known fact that the Irishman is acknowledged without a peer in gallantry and broadness of thought—except it be the Scotchman who was so well represented by the erudite and courtly doctor.

Mr. Whistler was equally unfortunate in speaking of conditions in some of the woman suffrage states and attributing it to the voting of the women. The doctor quickly gave that argument its quietus by showing that the women in the states and cities cited were outnumbered by the men two, three, four and even as high as six to one. When he quoted Judge Ben Lindsey as his authority for the good woman suffrage had done, he was given great applause, not only because Judge Lindsey's name is a household word throughout the nation but because there were many in the audience who came from the states which Mr. Whistler tried to misrepresent and who verified with their approval the truth of the doctor's words.

"Whom the gods destroy they first make mad" was once again exemplified by Mr. Whistler. Smarting with utter defeat on every point, he threw all regard for fact and reason to the winds, and said that "no one knew that it was the votes of the women of Seattle that recalled Mayor Gill and again defeated him this spring for re-election and electing the present mayor, George F. Cotterill."

Gill and everything in Seattle acknowledges that the "little white ballot" in the hands of the women of Seattle defeated them.

Perhaps the most amusing incident in the debate was the fretting of a little baby girl, whose parents both wore the little yellow bow. Whenever Mr. Whistler spoke the child began to wail and kept it up while he was speaking but at the sound of Dr. Baillie's voice she became quiet and remained so until Mr. Whistler resumed his argument.

Dr. Baillie ended the debate as he began it with a plea for the representation of the unrepresented half of our country—the women. So eloquently and logically did the doctor plead for "votes for women" that all opposition went down before him. The only known anti-suffragist in Phoenix said when he came out of the spell thrown around him by the doctor's speech that he was in favor of women voting who owned property.

Phoenix is nothing if not magnanimous. When the debate was over men and women shook hands with Mr. Whistler admonishing and sympathizing with him, while members of the badge committee fastened the little yellow bow and "votes for women" button on the lapel of his coat. He departed a veritable "Peri outside the gates" but with the consolation of an assured welcome within the suffrage paradise when he stops in his mad career and repents of the error of his ways.

A. E. WOODS BREAKS 15 MILE RECORD

Another important chapter was added to the history of record breaking athletics at Celtic Park, Long Island, when Alfred E. Woods of England, ran the fastest fifteen miles ever recorded either in an amateur or professional race.

The Englishman placed the record at a figure that by comparison should withstand attacks for many years. His time, 1h. 18m. 15s., was nearly two minutes faster than the old mark, established in 1902 by Charles Appleby, when the latter defeated Alfred Shrubbs at Glasgow in 1h. 20m. 25s.

FOREST BLAZES RAGE IN OREGON

PORTLAND, Ore., May 14.—Breaking out with the hot weather, several forest and brush fires today have caused heavy damage in Oregon and Washington. Though in some places the fires are still burning the flames for the most part are under control today and it is thought there is little danger of their spreading.

Fires are still burning around Eatacada, Ore., and telephone lines are down.

Flames destroyed considerable timber on the outskirts of Bay City, Ore., and also several vacant buildings.

Fire, now partially under control, swept over logged off tracts in several sections of Clatsop county, destroying some timber and several residences and barns.

FIFTEEN MINERS DIE IN MICHIGAN MINE

IRONWOOD, Mich., May 14.—Fifteen miners, entombed in the Morris iron mine near here today are believed to be dead. A gas explosion blocked the shaft with debris, and it is feared the lower workings of the mine are burning. Poisonous gases are escaping from the mine, leaving virtually no hope that any of the entombed men are still alive.

Work on all nearby properties has been suspended, and efforts at rescue are being made. Relief is extremely dangerous owing to the belief that further explosions may occur at any moment.

CROWD AT HASKINS. The opening of Haskins soda fountain attracted crowds all day Saturday. For a part of the day soft drinks were served free and nearly every soda lover in town tried the new place. The fountain is complete in every way and the advertisement it received on the opening day bespeaks continued success.

ALASKAN PICTURES AT THE MEDFORD

The Moore theater was filled for a second time last night to see Beverly B. Dobbs' Alaskan pictures shown in a frigid setting with the pictures' distinction heightened by realistic sounds.

Time after time the spectators burst forth into applause either at the beauty of the scene thrown on the screen or because of the inherent human interest in the picture. The pictures represent the efforts of ten years in the north and are masterpiece pieces of the moving picture camera. —From Seattle Post-Intelligence.

Dobbs with his wonderful pictures will be at the Medford theatre 3 nights starting Thursday, May 16. There are seven reels of real pictures shown with realistic sounds, and each picture is fully explained by Dobbs, who made them.

This collection of pictures is the result of hazardous photography in the Arctic and are the only motion pictures known which have been taken 30 and 40 degrees below zero.

RESOLUTIONS. Medford, May 8, 1912. To the Officers and Members of Rogue River Encampment No. 30, I. O. O. F.:

We, your committee appointed to draft resolutions of condolence on the death of Patriarch W. D. Holdredge, beg leave to submit the following:

Whereas, it has pleased the Father of Mercies to remove from among us Patriarch W. D. Holdredge, this encampment has lost a worthy member, the community an honest and upright citizen and which is saddest, his wife a true and loving husband and his children a kind and generous father; therefore be it

Resolved, That while we mourn the loss of Patriarch Holdredge who has passed to the great beyond where sorrow and grief are unknown, yet we cherish a fond recollection of our departed Patriarch.

Resolved, That we drape our charter for 30 days and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy be spread on the minutes of this encampment and a copy sent to the papers for publication.

Fraternally submitted, L. O. HOWARD, H. D. TURNER, M. L. MEADOWS, Committee.

Paving at Coos Bay. The Marshfield city council last evening took steps to hasten the starting of the street improvements here. Nine blocks of hard paving were ordered put in and considerable planking was also ordered. Two blocks of paving were ordered. All the work ordered has been under consideration heretofore.

The Swine or The Flower? Ah me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty, wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred, whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye;

Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of lard!" I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first One glistening mass of roses pure and white, With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed;

And, as I lingered o'er the lovely sight, The summer breeze, that cooled that Southern scene, Whispered, "Behold the source of COT-TOLENE!"
