E. D. Briggs returned from southern California, where he went to investigate the feasibility of the aerial trolley, says the Tidings. Mr. Briggs spent considerable time over the proposition and came back highly pleased with it. He states that it will undoubtedly prove a valuable addition to the present means of transportation and will mean a revolution in transportation. Regarding the proposed experimental line up the canyon, Mr. Briggs had nothing to say, that matter being too indefinite at present.

BIG FIGHTER UTAH UNDERGOES REPAIRS.

THE UTAH IN DRY DOCK.

The "hoodoo" that has been hanging over the new $10,000,000 dry dock No. 4 in the New York Navy Yard was lifted when the battle ship Utah was placed in the dock without a hitch. It was necessary to place the Utah in dry dock because of the damage done her bow plates last month by the Condor, a freighter, which was in collision with the battle ship.

MRS. PANKHURST ON TRIAL TODAY

LONDON, May 21.—Charged with a conspiracy to damage property, the outgrowth of the recent activities here of militant suffragettes, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, a leader of the suffragette movement, and Poterick Lawrence and wife, sympathizers of the cause, were placed on trial here today.

Mrs. Pankhurst was represented by Attorney Timothy Healey and Lawrence acted as counsel for both himself and wife. In an impassioned address in which he accused the police of unjust persecution, Lawrence demanded acquittal. Healey asked for Mrs. Pankhurst's dismissal on the ground that the indictment in her case was defective.

Mrs. Pankhurst, pale and on the verge of collapse, addressed the jury, defending her daughter Christobel, who is jointly indicted with her but who has not been arrested. She attributed the defeat of equal suffrage in the recent government election to a general failure to recognize the importance of woman suffrage.

SAN DIEGO CONTROVERSY MORE BITTER DAILY

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 21.—Notwithstanding the fact that the attempted invasion of the I. W. W.'s has ceased temporarily the fight here between those favoring and those opposed to the actions of the vigilantes is becoming more bitter daily.

This conflict was made even more bitter today when reports that several "gunmen" had arrived in the city were circulated on the streets. It is known that the guards about the homes of Superintendent of Police Sehon, District Attorney Utley and Chief of Police Wilson were increased last night and United States secret service men who came here in great numbers at the beginning of the trouble are said to have increased their activities.

TAFT TOO FAT TO SAVE HUCKLEBERRIES

LYLE, Wash., May 21.—Although he expressed admiration for President Taft when he returned here from a trip to Washington, where he interviewed the president in the interests of his plan to conserve the huckleberry fields near here for the use of his tribe, Skookum Wallikee, chief of the Kikchetat Indians, today is on record as favoring the election of Colonel Roosevelt.

Explaining his reason for switching from the president to Colonel Roosevelt, Chief Skookum expressed the fear that President Taft is so fat that it would be impossible for him to act with the energy necessary to conserve the huckleberry fields.

M'LELLAN-ANDERSON CONTEST TONIGHT

At the Medford Athletic club tonight boxing fans are liable to see one of the prettiest bouts seen in Oregon when the ring sends Bud Anderson and Jack McLellan on their ten-round journey.

As is usual, when two boxers meet who are both trying to reach the top, tonight's bout means everything to the winner, while the loser must start all over again. But that is one of the trials and tribulations of the squared ring game. The winner is always lauded to the skies, while the game loser is left along to think it all over, but, as in every other walk of life, to attain success one must be willing to pay the price that sad defeat spells.

Anderson has not tried to force his way to the top with a leap and bound, but believes in coming up gradually, thus securing both confidence and experience, the latter a thing which is sadly lacking among the nowadays boxer who tries to overmatch himself and become a champion overnight.

In his only two bouts here with Evans and McFarland, Bud showed his superiority and proved that he was able to cope with higher class men. In meeting Jack McLellan tonight Bud has not overmatched himself, but he will find himself pitted against a harder lad than ever before. McLellan is an old hand at the game, has went through a lot of hard battles, gaining knowledge of ring generalship, and he should be able to give Bud his first real tryout tonight.

If defeated, Bud should not be disheartened, for McLellan has stowed away many more men with an established reputation far greater than Bud's at the present writing.

The preliminaries tonight should be extraordinarily good. Australian Kelly is on with Young Maxwell and in the other Jack Brant and Joe King a pair of big heavyweights, will box four rounds.

Seats on sale at Nash hotel.
