

"MAN FROM HOME" SPLENDID SHOW

Everyone expected to see a good show last night and they were not disappointed.

The "Man From Home" is a comedy that has stood the test of repeated engagements in eastern cities, and is as strong a drawing card today as it was the first season it was produced.

The public fully appreciates a high class production in spite of the many slurs hurled at the unthinking masses. The fault lies with the cheap actor and manager. Mr. Hodge is an eccentric comedian par excellence, and his supporting cast were without an exception real artists. Harold Russell who played the part of the grand duke, is well remembered by Minnesota people here as having been leading man in the early "stock" days of Minneapolis. Manager McCallum was a bundle boy and all-around assistant at the old Pence opera house when Russell was the reigning favorite, and we are glad to note that time has but added the artistic finish to his work. Give us more entertainments like the "Man From Home" and the stage will take its proper place among the great professions.

BALL GROUNDS BEING ROLLED

For several days past, the fans have been more or less uneasy for fear that the inclement weather would interfere with the ball game Sunday, between Grants Pass and Medford, but with favorable indications this morning for a fine warm day tomorrow, their appetite for a real baseball game promises to be satisfied.

Several men are working on the ball grounds today, and Clark and Henry's big steam roller will be used this afternoon in giving the grounds a smoothness that will enable the players to pull off sensational plays.

Remember the place and time, Medford ball park, 2:45 p. m., Sunday afternoon.

RAILROAD NOTES

No 20 had to be held a few minutes this morning for one of the ladies of the "Man From Home" company who overslept. While the railroad company wants to accommodate its passengers, holding trains delays and discommodates passengers who want to reach their destination on time.

The stock corrals are now located at Crater Lake Junction and are ready for use, water having been piped to them yesterday. Their removal makes a marked improvement in the passenger depot surroundings.

For the present train No. 13 will not stop at Ray Gold on flag. Parties should figure on catching No. 31 at Ray Gold or No. 13 at Tolo, the latter being a flag stop for that train. No. 19 stopping at both places on flag as heretofore.

The Southern Pacific company will run steam service tomorrow for the Woodmen of the World and Women of the Woodcraft excursion to Ashland, extra equipment will be provided.

The Arnold Amusement company arrives tomorrow afternoon from the north.

John M. Scott, general passenger agent of the Southern Pacific arrived in Medford between trains yesterday.

Married

Mrs. Cecelia Lesmeister, of Central Point, and Hugh Price, of Weed, Cal., were quietly married in Central Point Monday at the home of Rev. J. Austin Crane, who performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Lesmeister is the proprietor of the Lesmeister studio in Central Point and formerly conducted a studio in Medford. Mr. Price resides at Weed, where he holds a good position with the Weed Lumber Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Price will reside at Weed after about June 1st.

OREGON'S GOOD ROAD PROBLEMS

of bonds shall go into the general road fund of the county. The two per cent limit is made in section 2 to include a county's outstanding indebtedness.

The general road fund, as provided in section 6320 of the code shall be used for the repair and construction of roads and bridges. However, the proposed constitutional amendment which justifies the act provides that the county can only issue bonds for permanent roads. If the funds are to go into a general road fund the bonds would be illegal, as the act would be unconstitutional because it would increase the county's indebtedness over the constitutional limit. The limit has only been increased for permanent roads. This money should go into a permanent road fund to be used only on the building of permanent roads in the county. Otherwise no bond buyer would take the bonds.

No Limit Wanted.

The most serious defect is that limiting the indebtedness to two per cent, and including in this limit the outstanding indebtedness already incurred in general road work. Every county in Oregon has such an outstanding indebtedness, which though technically illegal, will never be repudiated. Two per cent means such a small sum that few counties can build sufficient roads with it to secure an endorsement at the polls. There is no call to place a limit upon road indebtedness. The people will not vote too large an indebtedness, and if they do, the bond buyers will not take the bonds.

Following a period of rapid expansion, road construction and bridge building, Jackson county finds itself with an indebtedness exceeding $400,000 in outstanding warrants. The assessed valuation of the county is $38,000,000. Two per cent would give $760,000. Refunding the warrants with the proceeds of bonds would leave $350,000 or less for permanent roads, not enough for a showing. The people, by an overwhelming majority, voted $1,500,000 bonds, which the supreme court outlawed. Even this sum was judged insufficient.

The other bills provide for the employment of state, county and city convicts upon public roads. They are good measures, though a city or county prisoner is not necessarily a convict and should not be made to bear the stigma.

Grange Bills.

The state Grange submits two bills by initiative. The first creates a state highway department, providing a state highway engineer, appointed by the governor, salary $2600 a year and appropriates $12,000 a year for his expense, as does the association bill. He will have general supervision of the roads of the state and is at the service of any county.

The second is an enabling act carrying into effect the constitutional amendment providing for county road bonds. It provides for the election of delegates in each road supervisor's district to attend a county convention which will decide what roads are to be constructed and the amount of money to be expended, and the materials to be used. Bonds are limited to 5 per cent of the assessed valuation. The procedure provided is very unwise, and cumbersome and of doubtful value, and illustrates how involved it is possible to make a simple proposition. As a breeder of discord and factional strife, the convention scheme cannot be excelled. Every delegate will want the expenditures in his own district, and when the majority forces through a program, the minority will assist in defeating the bond issue at the election.

Bill Muddles Situation.

Outside the unconstitutionality of three of the association bills there is no serious objection except to the county bonding bill and amendment, but this bill alone muddles the entire situation and will blight good road work in many of our counties. A home rule bill is all that is needed and it is not right or fair to attempt to restrict the progressive counties to the limit of the unprogressive.

A county home rule amendment has been drafted by the Medford Commercial club for submission to the people. It is very brief and simple, permits counties to issue bonds for permanent roads, authorizes county courts to call elections and is made effective without an enabling act or interpretation by any court. If adopted, it will solve the good roads problem, as far as county roads are concerned.

The state must build roads as well as the counties, and there should be no impediments placed in the way of either state or county. It is necessary if the state is to develop as it should, economically, industrially and socially. Oregon must learn to build roads, learn how to use them, learn how to maintain them. Then the people may grow as fond of build-

COLVIG WINS ANOTHER GAME

Judge Colvig, boosterino, By the nine gods he swore, That he, (himself) and Spencer Brooks, Should bear defeat no more. By the nine gods he swore it And called the right side pocket Then chalked his cue, Just missed the "two" And the ball rolled in the pocket. —Lyrics of a "31" fiend.

Judge Wm. Colvig and Spencer Brooks won another lap in the "31" tournament at the University club Friday afternoon, defeating T. Slates, Johnson and R. W. Ruhl. Brooks played a good game—even the judge admits it—but the judge was there all the time.

Oregon is suffering from a maximum of remedies and a minimum of roads. Too many road doctors are likely to kill the patient.

BURGLAR WELL KNOWN THIS CITY

Constable Singler is in Portland where he will take into custody Fred Shafer, wanted for burglarizing the England jewelry store at Central Point.

Mr. Singler advised the Mail Tribune today that Shafer is an old offender, an ex-convict of Colorado. He has quite a lot of jewelry left. He has been in the Medford city jail several times and is well known by the police of Medford.

Singler will arrive Sunday with the man.

ROGUE BERRIES WITHOUT PEER

That the Rogue River valley can and does produce strawberries without a peer, is shown by the size and lusciousness of the fruit brought to Medford Saturday by J. S. Norwood who lives near Central Point. The berries are of unusual size and are delicious. Mr. Norwood is much interested in the new public market in this city.

One of the berries Mr. Norwood brought in was 2 1/2 inches broad and 1 1/4 thick. It was a splendid specimen.

The berries were grown on irrigated "desert" land. The Roguelands company also has a splendid display of berries grown on this land in their windows.

S.S.S. PURIFIES BAD BLOOD

Bad blood is responsible for most of our ailments, and when from any cause it becomes infected with impurities, humors or poisons, trouble in some form is sure to follow. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, pimples, etc., show that the blood is infected with unhealthy humors which have changed it from a pure, fresh stream to a sour, acrid fluid, which forces out its impurities through the pores and glands of the skin. A very common evidence of bad blood is sores and ulcers, which break out on the flesh, often from a very insignificant bruise, or even scratch or abrasion. If the blood was healthy the place would heal at once; but being infected with impurities which are discharged into the wound, irritation and inflammation are set up, the fibres and tissues are broken, and the sore continues until the blood is purified of the cause. S. S. S. is Nature's blood-purifier and tonic, made entirely from roots, herbs and barks. It goes down into the circulation and removes every particle of impurity, humor or poison, restores lost vitality, and steadily tones up the entire system. S. S. S. neutralizes any excess of acid in the blood, making it pure, fresh and healthy, and permanently cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Boils, and all other skin eruptions or disease.
