

CEOL THOUGHT NEIGHBORS TOOK WATER'S STRENGTH

Frank Ceol, Italian farmer who assaulted and almost killed W. C. Daley of Lake Creek, pioneer and democratic candidate for county commissioner, was held over to the grand jury in $3,000 bond Saturday afternoon.

Evidence before Justice Taylor showed the attack upon the aged man to have been peculiarly malignant and unprovoked. Mr. Daley was patrolling a water ditch through the Ceol farm for the specific purpose to see that no damage was being done by the water to the Italian's land.

One beating was not enough to satisfy the rage of Ceol, and as Daley was making off with his face bleeding, the angered man again overtook him, this time thrusting a handkerchief in Daley's mouth so that cries for aid could not be heard by a neighbor.

Half crawling and half walking Daley reached the Chapman house and told his story. Mr. Chapman washed off the wounds, and immediately sent for a physician, as he recognized that the skull had been fractured and the flesh cut from the muscles.

Feeling is very high against the Ceols in the Eagle Point district, as everyone knows and respects Mr. Daley as a man who would never wrong anyone. He is a candidate for commissioner and a proof of his popularity is that when he was candidate before he received every vote in his district except one, his own.

Those who have talked to the Italian say that ignorance and jealousy caused the crime. The man has done water run through his farm and do wonders for the Daley and Chapman places and has not been able himself to raise crops anywhere near as promising, although he has rights to the water.

In Germany the right to strike is withheld from employees of municipal, gas and water supplies and railroads.

FIRST TOURISTS REACH CRATER; SNOW IS DEEP

The first party of tourists this season to reach Crater Lake returned to Klamath Falls Saturday after four hard days. In the party were two women, probably the first of their sex to visit the lake this early in the season.

Mrs. Trower and Mrs. Neighbor displayed remarkable pluck during the strenuous trip, and enjoyed every moment of the outing, said Mr. Neighbor in conclusion. "Still this is a trip that I would not advise other women to make so early in the season, especially those who are not used to continuous riding."

Colors and Light. White has the greatest property of reflecting light of any color and black the least. White reflects the color it immediately sends it away again in the form of reflected light. Black absorbs light. Lay a white and a black piece of cloth on the snow and that under the white cloth will remain as it is, while under the black one it will melt.

Terrible Temptation. "Of course," said the man who was looking out of the window at the heavy rain, "I don't believe George Washington was capable of telling a lie. But I don't consider that cherry tree incident much of a test."

"Could you devise a better one?" "Yes. I'd like to know what Washington would have said if he had stood at the door of a restaurant on a stormy night and the waiter had hurried up to him with a fine new silk umbrella with an ivory handle and no name on it and said, 'Isn't this yours, sir?'"

Home Melodrama. "The cards are marked!" said the man. "The cards are marked!" he repeated. "The cards are marked!" he repeated.

MRS. PARSONS FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Date of election, June 17. Who may vote: Any man or woman who paid taxes in Medford for 1911. Any Medford man or woman owning stock in any incorporation which paid taxes here in 1911.

It took a mass meeting of Medford women just two minutes Saturday afternoon to nominate Mrs. Mabel H. Parsons as candidate for school director. There was not a dissenting vote and nothing but hearty applause disturbed the serenity of the gathering.

The meeting was called to order by John M. Root, who announced that nominations for a candidate for a position on the school board would be in order. Clarence Reames, before naming Mrs. Parsons, took occasion to explain the qualifications of voters in the school election.

In presenting Mrs. Parsons name it was made plain the women were not legally nominating a candidate, but were simply suggesting a woman they thought was best qualified for the place.

Dr. E. B. Pickle complimented Mrs. Parsons and the Greater Medford club on their work in inspecting the dutiful work of this club in reporting unsanitary conditions in the schools and "you have all read of the beautiful way the school board forced the teachers to sign a denial," he declared amid laughter and applause.

Following the vote Mrs. Parsons was presented with a huge bunch of roses, after which she spoke briefly, outlining her platform, which she hopes to carry out if elected.

Upon the acceptance of her nomination at the hands of Mr. Reames, Mrs. Parsons gave her platform as follows:

First: That I believe any public official owes his first and only duty to the constituency which he represents.

Second: That he owes whatever he may possess of special equipment for that office to the best interests of the community which he represents, and that, withal, dispassionately and without prejudice.

Third: I believe that honesty of purpose and a differing viewpoint need not signify destructive methods. I believe in the constructive operation of ideas presented, rather than the destructive, and in the due recognition of all real service performed by previous or present incumbents.

Fourth: I believe in the full recognition of efficiency, wherever and in whatever form manifested, and that real efficiency should be the only measure of public usefulness.

Fifth: I believe that every advantage gained at the hands of society should be rendered back to society in terms of public service.

WARRANT BUYING NOW SUSPENDED

Local men who have been in the habit of buying county warrants as an investment, have suspended, pending a decision, purchase of warrants as the direct result of the suit filed by Benton Bowers and S. A. Carlton of Ashland, to enjoin the erection of the proposed bridge over Bear creek in this city.

J. S. Howard of this city, who has dealt in county warrants for a number of years, stated today that he would buy no more warrants for the present at least. "I have $6,000 worth of warrants now," stated Mr. Howard, "and I was approached and asked to take over an additional block of them today but I refused. The risk is too great since suit was filed to enjoin the county from building the bridge over Bear creek. This suit questions the validity of the warrants issued already and no one can tell where it will end."

Attention B. P. O. Elks. All Elks who are going to Portland to attend the convention will meet at the Natatorium tonight at 8 o'clock for drill practice. This is important and necessary.

A. W. DEAN. Clever Ball Player with but One Arm

FRANK MURPHY,

The handicap of a missing left arm, which was amputated after a street accident when he was three years old, has not prevented Frank Murphy, of New York city, from becoming one of the best amateur ball players on Washington Heights. Murphy is a pitcher and a left fielder of the Church of the Incarnation nine. He leads the team in batting and base running.

Baseball and his studies now interest Frank Murphy more than anything else. That the truck which crushed his arm fifteen years ago prevented him from becoming a second "Ty" Cobb is the belief of his teammates and their followers.
