

ANDERSON-LABEL BOUT POSTPONED

Abe Label, San Francisco's best lightweight boxer, arrived last night from the Bay city to commence training for his ten round bout before the Medford Athletic club, Monday, June 24th.

The bout was originally set for Wednesday, June 19th, but on the arrival of Label last night, the change of dates to June 24th was insisted upon by Label as he claimed he could not do himself justice in so short a time so as to be in the proper condition for a rugged young fellow like Bud Anderson.

Label said, "While I am indeed sorry to be the cause of the postponement to the 24th of the month, I never the less feel that the public would much rather see the date short notice. I have heard quite a good deal about this Anderson lad, and I surely do not feel that I should take a chance with him unless given the proper amount of time to get into good shape, as to suffer defeat by him would be a severe set-back for me."

Abe Label is without doubt the luckiest looking boxer to invade Medford and to those who follow the boxing game, he needs no mention. During his career in the ring he has met the best of them. He has to his credit a draw with Willie Ritchie, who only recently gave champion Ad Wolgast a severe drubbing. Label has also met "One Round Hogan," Jack, and has always made a creditable showing.

DARROW TO TAKE STAND HIMSELF

HALL OF RECORDS, LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 13.—That Clarence S. Darrow will testify in his own behalf was announced by his chief counsel, Earl Rogers, in open court during the Darrow case on a charge of jury bribery this afternoon.

"We will produce Mr. Darrow to show that he read the transcript of evidence presented by Detective Samuel Browne to the grand jury which shortly afterward indicted J. J. McNamara, J. B. McNamara, David Caplan and M. A. Schmidt, and that it was he who, realizing this evidence to be insurmountable, persuaded the McNamaras to plead guilty," declared Rogers.

"We will stipulate that what Mr. Rogers says in regard to Browne are facts," said District Attorney Frelicks.

VILLAGE NEAR ALASKA VOLCANO BELIEVED RUINED

CORDOVA, Alaska, June 13.—Wireless messages received today from the revenue cutter Manning in Kodiak harbor and from the Alaska Packers association fishing station at Karluk, Chignik and Naknekvis say there had been no report of loss of life on the island.

No word has been received of the settlement on the main land at the foot of the Katmai volcano where the greatest suffering must exist, if any of the people of that section survived the eruption. The Manning reports no more eruptions and said that the air is slowly clearing of dust and ashes, the returning light revealing in a greater degree the real horrors and devastation wrought by the outburst of the fiery mountain.

Refugees who sought safety aboard the Manning are regarding their confidence and returning to the island in an endeavor to reach their former homes which lay in ashes. People on the island have found it difficult to make their way about, the ash in some places being 20 to 30 feet deep.

The problem of feeding the destitute people is a serious one. Efforts are being made to reach the government experimental farm near Kodiak which was stocked with a large herd of imported cattle and sheep which if found in fit condition, are to be used as food. The only water the people of Kodiak are using is that distilled from sea water by the Manning, all other supplies being polluted.

While no loss of life occurred at Karluk, Chignik or Naknek great damage was done by ashes and because the water is polluted it is believed the salmon canning season will be a complete failure. The Manning is still feeding the destitute at Kodiak. The small relief boats sent to Afognak Island just north of Kodiak and to Cold Bay, Katmai and settlements on the mainland have not returned.

BERKELEY, Cal., June 13.—Dr. L. E. Milligan, principal of the Colorado Deaf, Dumb and Blind State school was today appointed to the principalship of a similar institution here. He will come to Berkeley September 1.

TO FIGHT FROST BY GAS HEATERS

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., June 13.—C. M. Grow, a citrus grower, announced today the perfection of a frost dispelling apparatus for orange and lemon groves which he believes will save annually in California fruit worth $1,000,000. The invention was given a final test last evening. It consists of a system of under-ground gas mains connecting with mushroom burners beneath each tree. The temperature of the grove was raised 30 degrees and maintained equitably throughout the night.

LONG HOSPITAL ORDEAL ENDS IN SUIT VICTORY

PORTLAND, June 13.—After having lain in the hospital two years while trying to collect damages from his employers for the injury that resulted in the breaking of his back, William G. Spearing, a logger, 24, recovered $7500 a day or two ago. Since hearing the court's decision, Spearing was supremely happy and had done little but discuss with his nurse plans for going back to his home in London, England, and buying a home for his parents.

Canadian Minister Quits

OTTAWA, Ont., June 13.—Colonel Sam Hughes, minister of militia and defense, has received a request from the Bunker Hill Monument association, that the old gun captured at Bunker Hill in 1776 by the English and now resting on the citadel at Quebec, be returned.

LARGE ACREAGE IS PLANTED FOR TRIAL

S. A. Nye and W. H. Campbell are conducting an "experiment" station on their place near Talent which will be watched with interest by every farmer and truck gardener in the valley. They have planted 45 acres to tomatoes, cabbages, sweet corn, sweet potatoes, celery and potatoes, in order to see just what can be done in the way of getting a revenue from "between the trees" while young orchards are coming into bearing. They will irrigate the large acreage and look for substantial returns.

A deal will be made with the cannery at Ashland for the disposal of the produce. They plan to give the experiment every attention in order to gain first hand information.

TELL HOW MORGAN SAVED THE COUNTRY

NEW YORK, June 13.—The inside history of how J. P. Morgan and a group of bankers came to the rescue of the stock exchange on October 24, 1907, the worst day of the financial panic prevailing at that time, and dumped $25,000,000 into the exchange, was revealed here today by E. R. Thomas, who was president of the stock exchange in 1907, in testifying before the Pujo congressional committee which is investigating the so-called money trust. Thomas said: "Shortly before noon October 21, I went on the floor of the stock exchange. Consternation reigned. Brokers were offering 60 per cent for call money. I hurried over to see President Stillman of the National City bank. I told him I needed $25,000,000 and needed it immediately. He said he could not let me have it, but suggested that I see Mr. Morgan. When I got to Morgan's office there was great excitement. I had to wait twenty minutes before I could see him. Finally he said: 'We are going to lend you the $25,000,000.'"

"At my suggestion it was divided up into lots and distributed among the New York banks."

Street Fight Ends Fatally

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Charged with the death of Theodore Belstead of Alameda whose neck was broken when he was knocked to the sidewalk in a street fight over a pet dog, Guido Bacigalupi and George Kaakaa are under arrest here today. They admit fighting with Belstead, but claim they struck him in self-defense.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 13.—

Despite the piteous rain, Portland's Rose Festival continues at its height today. Today's program was an extensive one. In the morning there were band concerts throughout the city and at noon prizes were awarded in the rose show. This afternoon the rose show is formally open to the public and a parade of five hundred decorated automobiles is being held through the business and residence sections of the city.

In the evening the allegorical electrical parade symbolizing "the carnival of nations," with Rex Oregonus, King of the Festival at the head, will be held.
