The person who will steal vegetables from a garden when nature has been so lavish in her bounty as she has this season is surely one unworthy any name better than a beast. J. H. Boussum who lives out on South Central avenue, has a splendid garden and he takes great pride in it and the wonderful product it puts forth each season. A few nights ago two women walked into the aforesaid garden and deliberately pulled up and took away with them two armfuls of his best young onions. They were caught in the act but fled before their identity could be gotten.

nely.

In a factional fight between Taft delegates in the first South Carolina District, the committee seated Delegates Grant and Preleau.

The committee seated the Taft delegates in the Ninth District of Tennessee with a viva voce vote. The Roosevelt supporters claimed that the Taft men had bolted the regular district convention and held a separate meeting. When the result of this vote was announced, E. J. Heney leaped to his feet, shouting: "This is a plain steal!" Jeers and hoots from the Taft supporters followed Heney's remark, and Chubb shouted:

"Toll Us About Reef."

"Tell us about Abe Reef again!" "Reef would have been ashamed to pull off a steal like you have just done," was Heney's answer.

"Don't you like it," challenged Committeeman Scott of West Virginia.

"No, I don't," snapped Heney.

"You are trying to put over the entire country the rotten game you play in West Virginia."

Amid a chorus of boos and jeers from the Taft supporters Chairman Resowater pounded with his gavel vigorously for no minutes before he succeeded in restoring order.

The committee then seated the contested Taft delegates from the Second District in Tennessee.

ART LOAN EXHIBIT PROMISES SUCCESS

The first art loan exhibit to be given June 19th to 28th by the St. Mark's church promises to be much more successful than had been anticipated. Rare works of art, Oriental rugs, draperies and curios have been loaned by various Jackson county people, some of whom have recently returned from abroad. The ladies will serve tea each afternoon and will give the exhibit a social significance apart from the artistic one. The exhibit will be open from 2 to 5 and from 7:30 to 10 o'clock each afternoon. The patronesses are: Mrs. Frederick Hopkins, Mrs. Sheerin, Mrs. J. D. Heard, Mrs. J. M. Root, Mrs. William Humphries, Mrs. George Carpenter, Miss Margaret Hubbard, Mrs. E. S. Parsons, Mrs. Glenn Fabrick.

When Roosevelt arrived at the Outlook office today he wore a new buckskin sombrero with a wide brim. He will wear it in Chicago.

Too Much Division.

Roosevelt for several days had been importuned to hurry to Chicago, his closest friends advising that his candidacy was being hurt by friction which prevailed among certain officers and leaders. Too many differing plans, they pointed out, were being advanced, and it was said that his hand only could straighten out affairs.

He would lose. Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the president, this afternoon publicly claimed that Taft would have 33 of the 52 members of the committee on credentials. He maintained that Senator Elihu Root would reach Chicago this afternoon bearing a rough draft of the platform which Taft favors. Hilles called Roosevelt's program a "red, white and blue ruin."
