

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

An early morning blaze Wednesday brought more hard luck on W. E. Noonchester who lost a yucca containing $1642 a few months ago in this city. Fire broke out at his dwelling on North Central while the family was absent from the city. Evidently the fire had smoldered for some hours before starting. The house was badly damaged while the contents were soaked with water and ruined for the most part. The loss is about $1000.

The fireboys have a new mascot. The little fellow is a full grown southern Oregon coon and is warranted to bring long life and a dirch of work to the boys who guard the city against destruction by fire. He was presented to the fireboys by Ed Pottenger. Just to show his friendship he has consumed about two pounds of human flesh to date, gathering it from the fingers of the members of the fire department. The boys are beginning to have a wholesome respect for their new pet.

DEMONSTRATION FOR ROOSEVELT IN CONVENTION HALL

CHICAGO, June 20.—Just after the adjournment of the convention this evening a Roosevelt demonstration began. "We want Teddy," was the cry from hundreds of throats.

An American flag was hoisted in the center of the hall. Around the flag the delegates "milled." A roar of cheers went up also from the galleries.

Delegates stood on their chairs. Hats were thrown around wildly, while the band ineffectually tried to drown the tumult.

The Pennsylvania delegates hoisted a picture of the colonel and the cheering increased. Wisconsin delegates gave the Badger state yell. The demonstration was confined principally to the Roosevelt delegates and the Taft delegates stood idly by passively awaiting developments.

The lights were put out by the sergeant-at-arms. In the gloom the crowds continued their pandemonium. The crowds in the balcony remained to watch developments. Many Taft delegates left the hall, however.

Seven minutes after the beginning of the flurry, the lights were again flashed onto a new outburst of cheers. At times the cheers almost died away, only to be resumed by frenzied "yell leaders."

Chairman Root and other officers, remained on the stage calmly watching the demonstration. Root considered plans to clear the hall, consulting with his colleagues and members of the national committee.

"We want Teddy," was the cry which greeted Root's messenger, when the latter stepped toward them with a megaphone.

Whistles and catcalls greeted the messengers. Outside rain dashed through the windows on the roof, but the rain did not dampen the ardor of those leading the cheering.

PLATFORM HAS TO BE REMADE ACCOUNT BOLT

CHICAGO, June 20.—Launching of Colonel Roosevelt's hall today tied up the republican convention platform framers. The resolutions sub-committee recessed after two hours of unsatisfactory progress to meet again on call of Chairman Charles W. Fairbanks.

Of the nine members of the sub-platform committee only the six Taft representatives were present. The Rooseveltites refused to enter into the discussion, although Governor Hadley was present for a few minutes just before adjournment.

It was conceded that the platform planned by the Taft supporters will have to undergo radical changes if the near Roosevelt party is actually put through according to schedule. It was to wait on the day's developments, that the committee decided to defer action.

In accordance with the plans perfected by the Taft leaders a fortnight ago, the convention committee on permanent organization today voted to recommend that the temporary organization be made permanent. This will continue Senator Root as permanent chairman and obviate the necessity of a test vote on a new man while at the same time saving by doing away with a permanent chairman's speech.

HOUSE BURNS WEST MEDFORD

The fireboys got their fourth call this month at an early hour today when a house owned by W. M. Brooks on the outskirts of town near the tracks of the Rogue River Valley railroad company was destroyed. The origin of the fire is a mystery as the house was vacant and had been for three months past. Either a tramp slept in the house and started the fire or it was done deliberately.

The house is outside the city limits beyond the last firetrap. However the boys attacked the flames with the chemical and while they could not save the house another nearby was saved after a hard fight. The run was made in the face of a hard rain but in exceptionally fast time.

UNUSAL STORM INSURES RECORD POTATO YIELD

An unusual storm, predicted for the Sacramento valley, slid north over the mountains on account of the high pressure above not being sufficient to check it, and spilled nearly an inch of rain over the Rogue River valley early Thursday morning. At 8 o'clock the rainfall totalled .99, the record rainfall for a June day, over a half inch of it falling in 20 minutes about 5 o'clock. More rain is predicted for Thursday.

The storm did some damage to hay, but is of incalculable benefit to other crops, insuring a great fruit crop for next year, and making the potato crop of this year the greatest on record. It is a practical demonstration of the value of irrigation.

The total rainfall for June is now 1-3 inches, against the normal of .98. The total for the season is now 21.14 against an average of 26.62.

OHIO DELEGATES READY TO DESERT TEDDY FOR HADLEY

CHICAGO, June 20.—Ohio Roosevelt delegates are ready to go over to Governor Hadley. They say they will not follow Colonel Roosevelt into his expected bolt with the regular convention unless certain that Taft's organization remains unshaken.

"We will not stand for President Columbus but we are not so bound up in Colonel Roosevelt's candidacy that our votes will not go to another good progressive if he can be nominated. We do not want to halt the regular convention, however, if we can help it.

"Should there be a break with the conservative delegates, we will take the position in Ohio that our nominee is his regular republican candidate for president, and there is no likelihood that there will be any split in the Ohio state delegation."

WARRANT OUT FOR BREON

A warrant has been issued for Charles Breon on a charge of grand larceny and a net spread north and south to prevent his escape. The charge of grand larceny was filed against him by Constable Singler following Breon taking an automobile placed under attachment and fleeing the country. He was accompanied by a "medium" known as Effie, said to be his wife who appeared recently in a local playhouse.

Breon and Effie drifted into town a few days ago in a large roadster on the windshield of which appeared the words "Effie Touring the World." She secured an engagement at a local playhouse and appeared as a "medium" for a few nights.

In the meantime William Smith, a cigar dealer of this city recognized the couple as one to whom he had loaned money several years ago and had never received it. So he placed an attachment on the car. Constable Singler attached the car and placed it in the Bear Creek garage.

Illinois Not to Bolt Governor Deneen of Illinois said to Jim Watson, Taft's floor manager: "Illinois will not bolt the convention. Our delegates have decided to stick to Roosevelt except on a bolt. We will not bolt so long as a majority of the uncontested delegates remain in the convention hall."

Police Clear all As the crowd failed to move rapidly out into the rain, police ordered everyone off the stage. Police officials remonstrated with the convention officers against forcing the crowd outdoors to get soaked, but the orders for immediate clearance of the building were not recalled.
