The Lake of the Dismal Swamp (By Thomas Moore.)

LOSING AN OPPORTUNITY

THOMAS Nast knew what he was about when he first caricatured the Democratic party as a donkey. In the face of the greatest opportunity it has ever had, the party continues to blunder in stupid, assinine fashion, and the emblem continues most appropriate.

Any progressive democrat could defeat President Taft this year, yet the same forces that forced the nomination of Taft over the protest of the rank and file of the republican party, are endeavoring to force the nomination of a re actionary democrat and so toss away the great chance. The preliminary move is the effort to make Judge Parker chairman of the convention and thus give the reactionaries control of the organization. No one could have been named more distasteful to the rank and file of the party in the west.

Bryan's bugle call to rally the progressives against the selection of Parker has met with slim response from the democratic candidates. As the time servers and pie-counter politicians deserted the progressive cause in the Chicago convention, so are they rallying about the Tammany chiefs of reactionary politics at Baltimore.

Whether supported or not, however, Bryan will keep the faith and make the fight, single-handed if necessary. Defeat has no terrors for him and he does not compromise Metropolis of Southern Oregon and Northern California, and the fastest-growing city in Oregon. Population—U. 8. census 1910—8840; estimated, 1911—10,000. Five hundred thousand dollar Gravity Water System completed, giving finest supply pure mountain water, and 17.3 miles of streets paved. Postoffice receipts for year ending November 30, 1911, show increase of 19 per cent. -therefore he is a poor politician. But he has the confidence and esteems of the rank and file of the democratic party, as Roosevelt has of the republican party.

All that is necessary to insure the success of the third party movement is the nomination of a conservative or a

PASSING OF THE CONVENTION SYSTEM

THE Chicago convention has witnessed the sacrifice of Roosevelt for the petty personal ambitions of his followers

When the psychological moment for a bolt arose, when it had been demonstrated that the will of the voters of the party was to be ruthlessly trampled under foot by the corruptly manned "steam-roller," the Roosevelt leaders threw him over and refused to follow him.

Governor Hadley of Missouri, thought he stood a chance of being nominee and would not walk out. Senator Borah and others with senatorial elections facing them, Governor Deneen and other governors considered their own jobs, as did the host of postmasters needing reappointment. Of all the leaders of the Roosevelt forces, only Johnson of California and Flinn of Pennsylvania were Sarah T. Wolverton to Catheready to follow their chief.

The republican convention is offering the people an object lesson as to the part their wishes play in nominations, and how little voice the people have in the selection of a candidate.

Taft has been repudiated in every state where the people were given a chance to express their decision, yet Taft is to be forced upon them in spite of protest. The people never have had any voice in the selection of candidates, but they are just beginning to find it out.

This year's conventions probably mark the passing of the convention system in the nation, as it passed in Oregon Asbury Beall to Lee Beall land and other states some years ago.

Repudiation of the expressed wishes of the people Wm. H. Searle to Rex H Lamp-"They made her a grave, too cold and by the convention can have but one result-the repudiation of the convention by the people. Direct primary nominations will before long supplant the party conventions in the nation as direct election of presidents will supplant the electoral college-both advocated by Andrew Jackson almost a century ago.

SAYS J. P. MORGAN LENT $25,000,000 AND THUS ENDED PANIC IN NEW YORK

When the members of the New York Stock Exchange were -ffering 100 per cent for call loans and no money was forthcoming from the banks on October 24, 1907, it was J. Pierpont Morgan who stepped in and saved the day, so Ransom H. Thomas, president of the Exchange in 1907 and 1908, told the Banking as and Currency Committee of the House of Representatives, which is now dely ing into the "Money Trust" in New York, So potent was Mr. Morgan's assistance, which was in the tangible form of $25,000,000 currency, Mr. Thomas said, that before the day ended Stock Exchange members were borrowing all the call money they wanted at three per James B. Mabon, the new president of the Stock Exchange in New York, was also a witness before the committee.

"O! when shall I see the dusky lake And the white canoe of my dear?'

He saw the lake, and a meteor bright Quick over its surface played-"Welcome," he said, "my dear one" light!" And the dim shore echoed for many a night,

The name of the death-cold maid

Till he hollowed a boat of the birchen bark,

Which carried him off from shore Far, far he followed the meteor spark.

The wind was high and the clouds were dark,

And the boat returned no more.

But oft, from the Indian hunter's camp, This lover and maid so true Are seen, at the hour of the midnight damp,

To cross the lake by a firefly lamp. And paddle their own canoe.
