

BRYAN IS JUBILANT OVER VICTORY

Bryan's Resolution
 "As proof of our fidelity to the people, we hereby declare ourselves opposed to the nomination of any candidate for president who is representative of or under any obligations to J. Pierpont Morgan, Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont or any other members of the privilege-hunting and favor-seeking class."

BALTIMORE, June 28.—Still smiling over his victory of last night, Colonel W. J. Bryan predicted today that the adoption of his "money trust" resolution means "establishment of a distinct line of demarcation with interests on one side and the people on the other."

"After the convention voted last night to pass the resolution which I offered regarding the privilege-hunting class" he continued, "any delegate who nominates a man aligned with either Belmont, Ryan, Morgan or any of their group, will not dare to go home and face their constituents if they live west of the Allegheny mountains.

"The effect of this resolution can hardly be estimated now. Wait for a week until it has had time to settle in the minds of the people and to be mentally digested as to its innermost meaning. It will then be found to have made a distinct alignment.

"Delegates must go on one side or the other. There can be no compromise. There can be no half-way maneuvering. I believe that the resolution will show the people where their representatives stand and place the responsibility where it belongs. I have gone on record against the reactionaries and the convention has placed this on record. Now let the constituency see for itself."

DOUBLE-HEADER FOR SUNDAY BASEBALL

Baseball, and then some, will be the offering at the local ball grounds next Sunday when the locals will undertake a very difficult task of defeating both Grants Pass and Talent in the same afternoon.

There is quite a bit of speculation among the fans as to whether the Medfords will get by Grants Pass in the opening game unscathed. They figure that in all of the three games played here between these two teams this season the visitors were on the verge of winning when that element of baseball, known as "Luck," favored the locals. One prominent fan was heard to remark:

"If Grants Pass ever gets an even break on the luck of the game, they are going to stop the winning streak of this Medford team."

The Talent nine played a 3-4 game with Ashland three weeks ago and defeated the Central Point club last Sunday, the same team that played Medford a 4-6 game not long ago. On this record Talent looks as strong as any of the teams in the valley. The usual admission will cover both contests. First game with Grants Pass starts at 2:30 p. m.

SUSPECTED BANK LOOTER CAUGHT IN MICHIGAN

DETROIT, Mich., June 28.—That they have in custody one of the men who helped loot the branch Bank of Montreal at New Westminster, B. C., last September is the belief of the local police, following the receipt of a telegram from the Westminster authorities today. The message ordered the local police to hold Martin Powell, alias Charles Butcher, who was arrested a few days ago with $4,000 in Canadian currency on him, which he had been endeavoring to change into American money. The Canadian money had been identified, the police say, as a part of the stolen money and Powell's picture has been recognized by the Canadian authorities. A warrant has been sent for his arrest.

THIRD PARTY AWAITS DEMOCRATIC ACTION

CHICAGO, June 28.—Action taken by the democratic convention at Baltimore today will determine in a large measure the action Illinois progressives will take at their initial meeting at the Congress Hotel next Wednesday. If Bryan, Wilson, Kern or some other progressive is the democratic nominee for president the republican progressives will not ask democratic progressives to join with them on Wednesday in issuing a call for a state convention.

It is taken for granted that a progressive democratic presidential candidate will keep all the democrats inside their own party.

CALIFORNIANS WHO FAVORED RYAN

BALTIMORE, Md., June 28.—Only nine of the eleven California delegates who voted against the Bryan resolution repudiating Wall Street domination of the democratic party, would admit their votes today. They were James V. Coleman, Harry T. Creswell and B. F. Fly (proxy) San Francisco; Thos. Fox, Sacramento; Hubert R. McLohe, Stockton; Robert M. Fitzgerald, Oakland; Frank C. rek, Alameda; George W. Mordecai, Madera, and W. H. Hubbard, Pasadena.

Several members of the delegation said John W. Barneburg of San Luis Obispo and William H. Rogers of San Jose voted against that resolution, but both insisted they voted for it. Chairman Theodore A. Bell who announced the poll, refused to throw any light on it, saying he had destroyed the ballot and couldn't remember the vote of any member except his own, which he said was for the resolution.

ADMITTS IGNORANCE OLLSON'S BELIEFS

SEATTLE, June 28.—Close questioning of John Sved Smith, chief naturalization examiner for the north western district by the Hanford congressional investigation commissioners this morning developed the fact, that although Smith instigated the proceedings against Leonard Olsson to revoke his citizenship because of his "peculiar" political ideas, Smith himself does not know even today what those beliefs are.

"What did you understand Olsson proposed in the change of government that he advocated?" asked Chairman Graham.

"Did you understand he wanted to change private control of property into public control, or the entire abolition, or what?"

"I don't know what he did mean," Smith replied.

BILKS WOMAN TO STEAL GIRL

ROSEBURG, Ore., June 28.—Impersonating George Gray, a brother of Frank Gray, recently arrested at Oregon City on a charge of obtaining $550 fraudulently from Mrs. Carrie Settle of Oakland, Oregon, an unknown man succeeded, officers say, in bilking Mrs. Settle of $5 and persuading Ethel Metcalf, Frank Gray's eighteen year old sweetheart, in leaving Oakland with him on a southbound train. Officers, who are working on a theory that the stranger is a white slaver, communicated with the California authorities and his arrest is expected before night.

Mrs. Settle loaned the money to the supposed brother as a temporary convenience, to be repaid as soon as the stranger received several thousand dollars he was expecting from the east. He promised to repay the whole sum Frank Gray is alleged to have defrauded Mrs. Settle out of.

the challenge to a duel is said to have passed.

During a recess in the proceedings late yesterday Rogers is alleged to have confronted Burns, charging the detective with calling a vile name. Court officers interfered and Rogers returned to the court room where he demanded that the jury be excused. Addressing Judge Hutton he declared that Burns and Biddinger had applied vile epithets to him.

"I approached them in the corridor," declared Rogers, "and although Burns carried a sword cane and Biddinger two .44 guns, I charged Burns with cursing me behind my back. If the court cannot protect me from these insults I shall protect myself."

Judge Hutton asked Rogers if he wished to make his charges in an affidavit. At this juncture Burns, who had heard that Rogers was appealing to the court, attempted to force his way into the court room. He was restrained by bailiffs, and both men glared at each other over the officers' heads.

Finally Rogers said: "The only way to settle this thing is to shoot it out." Biddinger leaped to his feet and jerked a card from his pocket, and shoving it savagely towards Rogers, said: "You'll find me at the Hayward hotel."

Descending from the witness stand, where he had been during the imbrogo, Biddinger muttered, "I'll make him jump through a window."

The situation was tense when court adjourned at a late hour. Biddinger was expected to resume the stand today.
