

BRYAN TOWERS ABOVE EVERYONE AT CONVENTION

C. K. McClatchy, editor of the Sacramento Bee writes as follows to his paper from Baltimore under date of June 27:

The shifting currents of this restless Baltimore convention remind one of the other shifting currents written of by Longfellow in his "Seasides." The "dashing, silver, flashing surges of San Salvador" showed no more evidence of the ebb and flow of the tide marine than does this convention present testimony of fluctuating currents of the stream political.

Fluctuation to Bryan

Bryan was defeated; Bryan is winning; Bryan was dead; Bryan is the liveliest man in the convention today.

Bryan was silenced; Bryan's voice is more potent than that of any other twenty men in the hall.

Bryan was no longer to be considered; nothing is done without the most particular care to see if it suits Bryan.

In fact, the Murphy-Ryan-Tamm gang is willing to give Bryan everything he wants, save the ticket.

As that, however, is everything, Bryan is still fighting, and Bryan yet may win.

Only God knows at this hour, and he is not telling.

Admire Bryan's Courage

The topic of conversation on every lip is the indomitable courage of William J. Bryan and his unswerving devotion to principle.

Probably there is no other man in convention, few anywhere who would have dared to do what he is doing.

He has refused all temptations of every character.

He has declined to sacrifice principle to advance a bastard harmony.

He has not only combatted the mean and nasty opposition of the political enemies who are really a credit to him, but has at the same time withstood the importunities of friends and he is right elementally and equitably right.

Standing as firm as a rock of truth for righteousness, for the cause of the people, swerving not an inch either to the right or to the left from the straight path of principle.

RIVAL CLAIMS OF CANDIDATES

BALTIMORE, Md., June 28.—Clark on the third; Wilson on the fourth or fifth ballot; a "dark horse" after the fifth or sixth fruitless vote. These were some of the predictions voiced this afternoon by claim agents for various candidates.

The Clark managers declared Clark on the second ballot would increase his vote to 48 1/2, a gain of 46 over the first ballot.

They said they would get 26 from Pennsylvania, six from North Carolina, six from Virginia, six from Tennessee and two from Utah would have the vote necessary to nominate. They look for New York to give him ninety votes on this ballot.

The Wilson bureau claimed that the New Jersey governor would win on the fifth ballot. They said a number of delegates who voted for Clark on the first ballot would desert him the moment they discovered the so-called Wall Street crowd swinging to him and that the deserters would more than outnumber those who would go to Clark by reason of the Murphy-Sullivan-Taggart influence. The Wilson men said they would get New York's ninety votes probably on the fourth ballot.

Harmon headquarters were making no claims except that they expected New York's ninety votes to stay with the Ohio governor for several more ballots.

Harvey C. Garber, national committeeman from Ohio, showed a list of eighty-nine Clark delegates who, he said, would jump to other candidates if there should develop a situation whereby the votes of New York would give Clark the nomination.

GENERAL HEAVINESS IN STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 28.—General heaviness was reflected in the initial dealings in the stock market today, all the active issues being lower. The feature of the day was the announcement by the steel corporation that it had met the recent price advances in finished products made by its competitors.

The market closed steady. Bonds were steady.

Crater Lake Open July 15.

Of late much inquiry is being made of Superintendent W. Frank Arant of Crater Lake National Park, relative to the time the road to Crater Lake will be open for tourist travel, and in this connection, Chief Ranger H. E. Momyer, who has been to the government headquarters several times this year, states that it will be the middle of July before teams will be able to reach the rim of the crater.—Klamath Northwestern.

at either the threat of foe or the pleading of friends, he stands today the one towering figure of this convention, worshipped by the populace and admired and respected even by those who hate him for his cause.

TEDDY CONFERS WITH LEADERS

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 28.—Colonel Roosevelt was ready for a conference this afternoon at Sagamore more Hill with E. A. Van Valkenburg of Philadelphia; William Flinn, of Pittsburg; George W. Perkins and several other progressive leaders. Perkins last night visited Oyster Bay and made arrangements for the meeting at which it is expected further details of the proposed question will be settled.

Friday usually is the colonel's second day each week at the Outlook office in New York, but he did not go there today, announcing that hereafter at least through the summer, he would go to his New York office only on Tuesdays. Colonel Roosevelt today played tennis with his sons Archie and Quentin.

Roosevelt eagerly asked all visitors about the latest news from Baltimore, and seemed vastly interested. When told the result of the first ballot he said:

"Even if Wilson is nominated now, the effect will be lost after this long wait. They are all divided down there. If they had got together solidly behind Wilson of some other progressive candidate it might have been better for them."
