DISHONORABLE TO STEAL ORGANIZATION FOR THIRD PARTY

WASHINGTON, July 16.—Declaring that neither Taft nor Roosevelt are legal nominees of the republican party, and that the promoters of Roosevelt's party will be guilty of dishonorable action if they attempt to retain control of the republican machinery in states where the progressive control, United States Senator John D. Works of California is today on record as opposed to the new third party, for which a national convention is to be called in Chicago next month.

Senator Works added that the time for the new party is not ripe. As there is no legitimate republican candidate, he argues, the republican voters are free to vote for Wilson, Roosevelt or any independent candidate they choose, but if, in so doing, they attempt to retain control of established republican state and county committees or other organizations, they are guilty of "treachery of the worst kind, and cannot longer cry 'thief' to the men they charge with stealing delegates at Chicago."

DEATH HOVERS OVER AL KAUFMAN'S BED

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 16.—Death may soon end the ring career of Al Kaufman, California heavyweight and at one time regarded as the coming heavyweight champion of the world. This fact was announced today from the bedside, where Kaufman lies stricken with pneumonia. His temperature is at 104, but it will be several days before the crisis in his illness is reached. His friends are hopeful that his rugged constitution will pull him through.

Kaufman was matched to meet Charley Miller, the giant motorman, here July 31 and promoter Eddie Graney is now scouting around for a substitute. Charley Horn is anxious for the chance, but is figured to be too light for Miller. It is expected the bout will be definitely arranged here.

OLSSON CITIZENSHIP GOES TO HIGHER COURT

SEATTLE, July 16.—With the facts in the Leonard Olsson disfranchisement case agreed by the opposing parties, Judge Hanford yesterday signed the order permitting the case to go up to the circuit court of appeals.

George McKay, attorney for Olsson expects to have the case ready for argument when the appellate court convenes in Seattle in September. Seven errors are alleged upon which the higher court is asked to reverse Judge Hanford's decision which cancelled Olsson's naturalization papers because of his socialistic beliefs.

ROOSEVELT ELECTORS IN STATE OF WASHINGTON

SEATTLE, July 16.—With the representatives from twenty-two counties in this state agreed to put Roosevelt electors in the field but turned down a motion to put up a third party ticket on county and state offices. An overwhelming majority in the conference were of the opinion that the progressives can win so far as the state ticket is concerned in the regular primaries. Fourteen delegates to the third party convention at Chicago were elected.

PROHIBIT GAMBLING IN COTTON FUTURES.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—By a vote of 95 ayes to 25 noes the house this afternoon passed the bill prohibiting gambling in cotton futures.

THE SIXTY THOUSAND DOLLAR WEDDING.

ONE of San Francisco's heiresses and society bells was married today amidst scenes of splendor, with a pomp and pageantry of wealth never before witnessed on the Pacific coast.

The cost of the wedding celebration was $60,000. The temporary pavilion erected for the wedding breakfast and torn down afterwards, cost $15,000. The floral display ran into many thousands, $6,000 being invested in the single feature of orchids. Over $1,500,000 worth of jewels sparkled upon the guests.

The bride is one of the flowers in California's garden of gold planted by the pioneer bankers, miners and railroad builders, to whose pecuniary shrewdness and grasping acquisitiveness the present generation is paying tribute sufficient to afford the luxury of such ceremonies.

One would naturally suppose that sixty thousand dollar weddings reflected the remarkable prosperity of the country. Yet in this same San Francisco there is a daily bread line of a thousand or more people, unemployed and unable to secure employment, fed at public expense to keep from starvation. In truth the existence of such useless and wanton extravagance is proof in itself of unhealthy economic conditions—of an inequitable distribution of wealth that destroys equality of opportunity and produces the pauper as well as the millionaire.

There are those who defend the absurd extravagancies of the rich on the ground that they distribute wealth in the community and therefore produce prosperity. But they produce no permanent prosperity, as the same expenditure in development or industrial enterprises would.

Wanton waste never produced prosperity. The feasts of Lucullus did not create prosperity for Rome, but heralded its decay and fall, an easy prey to the barbarians whom it despoiled. The dazzling court of Louis XIV. with the reckless extravagance it engendered among the nobility did not make France prosperous, but impoverished it and brought on the confiscation of the revolution. The extravagant waste of the medieval church destroyed its prosperity and brought about the forfeiture of its immense estates. The extravagances of the Stuarts brought civil war and the loss of a throne, instead of national prosperity.

So run the lessons of history. Reckless extravagance is ever the symptom of unjust economic conditions that create it, and a prelude to the decay and destruction of the cause. The same environment that produces the $60,000 wedding nonsense on one side of the street, yields the bread line on the other.

It is a waste of energy and of time to attack the inevitable result of our institutions. Let us rather study the origin and cause with a view to remedying it. The useless extravagance of the few and the needless poverty of the many are simply symptoms of a world-wide disease as old as civilization. We must understand the disease itself and gropingly and experimentally apply the remedy.

HUBERT LATHAM KILLED BY BUFFALO

The news was broken to his mother, for whose sake Latham gave up flying some time ago. Latham was on a hunting expedition in Africa. His body will be brought here for burial.

AMERICANS SHOW ATHLETES BASEBALL

STOCKHOLM, July 16.—Americans showed the other athletes of all nations this afternoon how to play baseball. They did it in the Olympic stadium, and probably two such nines were never gathered together before in the history of baseball. They were divided into easterners and Westerners, and the eastern team beat the western one by a score of 6 to 3.

EXCURSION STEAMER RAMMED AT ROCKAWAY

NEW YORK, July 16.—The steamer Nassau, crowded with excursionists from Newark, N. J., crashed into the steamer Rosedale in Rockaway Inlet this afternoon, cutting a large hole in the Rosedale's port bow. The Rosedale was beached and her passengers were safely taken ashore.

The accident occurred in deep water, but a fleet of small boats was soon in attendance and the Rosedale's passengers, who were bound from Far Rockaway to this city, were taken off and rowed shore.

The Nassau was able to continue on her journey, although her bow was crushed in above the waterline and she will have to go into drydock.

AMERICANS SHOW ATHLETES BASEBALL

STOCKHOLM, July 16.—Americans showed the other athletes of all nations this afternoon how to play baseball. They did it in the Olympic stadium, and probably two such nines were never gathered together before in the history of baseball. They were divided into easterners and Westerners, and the eastern team beat the western one by a score of 6 to 3.

Among the eastern players were C. E. Brickley, the Harvard hop-step-and-jumper; James Thorpe, the Carlisle Indian all-around athlete; Ben Adams, the New York Athletic club's high jumper; John Paul Jones, the amateur mile runner; Platt Adams, broad jumper; A. R. Kiviatt, long distance jumper from Pennsylvania university; L. Whitney, Boston shotputter, and H. P. Drew, the negro sprinter from Springfield, Mass.

The western stars included E. E. Lindberg, the Chicago Athletic association's 100 yard man; H. B. Huff, another 100 yarder from Michigan university; Leslie Byrd, jumper, from Chicago university; F. G. Irons, Chicago jumper; F. V. Belote, sprinter from the same city; I. N. Davenport, still another Chicagoan; G. L. Horine, high jumper from the Pacific coast; Ira Courtney of Seattle, and J. A. Henauld, the Chicago A. A. all-rounder.

It was perhaps the fastest collection of players seen on an amateur field, and they demonstrated the game at its very best to the throng of international athletes who watched them.

VALUE OF WATER APPLIED TO LAND IS CLEARLY SHOWN

That the claims of the officers of the Rogue River Valley Canal company in regard to the value of water applied to land are not overdrawn is shown more conclusively this year than ever before by their Roguelands irrigated tracts. This season for the first time can the great value of water be seen, for this season more land than ever before is under cultivation on the so-called "desert."

Nearly 500 acres of trees were set out this spring and judging from the growth they have made, as well as the appearance of the trees one year old, the "desert" is destined to become not only a great small fruit, berry and produce producer, but one of the favored and profitable orchard sections of the valley. It will well repay one to make a visit to the tracts of the company if one entertains doubts of the value of these tracts.

One of the best appearing tracts in that section is the Miles home. Here great care has been taken in the development of 20 acres in the heart of the so-called "desert." If any land in that section seemed non-productive it was the Miles tract two years ago. Now it is "blossoming like the rose." There is no greener or more attractive looking 20 acres in the valley, all due to water. Young trees are flourishing while between the rows berries, melons and vegetables of all kinds are growing well, giving promise of large returns. The soil is capable of producing anything with water.

In one of the tracts where dynamite was used to set out trees one year ago, the orchard expert will stand astounded at the splendid showing made by the trees. It is almost unbelievable that they are only one year old. And again the secret is water.

The company this year set out 480 acres of trees extending from the Miles place west to the Rybee bridge. This land was plowed and leveled last year and now set to trees. Water is applied frequently and the little trees are responding readily.

The "desert" tracts are a great object lesson. It is impossible to view the irrigated tracts without being convinced.

OLYMPIC WINNERS PHOTOGRAPHED AT SCENES OF VICTORY

STOCKHOLM, July 16.—The American participants in the Olympic games were photographed in the stadium today and it was almost as much of a function as yesterday's award of the prizes by the king of Sweden. Thousands of people turned out to see the winning athletes, grouped together, cheering them with tremendous enthusiasm.

One of the pleasant things about the American victory is that it seems to have left an agreeable taste in everybody's mouth. The winners seem to have succeeded in making themselves exceedingly popular, and even the rivals whom they defeated have nothing but kind things to say of them.

The atmosphere is much clearer than immediately following the games at London four years ago, and were it not for the death of Luzzo, the Marathon runner, which has thrown a decided wet blanket over the wind-up of this year's gathering, the visitors here could hardly part on better terms.

The crowd in the city is already beginning to thin out, but it will be some days before the number of Olympic visitors ceases to be noticeable on the streets of Stockholm.
