Mrs. W. C. Debley, assisted by Miss Miksche, entertained Tuesday evening at her home on South King street for her niece, Miss Irene Hurley. An impromptu musical and literary program included piano solos by Miss Lilla Grigsby, Miss Newberry and Miss Coffin; vocal numbers by Miss Miksche, selections on the violin by Miss Ione Flynn, and two clever readings by Miss Welch. Dainty refreshments were then served from prettily decorated tables, a bowl of dark red roses marking the place of the honor guest. Those enjoying Mrs. Debley's hospitality were: Misses Irene Hurley, Helen Dahl, Lois Estes, Della Beck, Allene Kingsbury, Flora Welch, Loraine Hilton, Geraldine Miksche, Jeannette Butler, Lilla Grigsby, Maud Newberry, Ione Flynn, Inez and Iva Coffin and Miss Juanita Roach of Tucson, Ariz.

A unique affair of the week was the "sunrise" breakfast given Tuesday morning by Miss Geraldine Miksche, for Miss Irene Hurley of St. Paul. Fourteen young ladies met at the city park with the first appearing of dawn and took a "constitutional" to the reservoir hill, where an appetizing breakfast, terminating in a watermelon feast, was heartily partaken of. Those in the party were: Misses Irene Hurley, Geraldine Miksche, Helen Dahl, Jeannette Butler, Lois Estes, Lilla Grigsby, Della Beck, Maud Newberry, Allene Kingsbury, Inez Coffin, Flora Welch, Ione Flynn, Loraine Hilton, Iva Coffin.

The Medford branch of the W. C.

T. U. gave an ice cream social in the park last Wednesday afternoon and evening which, in spite of the inconsiderate and discourteous action of the weather clerk, was quite a success, both socially and financially.

The officers and members unanimously tendered a vote of thanks to the Pacific Motor Supply company who so kindly wired the grounds and furnished the lights; to the Rogue River Electric company who donated the current; to Wenhard's Brewery who donated the ice; to the Mail Tribune who donated the advertising, and to the different ladies who donated the cakes.

Weather permitting, the event may be repeated before the close of the season.

Mrs. John A. Westerlund was hostess at a charming affair given at the Holland Friday afternoon in honor of her nieces the Misses Lillian and Marjorie Westerlund of Chicago. A six course luncheon was first enjoyed, the tables made attractive with scurlet geraniums and ferns with bright colored dahlias intertwined through the lattice work. Later "Five Hundred" was played in the ladies' parlor on the first floor. Miss Lillian Westerlund gave a number of violin selections accompanied by Miss Marjorie which were highly appreciated. Those invited were Misses Lillian and Marjorie Westerlund, Aileen Perl, Ione Flynn, Josephine Root, Caroline Andrews, Jeannette Salade, Joan Anderson, Mrs. John A. Perl and Mrs. A. A. Davis.
