EAGLE POINT EAGLETS.

(By A. C. Howlett.)

The last time I wrote I promised to tell the readers of the Mail Tribune something of what I saw and heard on my trip to Agate and Table Rock. I started for Antioch school house, expecting to meet Rev. M. C. Davis there according to previous arrangements and just as I was coming out of the gate near the Bybee bridge I saw him running full speed to intercept me to inform me that there was another appointment ahead of his at Antioch and that he had phoned over the neighborhood that he would preach at Agate. But before I go any further on my story I wish to tell what I saw on my way across the desert, for I confess that I was greatly surprised. There were just acres and acres of as fine looking corn growing as anyone could wish, although there were occasionally spots that the corn looked less healthy than the rest and in addition to the corn were vines that looked like squash vines, beans and other vines of a smaller variety and I learned later that they were cantelopes, but talk about that desert ground bringing garden truck why it does my eyes good to see such a growth on land that has always been considered worthless. Well after I was met by brother Davis, I turned my course and went to Agate and there we had a very interesting Sunday school after which Davis preached, and he and I went to Mr. Beeby's for dinner, well it is not best to say much about the dinner but Mr. Beeby said that the chickens were all ready before she knew that we were coming. Well while dinner was being prepared Mr. Beeby invited us to walk out into his orchard and garden, well talk about garden truck he had almost everything that the soil of Jackson county can raise and that means almost anything that will grow in our latitude, but his fruit, apples, pears, berries, etc., of all kinds, and in abundance, when we went back to the house the freezer was about ready for business and Mr. Beeby and Davis worked the freezer and your correspondent bossed the job, well to make a short story of it we had a feast of as nice ice cream as anyone could wish. After the feast was over Rev. Davis started for Table Rock to meet the Sunday school there and your correspondent went by a slower mode of traveling, in a buggy, but Rev. Davis has one of the latest improved motor cycles and he now can travel at the rate of—well he goes so fast that I can't keep in sight, however I arrived at Mr. DePort's the place agreed on when we separated, in due time and he preached again to a good sized audience. While in the neighborhood of Table Rock, I noticed that the young orchards were looking fine and the older ones were just loaded with fruit in fact if they don't thin the trees more they are likely to break all to pieces. I also noticed that there was a quantity of grain being stacked ready for the thrasher and everything looked prosperous.

Well Monday afternoon after I was through with writing for the Mail Tribune I took a stroll over town to see what I could find that would be of interest to the readers of the Mail Tribune and I soon discovered that there was quite a number of our farmers had come to town, and as I entered Browns store there I met Gus Edmunson of Derby and he informed me that he and his father Lee Edmunson were running their saw mill near Derby and with him were Ray and Fred Shatreen also of Derby, Mrs. K. Quackenbush and Mrs. of Derby Mrs. Quackenbush and Mrs. Gorman beside two others that were strangers to me, and at Heath & Diamond's I met Mr. Quackenbush and his sister-in-law Mrs. McKaffery. The Quackenbushes, Gorman's and McKaffery all live on Mr. Corbin's orchard and as I understand it the three ladies are all sisters, they were all in getting supplies from the two general merchandise stores of our town, although we have several other stores in our town besides them. While in Browns store I learned that Frank Brown one of the firm, also one of the county commissioners had gone out on the Crater Lake road with the other county commissioner, James Owens, in company with Wm. Von der Hellen to inspect the work.

Our new baker tells me that he used to run the Model Bakery in Medford and that he had to ship Tuesday morning one hundred and fifty loaves of bread to Medford and that it just keeps him jumping to keep any stock on hand. That speaks well for Eagle Point to have to ship bread to the great city of Medford.

George Vonder Hellen has gone to Prospect to take a hunt.

Gus Rosenberg lost one his horses Monday evening with pneumonia.

Card of Thanks.

I wish, by this means, to express my thanks and gratitude to Rev. Boyle for his kind words, the singers for their sweet singing, and all my friends and lodge members for their many kind acts and the beautiful floral offering, during the illness and death of my beloved sister, Della M. Lawrence. Such acts will never be forgotten.
