Entered as second-class matter at Medford, Oregon, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Official Paper of the City of Medford. Official Paper of Jackson County.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES. One year, by mail, $5.00. One month, by mail, $1.00. Per month, delivered by carrier in Medford, Jacksonville and Central Point, $1.00. Saturday only, by mail, per year, $2.00. Weekly, per year, $1.50.

UNDESIRABLES ARE TOLD TO GET OUT

For the first time in many months Medford is today practically free of all undesirable women. This condition follows the issuance of orders Friday by Mayor Canon to the police that all women of ill repute must leave the city...

The police descended first upon the Royal rooming house which has housed a number of women during the past year and from there the police covered the rooming houses in the city some known to be of a more or less disorderly character...

For some time the women have not been disturbed as a class and only those who were too prominent on the streets were forced to leave town. This crusade was general, however, and all were told to move out.

NORTHERN JUDGE MAY TRY DARROW NEXT

PUBLISH THE LIST OF CONTRIBUTORS

COLONEL ROOSEVELT'S reply to the statements made by John D. Archbold, concerning attempted political blackmail, is, of course, to loudly shout, "Liar! Liar! Liar!"

For many years this has been the Roosevelt method of answering accusations, and he has gotten away with it so many times, that he cannot see why he should not continue to do so indefinitely.

It is impossible that Colonel Roosevelt is the only honest man in the world, and the only one whose word can be accepted. It is improbable that the foremost men in the business world are all liars when under oath to speak the truth.

Colonel Roosevelt's words are belied by his own record. For years he worked hand in glove with Quay and his successor, Penrose. He has ruthlessly used his power and position to insult and ruin men in public and private life.

While singling out the Standard Oil to prosecute, he protected the Morgan interests. He permitted the steel trust to absorb its only rival and create an absolute monopoly. He prohibited the prosecution of the Harvester trust. He refused to prosecute the sugar trust. He protected certain railways from punishment for re-bating—all a matter of history.

Roosevelt's assertion that he did not know that the Standard Oil contributed heavily to the campaign fund, is absurd. No such sum of money could have been received from any source without the principal beneficiary having knowledge of it. Why was his secretary of commerce and labor, who is supervisor over corporations, selected to collect his campaign funds?

A far better answer to the assertions of Penrose, Archbold and others, would be the publication of the list of subscribers to the campaign funds raised in Roosevelt's behalf. It would be more convincing than shouting "deliberate falsehood."

Mr. Roosevelt pretends to favor publicity of campaign contributions. Why has he never made public the lists of his own campaigns?

If Mr. Perkins and the steel trust did not underwrite the contributions for the primary campaign made in Roosevelt's behalf this year, the publication of the list of contributors is all the proof necessary to contradict the assertion. It is not necessary to shout "liar."

Senator La Follette set a good example by printing the full list of his campaign contributions during the campaign. Why does Roosevelt not follow it? Mr. Perkins says that there will be no lack of money for the Bull Moose campaign. Why then not tell who is putting it up?

The veil of secrecy wrapped about the donors of the Roosevelt slush fund leads to the natural conjecture that the money contributed is from the spoils illegally secured by trusts through favoritism shown them during Roosevelt's administration.
