

SUSPECT WIFE OF LOUNSBERRY

Postal Officials Said to Have Found Evidence Incriminating Her—Now Certain That Lounsberry Had a Hand in Robbery at Yoncalla

Satisfied that they have connected Wells Lounsberry, the Rogue River orchardist seriously wounded while holding up a train last week at Lawrence, Kansas, and who later confessed to the robbery of a train at Redding last winter, with the robbery of a train at Yoncalla, June 16, 1911, the government officers who have been investigating the case have turned their attention to his unknown accomplice and are now endeavoring to learn who the person was who assisted him on the Yoncalla job. Meanwhile since Sunday the Lounsberry home has been in charge of Stratton, a neighbor.

While the postal inspectors, who left Medford Monday evening to report to their superior officers at Portland, were very reticent in the matter, it is known, however, that they are working upon the theory that Mrs. Lounsberry assisted her husband in robbing the train at Yoncalla. They were reluctant to accept this theory preferring to think that Lounsberry was induced to rob trains because he wished to give his wife an abundance of the luxuries of life. It is known, however, that they accepted the theory that Mrs. Lounsberry was her husband's accomplice after the house had been ransacked from top to bottom in search of evidence.

Evidence Found
It is reported that the officers found certain garments similar to those described by the mail clerks as worn by the robbers shortly after the Yoncalla robbery. In addition to this several points in the description of the smaller robber who carried but a single gun, did not speak, and who appeared to be very nervous corresponds in a great degree with the appearance of Mrs. Lounsberry. The only place the descriptions do not correspond is in regard to the weight. While Mrs. Lounsberry was a small woman it is pointed out that a woman dressed in men's clothes would naturally appear to be much heavier than she really is. It is further known that Mrs. Lounsberry has been under constant surveillance since she left Portland and her arrest is believed to be imminent. She is supposed to have reached Topeka, Kansas where her husband is, today.

While the two inspectors who worked on this end of the case were very eager to explain to all with whom they talked that they did not suspect Mrs. Lounsberry, their protestations in this regard were too voluble to be sincere and whenever the party they were talking with suggested this theory they immediately laughed at it and after discussing the case in other respects would again lead up to Mrs. Lounsberry in a roundabout way. They repeatedly questioned parties who were acquainted with Mrs. Lounsberry as to all of her characteristics. Neighbors were also closely questioned as to her movements but as the Lounsberrys led a more or less secluded life they were able to throw but little light on the subject.

EASTERN BROOK WILL GROW AS LARGE AS STEELHEAD IN ROGUE AND TRIBUTARIES

That the eastern brook fry planted in Applegate and Big Butte will grow in the Rogue River to a size exceeding that of the steelhead is the prediction of Henry O'Malley, superintendent of government hatcheries, who has been in Medford looking after preparations to take fish eggs the coming season.

"The eastern brook, in its native habitat, the cold brooks and streams of New England, rarely attain a size exceeding a pound, though in lakes they frequently reach a size of 5 to 6 pounds. The same fish, transplanted to Colorado, attains a size of from 10 to 20 pounds and I believe that with the abundant feed and warmer water of the Rogue, this trout will exceed this size and equal in gameness the steelhead."

Mr. O'Malley is planning to hatch, in connection with the state board, a quarter million eastern brook eggs from Colorado at the Elk Creek hatchery, which will be liberated in the adjacent streams as fingerlings. He hopes to take ten million salmon eggs, and three million steel head trout eggs the coming season, which will be hatched at Elk Creek and liberated. In anticipation of securing a modification of the closed river law, Rod Macleay, who purchased the Hume interests, will operate the hatchery on the lower river this season.

Salmon will be taken this year at the Ament dam, instead of below Grants Pass or at Friday's eddy as formerly. Rocks will be put in the riffle below the dam and at the fishways, care being taken not to interfere with the ascent of steelheads.

Although formal notice was served on the California-Oregon Power Company to begin construction of another fishway at Gold Ray, nothing has been done, and thousands of fish are reported as held-up by the dam, where they batter their heads in efforts to find the present fishway.

RECALL MAKES LAWYERS LAUGH

American Bar Association Amused by Governor McGovern's Speech—Negro Barrister to Be Admitted to Membership Over Protests

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—Governor McGovern of Wisconsin in welcoming the members of the American Bar Association here today dismissed the recall of judges. The governor said:

"Many feel that there is force in the argument that the recall of judges would impair the importance of judges. It is a fact, however, that the independence of the judiciary has been more in danger from the very men opposing the recall than there now is from the recall itself. The idea of the recall is not revolutionary—simply a new application of an old principle.

"Understand me," the governor added, "I am not advocating the recall."

Governor McGovern's remarks brought loud guffaws from the assembled delegates.

Attorney General Wickersham announced that he had enough pledges already to insure the election of Assistant Attorney General William Lewis, a Boston Negro, to membership, against whom southern members are waging a bitter fight.

The recall of judges, it was said, would be discussed at length during the convention and it was considered probable that the association would oppose the recall in any form.

The executive committee returned their report proposing that three Negroes be admitted to membership. The Negroes mentioned were William Lewis, an assistant United States attorney general; Butler Wilson of Massachusetts and William Morris of Minnesota.

Former Secretary of War Jacob M. Dickinson was recognized and presented a resolution providing that hereafter all applications for membership by Negroes must state plainly that the applicants are colored.

Attorney General Wickersham was then recognized. It had been expected that he would make a hot speech in favor of Negroes, but instead he said that he favored Dickinson's resolution. The resolution was then declared carried among much confusion.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—English theater-goers are still gasping today over the performance of Gaby Deslys, the dancer and former favorite of ex-King Manuel of Portugal, at the Palace Theater here, during which she disrobed on the stage more amazingly near the limit than has ever been seen in a London theater.

The disrobing act followed a wild dance in which she indulged with her American partner, Harry Pflieger. It is predicted that her performance may be interfered with by the English Anthony Comstocks.

CHINA ON EVE OF SECOND REVOLUTION

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 27.—"I look for another upheaval in China," said Commodore C. J. Eyres, R. N., now on his way from Hong Kong to England and who was formerly commander of the British squadron at Hong Kong.

"The recent revolution," he continued, "there was apparently successful, but the new regime will not last long. There will be trouble there before long, and I believe there will be a renewed outbreak soon."

"The idea seems to prevail over here that everything is now lovely in China, but the reverse is the case. I believe there will be another outbreak there before long, and the present government will be overthrown."

MURDERED FATHER TO SAVE MOTHER

VINLAND, N. J., Aug. 27.—Admitting that he killed his father E. R. Garten, a rich horseman, Henry Garten surrendered to the police here today, asserting that he committed the deed to prevent the murder of his mother.

Garten declared that his father had been drinking and after a bitter quarrel with the mother shortly after midnight, seized a butcher knife and threatened to kill her. Young Garten grappled with his father, grabbing the knife at the same time and plunged it into the latter's throat.

Taft Supporters to Fight for Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 27.—The managers of President Taft's campaign in Nebraska have decided to demand that the six Roosevelt electors named as republicans in the statewide primary election last April resign in favor of the Taft electors. If they refuse, the Taftites plan to file a suit in the supreme court similar to that which was filed recently in Kansas to enjoin the secretary of state from certifying to the county clerks ballot containing the names of the Roosevelt electors.

Kaiser Ordered to Take Complete Rest

BERLIN, Aug. 27.—That the kaiser "must take a complete rest for some time, was the announcement here today of Count Eulenbergh, of the imperial household. Fears are entertained that the German ruler is in a more serious condition than the physicians will admit.

The current belief is that Kaiser Wilhelm is suffering from a serious throat affection, despite the official announcement of the court physicians that the symptoms "suggest quinsy."

The kaiser's father succumbed to cancer of the throat.

GOVERNOR WEST OUSTS CAMERON

District Attorney of Multnomah County Removed Because of Refusal to Cooperate in Plans for Cleaning-up Metropolis

SALEM, Ore., Aug. 27.—Governor West today removed from office District Attorney Cameron of Portland and appointed as his successor Walter H. Evans, assistant United States district attorney. The removal was made under the statute providing that whenever a district attorney fails to furnish the governor with a complete statement of facts in a pardon case, the governor may remove him. It is not known which pardon case Governor West will cite.

The action of Governor West is the result of District Attorney Cameron's refusal to allow Evans to act as special prosecutor and carry out Governor West's reform plans.

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 27.—Informed that he had been removed from office by Governor West, District Attorney Cameron stated today that he did not think Governor West had the power to remove him and that he would fight any attempt on the governor's part to do so. Cameron said he would take no action till he had been officially informed of Governor West's action.

Walter H. Evans when told he had been appointed district attorney to take the place of Cameron, said he could not say today whether he would accept. He stated he would make a definite statement tomorrow, following the return to Portland of his chief, United States District Attorney McCourt, with whom he wished to consult before finally accepting or declining West's appointment.

District Attorney Cameron said he thought the old statute under which the governor removed him was repealed by the amendment to the constitution passed in 1911 providing that criminal proceedings might be instituted against a district attorney not doing his duty.

As a consequence of Governor West's action in removing District Attorney George Cameron, Multnomah county this afternoon was without an official prosecutor. Being doubtful of his legal right to conduct the grand jury, District Attorney Cameron dismissed that body.

AMERICAN BAR HEARS APPEAL MADE BY PRESIDENT FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 27.—Defense of Cornelius H. Hanford of Seattle, who resigned as United States judge for the western district of Washington in the midst of a congressional investigation by which impeachment proceedings were intended, was voiced here today by Stephen Gregory of Chicago, president of the American Bar Association, in organizing the annual convention of that organization. Gregory after touching briefly on arbitration treaties and the recall of judges referred to the Hanford case.

"While I venture to express an opinion in the case of Judge Hanford," said Gregory, "it may be out of place. But it seems to me that the matter sought to be proved was, for the most part, of the most trivial nature. It seems to me that it fell far short of such high crimes and misdemeanors as to warrant impeachment of a federal judge.

"We should not, however, condone the shortcomings of the bench.

A MILLION FOR A TOGA

WILLIAM FLINN
Roosevelt's Pennsylvania leader accused by Senator Penrose of having offered to pay $1,000,000 for a seat in the United States senate.

LUMBER TRUST PROBE UNDERWAY

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 27.—The government probe of the so-called retail lumber trust of the middle west began here this morning. H. B. Hewitt of the Tye Lumber Company of Hoquiam was the first witness called. He admitted that he hesitated to sell to retail lumbermen not included in the alleged syndicate for fear of being blacklisted by the trust.

He told of correspondence that ensued between him and the publishers of the Mississippi Lumberman, a lumber journal in support of the trust, in which it was hinted that he must refrain from selling in the Mississippi Valley and neighboring territory to any retailers except those in the syndicate. In answer to Judge Milton D. Purdy, for the defense, Hewitt bluntly said that he would have continued to sell to a certain house except for this fear.

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Prison bars are no hindrance to the making of wealth, according to the report current here today that Joseph G. Robin, confined in the Tombs awaiting sentence for grand larceny in connection with the wrecking of the Northern bank has made another fortune through speculation carried on while a prisoner.

TO KEEP TEDDY IN HOT WATER

Penrose Collecting Evidence to Substantiate Charges Against Progressive Candidate Who Will Be Given Hearing September 30

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt will be given an opportunity September 30 to answer the charges made against him by United States Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania and John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil company, before the senate campaign contributions investigating committee. Chairman Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota announced here today that the members of the committee had reached a general understanding to resume the probe on that date.

Under the terms of the Penrose resolution, as adopted by the senate yesterday, the Clapp committee is authorized to probe the following points:

What Will Be Probed
"The statement of Senator Penrose in the senate concerning Standard Oil company contributions.
"Financial transactions and correspondence relating thereto between John D. Archbold and the members of the senate and house.
"Financial transactions and correspondence relating thereto between George W. Perkins, former partner of J. Pierpont Morgan, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and members of the senate and the house."
Efforts today to learn from Senator Clapp whether the election of Senator Penrose would be probed if E. A. Van Valkenburg, editor of the North American, could prove his assertion that Penrose's election was brought about by fraud, were futile. In addition to Colonel Roosevelt, it is expected that their witnesses to be called before the convention will include William R. Hearst, George W. Perkins, George B. Cortelyou, William Loeb, Jr., Secretary of State P. C. Knox, William Flinn of Pennsylvania and a number of senators and congressmen.

Keep T. R. in Hot Water
Promising to keep Roosevelt "in hot water" Senator Penrose left Washington today to secure more material evidence in his fight against the former president. He carried with him a bulky package which was labeled "documents regarding Roosevelt."

"I am going to Philadelphia," said Penrose, "to see some people there and refresh my memory regarding certain affairs. I will compel the owners of the Philadelphia North American to discharge Editor E. A. Van Valkenburg by the disclosures I will make."

Asked regarding the fight William Flinn of Pittsburg proposed to make against him, Penrose said: "Oh, he's easy. I have witnesses to an offer Flinn made me of $1,000,000 for a seat in the United States senate."

Penrose promised to cause "some more explosive utterances and echoes to come from the vicinity of Oyster Bay."

In addition, the senate passed an appropriation for settlement with the state for rising volunteers during the Civil war of $193,546 which was rejected by the house.
