

WATER WAGON ORATORS SPEAK

After speaking in Woodville, Central Point and Jacksonville Friday, B. Lee Paget, Prohibition candidate for United States Senator and O. A. Stillman, candidate for Congress, reached Medford Friday night and delivered addresses from their "automobile water wagon" at a street meeting Friday night. Since their campaign opened August 4, in Sherwood, Ore., they have spoken in nearly 100 towns in Washington, Yamhill, Clackamas, Hood Hood River, Marion, Polk, Benton, Linn, Lane, Douglas and Josephine counties, covering the entire distance of approximately 1400 miles by automobile. In addition to their street meetings in various towns, Messrs. Paget and Stillman have spoken to men in lumbering camps, mills, and threshing crews in the fields.

Everywhere they have received a thoughtful hearing and many have expressed their intention of supporting the Prohibition ticket the coming election. Mr. Paget and Mr. Stillman are much gratified over the reception they have received here and elsewhere and regard it as an evidence of increased support that will be given their party this fall.

Mr. Paget pointed out that there is a general belief that the Prohibition party is a mere temperance society. This he declared to be entirely mistaken, that the party is a vigorous progressive political organization which deals with all the great questions of the day. While the opposition to the liquor traffic is the dominant issue in the Prohibition platform, Mr. Paget said it was by no means the only important one.

Mr. Paget referred to Ben Selling, the republican senatorial candidate by saying that a man who required six weeks to make up his mind whether he would support Taft or Roosevelt was hardly fitted to hold the office of senator where he would be expected to decide important questions on short notice.

Mr. Stillman who also spoke declared that the Prohibition party is the only one whose party and ticket furnish the opportunity for the expression of the intelligence and conscience of the worthy citizen.

Mr. Paget is a well known business man of Portland, having been secretary of the Portland Commercial club for 10 years and having been identified with all the movements for the upbuilding of the city and state. He has been for 18 years treasurer of the People's Power League, the organization which has inaugurated the various measures embraced in what is known as the "Oregon System." Its president is Ben Selling, the republican candidate for senator, and its secretary is W. S. U'Ren, father of the initiative and referendum. Mr. Paget is also member of the State Grange.

ENGLISH GIRL SWIMMER READY TO RIVAL OUR AMERICAN CHAMPION

MISS LILY SMITH AND HER SISTERS. MISS SMITH IN THE CENTRE.

England's women swimmers will not remain idle while one of the best young women swimmers of the United States undertakes to swim across the Channel. Of course, it is not probable that Miss Lily Smith, a wonderful swimmer, of London, who is barely out of her teens and has many excellent records to her credit, decided to try to cross the Channel because she had been made acquainted with Miss Rose Pitonoff's intention, for Miss Smith announced last year that she would make the trial this season.

It is interesting to note, however, that Miss Smith has decided to make her trial about the same time that Miss Pitonoff, of Boston, will attempt her swim. The date for Miss Smith's effort has not been decided definitely, but it will be some morning in the latter part of this month.

In company with her sisters, she is taking long swims at the ocean resorts in England. Recently at Brighton she was in the water for several hours, and she intends to try to swim to Dover from Ramsgate. These are preliminary trials. Miss Smith has a magnificent physique, and her endurance powers are rated high by physicians.

DID LOUNSBERRY HOLD UP STAGE?

That Wells Lounsberry was the lone robber who four years ago held up the Blue Ledge stage is a theory that Constable Singler is probing to the depths. The constable has a list of those who were on the stage and is busy checking up on the description of the robber. As far as he has gone, the Lounsberry theory remains unexploded.

The highwayman who held up the stage, stepped out from a clump of brush and calmly commanded the twelve passengers to line up by the roadside. From these twelve he extracted $180, to which he sum he added $240 by holding up a farmer who drove up with his wife in a large wagon. The robber then thanked everybody concerned and disappeared. It is said he was a slight man with a light complexion.

NO WORD NEEDED TO MAINTAIN TRUST

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 31.—Examination of Victor H. Beckman, former secretary of the Pacific Coast Lumber Manufacturers' Association, and one of the most prominent lumber men on the coast, took up all of this morning's session in the alleged retail lumber trust hearing. Beckman testified to substantially the same general facts concerning the alleged "understanding" among retail dealers and wholesalers and manufacturers, as the witnesses who have preceded him. He explained that the grade generally "understood" without any particular agreement that wholesalers were not to sell direct to consumers or mail order houses.
