

OREGON ALUMNI AT BANQUET BOARD

"Every true Oregonian, whether by birth or adoption has a strong state pride and should be loyal to the institutions of Oregon," said President P. L. Campbell at the banquet attended by forty former students of the University of Oregon at the Hotel Holland, last night, "and it is to these progressive Oregonians that the State University looks for support. The University of Oregon is a past that stage in its development in which it must seek students and is now bending its energies towards strict requirements in scholarship and efficiency. The aim of the University is to not only train men and women for the field of professional engineering, law, medicine, the ministry or business, and higher citizenship but also to place the experts, laboratories, and libraries of the University at the service of the people of the state."

Deplores Referendums

W. I. Vawter who served as toastmaster for the occasion in opening the programme of toasts told of the benefits which he had received from his course at the University and deplored the unprogressive spirit of many of the residents in his old home, the Willamette Valley who hindered the University by attacking its appropriations with the referendum whenever possible. He said that Southern Oregon had always stood for progress along all lines and each time that the University appropriation bills were referended had cast enormous majorities in their favor.

One of the most interesting addresses of the evening was given by Dr. George Rebec, formerly one of the strongest members of the faculty of the University of Michigan who has been engaged to head the extension department of the University. In part he spoke as follows:

"When the council of Medford established the public market I know that they would have appreciated a short sketch of the successes and failures attained by public markets in different quarters of the world. The university desires to become a vital factor in the life of the people and expects them to look to it to furnish data and what advice its specialists can upon many occasions. The university has adopted the slogan of the University of Wisconsin, which is 'To extend the campus to the borders of the state.'"

Extension Work

Kirby S. Miller, president of the "Progressive Educational League of Oregon," was present at the banquet and in a short toast endorsed the extension work that had been outlined as planned by Dr. Rebec and said that a fact that had greatly impressed him was the restless energy of the people of Oregon which if given leadership by the scientific men and specialists at the University would accomplish magnificent results.

One of the most important accomplishments of the meeting of the former students was the formation of a Medford Alumni Association to include all former students of the University of Oregon in Medford. Olen Arnsperger, a graduate of the class of 1908 who won great fame as a football star in his academic days was elected president of the newly formed organization. Arnsperger like the majority of the engineers turned out by the State University has made a distinct success in his chosen occupation, being city engineer of Medford.

The other officers elected were Blaine Klum, vice-president; Vernon Vawter, treasurer, and Miss Ruth Merrick, a 1912 graduate, secretary.

BORDER CONDITIONS EXTREMELY CRITICAL

EL PASO, Texas., Sept. 4.—Conditions along the Mexican border are extremely critical today, according to General Schuyler, commander of the Department of California, U. S. A., who has arrived here to confer with Colonel E. Z. Steever, commander of the Department of Texas at Fort Bliss.

General Schuyler made a tour of inspection along the border, stopping at Ogales, Tucson, Naco and Douglas.

A strict patrol is kept along the Mexican frontier by the United States troops to prevent rebels from looting ranches on this side of the Rio Grande.

SCENES ATTENDING TRIAL OF ALLEGED COREAN CONSPIRATORS AND ONE OF THE ACCUSED.

* COURT SCENE AT SEOUL.

Accused of conspiracy to assassinate Count Terauchi, 133 Koreans are now on trial in Seoul, and the case is attracting widespread attention. Baron Yun-Chi-Ho, a missionary, is the alleged chief conspirator, but he has steadfastly protested his innocence. The prisoners have charged the Japanese officials with severe torture during the progress of investigation.

Mr. Okubo, the Japanese attorney for several of the prisoners, warned the Court it could not afford to overlook the torture charges.

Mr. Takahashi, another Japanese attorney, declared that this is the most important case which has ever come up in the Japanese courts. "Japan is on trial," he said. Mr. Takahashi compared Prince Ito's civil rule with what he characterized as Count Terauchi's military rule. "Now," he said, "we find the army is supreme and the Koreans must assent or die."

landslides of gigantic proportions which have added danger to the work at Culebra Cut. The slides were six days apart, the first carrying more than 900,000 cubic yards of earth to the bottom of the canal, partly covering a steam shovel and endangering the lives of many workmen, and the second dragging down 300,000 cubic yards. The slides have flooded sections of the big ditch by diverting drainage canals.
