

JOURNALISM TO BE TAUGHT AT VARSITY

EUGENE, Sept. 10.—Journalism, which is the catalogue word for what the newspaper men usually prefer to call "newspaper work," will appear among the subjects taught when the University of Oregon opens its doors in Eugene, September 17.

The newspaper is the last of the great public institutions and professions to gain official recognition from the universities of the country, but faculties all over the United States have awakened to its surpassing importance in a democratic society, and the training of newspaper men has become an important duty in many of the best colleges. The universities were conservative about entering a new field, but the two great middle western state institutions of Wisconsin and Missouri went ahead and established schools of journalism. It was not until practical editors, skeptical at first, began to admit that the training brought excellent results, that the movement spread rapidly.

The work at Oregon has been placed in charge of Eric W. Allen, recently northwest editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. He was selected because he combined experience of both the metropolitan and country press with adequate university training and a successful record as a teacher. He has never been far from the smell of printers' ink since his boyhood.

Mr. Allen's idea is to keep the work in close touch with the practical newspaper men of the state, and he has already arranged with many of them to address his classes later in the year. Journalism is a subject on which there are as yet virtually no textbooks. The best newspapers of the country will be studied in the class room, and all the newspapers of Oregon will be in daily use.

HANFORD'S DECISION HEARD ON APPEAL

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 10.—Arguments on the Eli Melovich case, to which considerable reference was made during the impeachment investigation of ex-Judge C. H. Hanford, are being made today before the circuit court of appeals, which convened here today.

In this case, Melovich, a laborer, received a $12,000 jury verdict against the Stone Webster corporation, represented by Kerr and McCord, corporation lawyers whom Hanford favored. On a motion for a new trial Hanford voluntarily made the startling discovery that he had used erroneously the little word "any" in one of his instructions, and gave that as his principal excuse for granting a new trial. He also added that $12,000 was about five times too much for such an injury.

The Leonard Olsson disfranchisement case will also be reviewed by the circuit court this week. As the government will not contest the appeal from Judge Hanford's decision, it is practically certain that Hanford will be reversed and Olsson's citizenship rights will be restored.

JIM HILL ORGANIZES NEW TRUST COMPANY

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 10.—That James J. Hill is to organize a $2,000,000 trust company here was learned here today when the news was made public that Hill had purchased two-thirds of the stock of the Second National bank.

St. Paul bankers assert that the new trust company will be the largest in the northwest and will become the official financial institution of the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Burlington railway systems.

CAMPAIGN MANAGERS SEEK AID OF WOMEN

The campaign managers were never in such a hurry to get women to work for them as this year, and that haste is responsible for at least one premature announcement. Miss Mabel T. Boardman, executive head of the International Red Cross, who was selected as chairman of the Advisory Committee of women working for the republican cause by the Republican National Committee, announced that she would not accept the position.

Miss Ida Tarbell has been asked to return from Europe and be president of the Women's Wilson and Marshall Club, which was organized by Mrs. J. Borden Harriman and other well known women. Miss Helen Varick Boswell is president of the Women's National Republican Association.

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR RACES AT FAIR

Secretary Ware who has returned from Salem and Eugene has secured some fine entries for the races here next week. Frank B. Alley, the well known breeder of Roseburg, will bring four good ones: Mr. Norton of Marshfield two, one trotter and one pacer; Hogoborn of California three; Mr. Young of Salem two, and a good many others will bring one each, besides the running horses at the Eugene fair.

This will assure a fine racing program. Fred L. Lewis of Welton, secured first premium at the state fair on his fine two-year-old Percheron mare. She will be seen at the local county fair. Thos. Taylor purchased the fast pacing stallion King Seal, 2:15 1/2, at Salem last week and will enter him at Medford.

Scott Woolf and A. K. Ware brought back two highly bred ones in Unimak, trial 2:20, by the great McKinney, 2:11 1/2, the horse that sold for $50,000 at seventeen years, and a black six year old gelding trotting mare by Unimak.

OREGON CAMPAIGN ORATORY PLENTIFUL

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 10.—Portland is scheduled to hear many of the leading political orators of presidential election in November, according to announcement made here today at the several political headquarters. William Jennings Bryan; Senator Gore of Oklahoma; Senator-Elect Olie James of Kentucky, and Champ Clark are headed this way to speak for Governor Woodrow Wilson, the democratic presidential nominee. For the bull moose, besides Colonel Roosevelt, the presidential nominee, his running mate, Governor Hiram Johnson of California, and former United States Senator Beveridge of Indiana, will make addresses here. Names of republican campaign orators are not announced.

The way they are going at present the chances are that Pitchers Wood, of Boston, Pisk, of Philadelphia and Johnson of Washington, will top the leading pitcher in the National league at the close of the season.

ISMAY TO RESIGN FROM STEAMER LINE CONTROL

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—That J. Bruce Ismay, president of the International Mercantile Marine company, a survivor of the Titanic disaster, and Harold A. Sanderson, first vice-president, will resign at the end of the year was learned here today, confirming rumors which have been current for some time.

Ismay will be succeeded, it is said, by P. A. S. Franklin, now vice-president and head of the business in New York.
