

$200 REWARD FOR DYNAMITERS OF ROGUE FISH

Master Fish Warden Offers $100 and Local Anglers $100 for Information Leading to the Arrest of Perpetrators of Outrages

Market Fishermen Under Suspicion—Banks of Stream Fairly Strewed With Dead Fish

A reward of $200 cash is offered, half by Master Fish Warden Clanton, and half by the Rogue River Fish Protective Association for information leading to the arrest and conviction of parties dynamiting or illegally destroying fish by explosives in the Rogue River or its tributaries. For some time the wholesale destruction of fish has been in progress. The banks of the stream from Happy Camp down are fairly lined with slaughtered fish. All are agreed that it is principally the work of market fishermen, who set off the blasts at night and are able to gather only a small per cent of the slain fish.

Game wardens have been watching the stream, but on account of the great stretch of river to be covered have been unable to catch the perpetrators of the outrages.

Below Gold Ray, the fish assassins the work is done at the various pools, the old Hardy dam. Above the dam the work is done at the various pools. The dead fish line the banks of the Rogue for miles and the stench is becoming fierce. The upper end of the lake above the dam is thick with dead fish.

Not only salmon are being slain, but steel head, cut throat and other trout. Examination of the carcasses show that the bladders have been burst and the roe is bloodshot in the females. In some cases, where the fish was near the explosion, the bones have been separated.

As the salmon are just beginning to spawn, there should be no dead fish in the stream. All those therein have been illegally killed. Earlier in the season, the poachers operated above Grants Pass only, but their operations now extend for sixty miles along the stream.

Salmon now being taken in the Rogue now are not fit to eat. They are spawning or about to spawn. They have been in fresh water so long that all the oil and fat that makes the flavor of the salmon delicious when they first leave salt water, has been absorbed.

The local sportsmen, who have spent time and money in closing the river, and in restocking the stream are greatly excited over this wanton destruction of all fish in the stream and will actively aid in the prosecution of all violators.

STEAMERS MUST ADD LIFE BOATS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Circulars notifying District Inspectors of the new law approved by Secretary Charles J. Nagle of the department of commerce and labor, relating to the life-saving equipment on passenger steamers are being sent out today by the federal steamboat inspection service here.

The old law requiring sufficient lifeboats to be carried to accommodate everyone on board.

RENO CHEERS TEDDY'S TALK ON IRRIGATION

Roosevelt Asserts That Credit for Reclamation Act and Pure Food Law Is Due Solely to Him—He Made Them Administration Policies

Divorcees Turn Out to Hear Bull Moose, Who Promises to Help the Farmer

RENO, Nev., Sept. 14.—Introduced as the greatest force for humanity in the world, Colonel Roosevelt here at Powning Park today struck at those whom he said were wrongly claiming credit for the irrigation and pure food laws.

"When I became president," he said, "I found much sentiment within and without congress for a reclamation act and pure food law. There was not a chance of passing either until I took hold of them as president. There had been valiant work done for both, but there wasn't a chance of passing them until I came in and made them administration measures.

Fathered Reclamation
"I had lived in this country and knew its needs. It was about time the country had a president who knew the difference between a dry farm and an irrigation ditch and to whom the word 'alfalfa' didn't have a mystical sound.

"One of the measures enacted during the time I was president of which I am most proud is the reclamation act. Only about two per cent of the settlers who took advantage of that law failed, a smaller percentage of failures than in any other business. We progressives intend to go forward, to increase the reclamation projects just as we propose on the gulf and the Mississippi river to drain swamp lands."

Continuing Roosevelt outlined the progressive policy of developing the land for the actual settler, the homemaker who himself tills his own soil.

Divorcees Turn Out
"We want to change conditions so that he shall leave his farm to the children that follow him in better condition than when he took it," the colonel declared. "We wish to put every resource at the disposal of the people that they may use them and leave them in better condition to the generation that follows. We want to conserve by use."
The bull moose got an enthusiastic reception here, plain residents and mere divorcees blocking the street and crowding the space in Powning Park.

MIKADO'S BODY BURIED AT KIATO

KIOTO, Japan, Sept. 14.—Arriving by special train from Tokyo, where public funeral services in his honor were concluded early today, the body of the late Emperor Mutsuhito of Japan reached here this evening for interment on Momoyama hill, in this, the ancient capital of Nippon.

With a strong body of the Imperial Guard waiting to receive it, the royal funeral train reached Kioto at 6 p. m., and with no delay at the depot the burial cortege was immediately formed. Thousands accompanied the coffin to its last resting place and hundreds of thousands of the emperor's late subjects lined the dusky avenues in dead silence as the cortege passed.

The ancient custom of four specially chosen oxen drawing the casket of the dead ruler, which was observed in Tokyo at the public funeral ceremonies, was dispensed with here and instead fifty Hase villagers bore the body on their shoulders during the march of nearly an hour to its

STATELY FUNERAL PLANNED FOR NOGI; SUICIDES FEARED

TOKIO, Sept. 14.—Grief stricken from the death of Emperor Mutsuhito whose body this evening was consigned to the tomb of Momoyama near Kioto, Japan's capital city today is already preparing funeral rites scarcely less impressive than those of royalty for General Count Mareuki Nogi, the hero of Port Arthur who, with his wife committed harakiri just as the body of the Mikado was borne from the palace on its journey to Kioto.

Tokio was hardly surprised that Count Nogi, descendant of the first Samurai family of old Japan, should be ready to die according to ancient custom to serve his master in the realm of shades, but it is declared to be without precedent that his wife should have shared his sacrifice. And as a result of double tragedy it is feared that when the couple are

HELEN TAFT JILTS EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR LAKE EXCURSION

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 14.—Traveling just behind his official resignation, Captain L. L. Johnson, U. S. A., who was military aide to President Taft before he was sent to the Philippines for duty, is en route today to Washington. His resignation is to become effective October 20.

Army officers here say that Miss Helen Taft supplied the motive for Johnson's resignation. During the two years that Captain Johnson was stationed at the white house he is said to have been attentive to the president's daughter. They were constantly together at many state and social functions, and it was predicted by close friends that there would be another wedding at the white house. The report of the engagement was published but it was denied the following day by President and Mrs. Taft.

The order detaching Captain Johnson from his white house station followed immediately after, and he went to the Philippines to join his regiment, the Sixth Infantry.

Captain Johnson is wealthy, is 31 years of age and a graduate of West Point.

AMERICANS TO TAKE HAND IN MEXICAN WAR

Troops Permitted to Cross Border and Fight if Rebel Bullets Fall on American Soil—General Steever Asks Permission to Pursue

General Huerta is Believed to Be Traitor to Madero and About to Join Orozco

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—American troops will be permitted to cross into Mexico and take a hand in fighting there if rebels bullets fall on American soil again, according to announcement made here today a state department official. This agreement between the two countries was made, it was said, after the American government permitted President Madero to send 1200 troops over United States territory in pursuit of rebels.

Steever Wants to Fight
WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—Permission to cross the border and drive the Mexican rebels from close proximity to American soil was asked by General E. Z. Steever, commanding the United States in Texas, in a telegram received from El Paso today by General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army. Steever is incensed over the depredations of Mexican rebels.

President Madero, it was reported, is considering declaring martial law in Northern Mexico, to become effective Monday.

Huerta a Betrayer?

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 14.—Reports that General Huerta, commanding the federal forces in Northern Mexico, is soon to join Orozco's rebellion against President Madero were given some credence here today because of the apathy of the government army in its stand against the rebels in Sonora and Chihuahua. With his troops well armed, well fed and well clothed, General Huerta is doing practically nothing to offset the rebel activities in these states, it is said, while he could, if he desired, crush the rebellion so far as these two states are concerned within two weeks.

The consolidation of the two forces, according to reports here, is to take place soon. General Huerta, it is said, will head the rebellion, with Orozco second in command. Huerta has sent official denial of the report to President Madero, but close friends and advisers of the president admit that he is greatly worried over the situation.
