

BRITISH ARMY PLAY WAR GAME

CAMBRIDGE, England, Sept. 16.—The British "grand maneuvers" began today when, under the eyes of King George, 60,000 troops, horse, foot and guns, with thirty aeroplanes and two dirigibles, endeavored to decide the probable fortunes and fate of a hostile army advancing on London.

The maneuver ground comprises the counties of Norfolk, Suffolk and Cambridge and parts of Essex, Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire and Huntingdonshire, or as the whole district is called, East Anglia. Not since the days when Oliver Cromwell led his Ironsides against the royal forces has East Anglia witnessed such a gathering of troops, and the country with its high bridges, broad dykes, innumerable streams, narrow and frequently impassable roads and other intersections, should prove an admirable ground for guerilla warfare.

King to Watch

Although he will motor to the maneuver ground every day, King George is not going to try and emulate his warlike cousin, the German kaiser, and umpire or command the troops. He is leaving it entirely to the generals and will be merely a spectator. Accompanied by the army headquarters staff, under the command of Sir John D. French, chief of the imperial general staff, King George has taken up quarters at Trinity College at Cambridge. Premier Asquith, War Minister Colonel J. E. B. Seely and other ministers, with the foreign military attaches, are also here. Mayor George Squier, military attache to the London embassy, represents the United States.

The most important phase of the maneuvers will be the aerial scouting for England has never had so many air craft engaged before. Important results are expected from the employment of large numbers of automobile and motorcycle scouts, and from the extensive use of wireless telegraphy.

Compensation for industrial accidents is gradually becoming an established fact in the United States, as it has been for years in some of the European countries. Thirteen states in the country now have compensation laws, all of them enacted within the last three years.

"UNCLE BOB" COOK SOON TO RETIRE

"Uncle Bob" Cook oldest postmaster in Oregon and hearty as a pine tree, has notified the department at Washington of his desire to leave the service, and devote the remainder of his youth to the joys of a carefree existence in the country of his earlier choice—sunny, southern Oregon. Although he has not yet received his release, the establishment of the rural free delivery service to Foothills creek on November 1st will abolish the little inland office of Draper, where Uncle Bob has sorted mail since '86, and the usual departmental red tape of appointing a successor will be dispensed with.

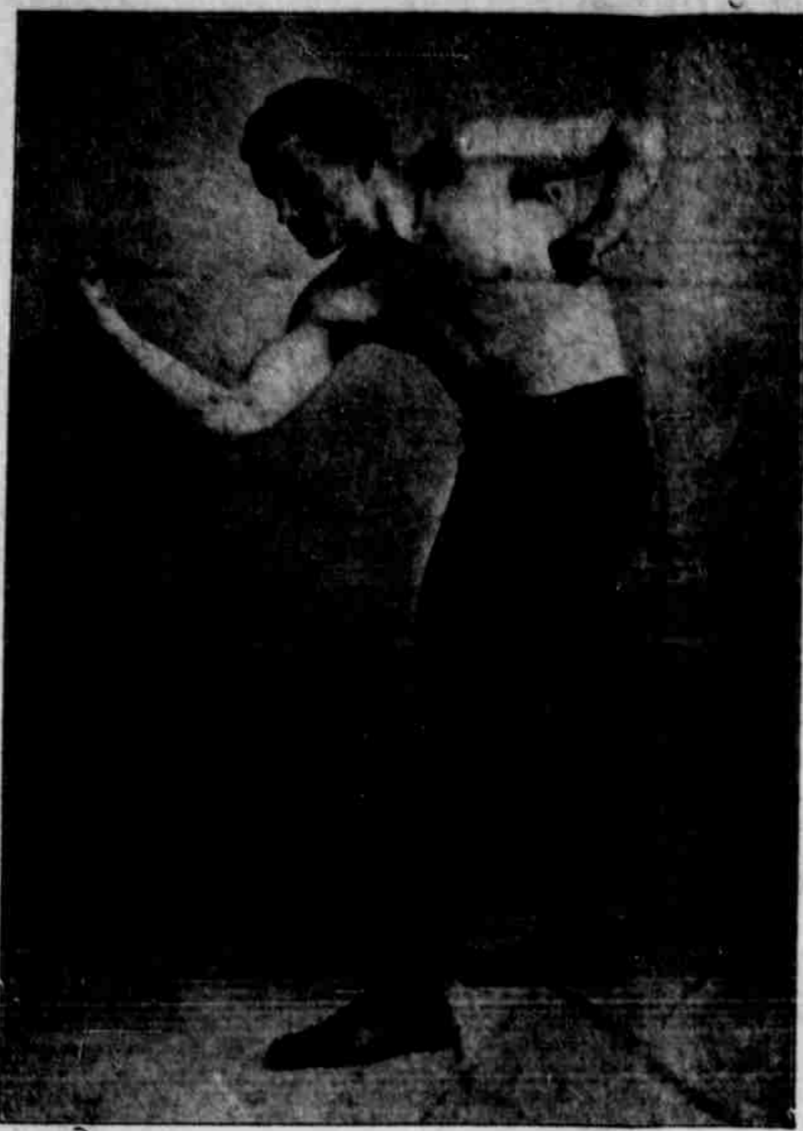

The mere fact that Uncle Bob has served as Draper's postal factotum for twenty-six years might well establish his claims to the fraternity of old pioneers, did not his right to this distinction bear a still more ancient date. A native son of Tennessee, he formed one of that advance guard of hardy heroes who crossed the great plains long before the first steel was laid—making the journey by plodding progress of an ox team and arriving in Salt Lake City on August 12th, 1854. In 1859 the young pioneer came to this section, and established himself upon a ranch at Draper in 1865, where he has since continuously resided. Under Silas Draper, whom the oldest of old timers will remember, he served as postmaster of Draper from '84 to '86, receiving the appointment himself in the latter year.

JOHN L. IS TO STUMP FOR TEDDY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Sept. 16.—So enthusiastic is John L. Sullivan, one time heavyweight champion of the world, but now a country gentleman, over the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt for president that he is to take the stump for the bull moose, according to a message received here today by Matthew Hale, leader of the progressive movement in Massachusetts.

"Teddy will win hands down," said Sullivan, "because he's got the goods with him and does not hand out a lot of bunk and bluff."

TEDDY GETS HIS FOUR SOX BACK

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Sept. 16.—Colonel Roosevelt's two missing pairs of socks, whose loss at Portland, caused a flurry in the private car, were safely welcomed back into the Rooseveltian wardrobe here today. The colonel is "traveling light" on his campaign tour—one big black leather and two suitcases constituting his entire supply of baggage—and two pairs of socks loomed large in the clothes list. As illustrating the Rooseveltian simplicity of the colonel's wardrobe, the progressive candidate has just one suit of every day clothes along with him. Crinkled and creased they are, but the colonel doesn't care, and refuses to go to bed while they are pressed.

A day of "rest" in San Francisco put the colonel in fine fettle today, although his voice was a trifle husky. He felt so "bully" that he disregarded his rule of refusing to make short end of the train speeches and pounded away on his creed of progressivism and social and industrial justice, with occasional digressions to compliment his runningmate, Governor Johnson, or to discuss irrigation.

HAYWOOD AGAIN TO FACE TRIAL

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—Accused of conspiracy in connection with the Lawrence textile strike, William D. Haywood of Denver, general organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World who was arrested and later released on $1,000 bonds, is on his way to Lawrence today to answer the charges against him.

Just before his arrest Haywood was addressing a crowd of 15,000 persons on Boston Common at a protest meeting against the imprisonment of Joseph Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, held for the alleged murder of Anna Lopizza, at Lawrence during the strike.

"We will open the jail doors or

REBELS SEIZE A RICH PRIZE

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Sept. 16.—The wealthy mining camp of El Tigre, Sonora, is in the hands of General Salazar's rebels today following a brisk fight lasting four hours.

The rebels have looted stores of $10,000 worth of supplies, according to reports here. The capture of the town followed several ineffectual attacks during the last three days.

Federal reinforcements were close to the town ten hours before it fell, but made no move to relieve the garrison.

"close the mill gates," said Haywood, who urged a nation-wide strike. "If you leave your benches tomorrow or you will make no mistake."

S.S.S. CURES ECZEMA, ACNE, TETTER ETC.

While Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, etc., are troubles which affect the skin, their source is far deeper than the outside cuticle. These affections are caused by irritating humors, or uratic acid in the blood. Such impurities inflame and irritate the delicate network of fibrous tissue which lies just beneath the surface of the outer skin, and the inflammatory discharge thus produced is forced out through the pores and glands, and is continually kept up while the blood remains infected. This exudation causes the formation of scales and crusts so often seen in Eczema, and when they are scratched off the flesh is left raw and more susceptible to other infection. It can very readily be seen then that to produce a cure the circulation must be purified and cleansed. This S. S. S. will do. It goes down to the very bottom, removes all humors and impurities, neutralizes the excessive acids of the system and in this way removes the cause of disease. Local applications can only soothe the irritation and assist in keeping the skin clean; they never produce a cure because such treatment does not reach the blood. S. S. S. restores to the thin, acid blood all its lost properties, makes it pure and rich and enables it to nourish the skin and keep it soft, smooth and healthy. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.

Fall Opening

A pretty souvenir for you. Every visitor to our opening this week will receive a souvenir that will be so highly prized as to cause each recipient to form a resolution never to part with so unique a remembrance. This novelty is as useful as it is pretty, as necessary as it is artistic. Indeed it is a debatable question as to which of the two sexes will appreciate it the more. Men will be as prone to admire it and as likely to become susceptible to its wiles as women, so we make no distinction, no heartburnings, but will present this dainty token of our regard to all who visit our Cloak Department.

Can you guess what it is?
