

WEED WINS BALL GAME; SCORE 9-6

For three innings Sunday Wheeler Osborne, Grants Pass star twirler held the local aggregation helpless before his array of curves, speed balls and floaters, striking out eight men and allowing only Shorty Miles to bump it gently, only to be thrown out at first. Then Wheeler slowed up a trifle and a bunch of fielding errors let Medford annex five runs. Then he steadied and won the game 9 to 6, letting one additional run at the tailend of the ninth.

On the Medford side of the fence it was different. Burgess did not steady until after the second inning and then a few choice errors allowed Weed to put nine runs around the paths. Weed won the game on merit—the merit chiefly lying in the ability of Osborne.

The crowd was not as large as was expected, due to the fact that the game was called at 1:15 p. m. which is too early for a Sunday crowd.

Medford three runs behind filled the bases in the last of the ninth with Baker up. But the expected home run clout did not come.
