This was a large yearly increase of taxes during your term. What did you do with this large sum of money? It certainly was not spent on roads or bridges. Where was it spent?

Do you remember the one great act of your administration,-the only time that you tried to originate anything? That was your miscalled "equalization" of assessments, whe made the man who owned a $100.00 horse pay taxes on a $166.00 horse; you made the poor widow who owned a $50.00 cow, pay taxes on an $83.00 cow, and so on through the whole list of personal property. This so-called "equalization" was the only original act of your four year term as judge. It was so flagrantly unjust and so foolishly silly that it was the chief cause of your defeat for a second term, for it could not be defended, and no one tried to defend it.

You ask me why I supported you four years ago? Here then is the true and eandid reason, Mr. Dunn. You and I were then associated to gether in business. For the business sake and credit, I upheld your administration as judge for I did not want the public to regard you as an official failure, for that would have been an admission that you were no necount in the business. And for the business' eredit, more than yours, I supported you and helped you to gave you a small majority in that campaign. Are you now reviling me for that act, Mr. Dunn? How many precincts do you expect to earry in Medford this year, Mr. Dunn? The Medford taxpayer who regards his own and the city's interest can find To the Editor: no good reason for supporting you

JOYS VERSUS GLOOMS.

6T T is for those who ally themselves with the future that ■ victory is assured. The past has no prospects.'

It is because the Mail Tribune has allied itself with the future, that it has fought and is fighting its battles for progress.

It is because we believe in the future of Medford and of lackson county that we hope for the election of Frank L. Tou Velle as county judge to guide the county's destinies Dunn club of Ashland have been camduring the next four years.

It is because the past has no prospects and that George W. Dunn represents the past and the days that are dead, interests of Dunn during the present that we hope for his defeat.

The coming four years should be the most important of all in the material development and expansion of Jackson county. To make them so we should have an executive who really believes in progressive policies—not one who guardedly and perfunctorily declares himself progressive for campaign effect.

Col. Tou Velle possesses unusual qualifications for the office. He graduated from the Cincinnati College of Law when President Taft was its dean and Governor Harmon the campaign. as lecturer in it. He served two times as county treasurer of Mercer county, Ohio. For seven years he was cashier of the Bank of Celina, O. The joys are for Tou Velle-the glooms for Dunn.

FROM JOURNALISM TO POLITICS.

NO great issues are involved in the contest for representative from Jackson county. No vital principle is at stake-hence it becomes a mere question of personality All candidates are well known and it is up to the voters to

As one of the candidates is a former newspaper man, journalistic courtesy requires a brief mention of J. F. Barkdull, familiarly known as "Mose", formerly with this paper. Most newspaper men are good hustlers and Mr. Barkdull has proved no exception to the rule, for since leaving the newspaper, he has sold nearly a million dollars worth of Jackson county realty, and in turn invested his commissions here.

If elected to the legislature, there is every reason to has not received much attention from believe that Mr. Barkdull will hustle just as hard for his the public nothwithstanding that it constituents as he did in getting news and ads for the old is one of the most important in the in the Justice Court of this district Medford Mail and as he has since in inducing people to state.
