

GOOD PRICE FOR COMICE LONDON

The Producers Fruit company has just been advised of the sale of a car of Comice pears from the Hill orchard at London which netted $1.83 a half box at New York. The sale is considered exceptionally good.

Cupid's Sworn Foe Now

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 5.—Linda Gertrude Joselyn, twenty-eight, twice a bride, is still unmarried, and she said she would never again wed.

Three years ago Miss Joselyn married. She found out the man was already married, and he was sent to the House of Correction for two and one-half years.

On April 20, 1912, Miss Joselyn tried marriage again, this time with George H. Haverstock. Haverstock pleaded guilty to having a wife living when he married Miss Joselyn.

Tarantulas Cause Panic

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Tarantulas, hundreds of them, drove forty workmen from a steamship they were dismantling and breaking up, and caused a call for the fumigating ship Bratton, the government vessel which has been sent here to rid incoming steamships of bubonic rats. The Bratton poured the gases into the hold of the tarantula-laden steamship for three days, when workmen in diving suits boarded the steamship to face the army of dead or alive tarantulas.

Berger's re-election Certain

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 5.—With fine weather here today, a record vote is expected. The effect of Senator La Follette's denunciation of Roosevelt and his mild endorsement of Wilson is problematical.

The re-election of Victor L. Berger, socialist congressman is assured.

REAR ADMIRAL WARD IS MR. KNOX'S AID

REAR ADMIRAL AARON WARD

Rear Admiral Aaron Ward, on duty with the General Board in Washington, and recently in command of the first division of the Atlantic fleet, has been selected as naval aid to Mr. Knox, the Secretary of State, on his mission to Japan to act as special and personal representative of President Taft at the funeral of the late Japanese Emperor, on September 12.

Rear Admiral Sidney A. Stanton, retired, who was first selected, found it necessary to decline because of an injury to his knee.

Ears First to Fail at 101

FRANKFURT, Ind., Nov. 5.—David Fisher, aged one hundred and one years and seven months, is the most remarkable man in the country and probably there is no other man in the state of his age that is so active and requires so little attention from others.

Fisher shaves himself two or three times a week, using the old-fashioned razor, and his hand is as steady as that of a man of fifty. He also dresses himself.

Fisher is able to walk anywhere about the house and can climb the stairs. He has a good appetite, enjoys the best of health and the only faculty that is impaired is his hearing.

Big Spender "Comes Back"

TULSA, Ok., Nov. 5.—William H. Roeser, the "coal oil Johnny" of Oklahoma, who made a million in oil in Oklahoma, and spent it in less than four years, is said to have "come back."

Associated with producers in Independence, Kan., he is said to have made a big strike in the Cleveland field. His first well is said to be a 1,000-barrel producer.

Roeser and his associates are said to have a large area of promising looking acreage.

Roeser's spectacular career, until he went broke two years ago, attracted attention in many states.

Ape is 220,000 Years Old

PARIS, Nov. 5.—M. Dhervent, a French scientist residing at Bethune, has presented to the Congress of Prehistoric Anthropology and Archeology six pieces of sculptured silex dating from the Chellian period.

It is suggested that they were sculptured no fewer than 200,000 or 220,000 years ago by our prehistoric ancestors who dwelt in caverns.

One of these crude works of art represents a simian head, possibly a gorilla, and others represent heads of birds.

Invents Chameleon Dyes

PARIS, Nov. 5.—All concerned in the question of women's dress are greatly interested by the report that has just come from Italy that a well-known chemist, Dr. Ciamician, had discovered an extraordinary series of dyes for fabrics which change color every hour.

A costume treated with one of these dyes is, for instance, gray in the morning light, but becomes a rich red at noon. At dusk the dress turns dark green, and by artificial light it appears a delicate mauve.

Specimens of the new chameleon fabrics are eagerly awaited here.

Makes Artificial Meat

PARIS, Nov. 5.—As a remedy for the world-wide increase in the cost of living, a Belgian chemist, M. Effront, suggests the consumption of artificial foods.

M. Effront asserts that he has synthetically produced viands, closely resembling butcher's meat in taste, but of greater nutritive value. M. Effront's method is to take such industrial residue as malt grains and to extract therefrom the albumen. The malt grains, after being washed, pressed and treated with sulphuric acid and then lime, give a pasty substance, tasting like meat, but with three times as much nourishment.

Several doctors at Brussels have experimented on man with this artificial meat with satisfactory results. M. Effront has also prepared another food from the hay of Lucerne and clover and other fodder, the nutritive quality of which has passed the tests.

Cement Ties Up Railroad

SANDUSKY, Ohio, Nov. 5.—Twelve cars loaded with coal and cement were piled up on the Lake Shore electric crossing, near Milan, when the rails spread under a Wheeling & Lake Erie freight train. Rain was coming down in torrents. It mixed the cement, which was strewn over much of the coal, and the mortar hardened into a solid mass.

New Jersey Bear Scare

BRANCHVILLE, N. J., Nov. 5.—The first wild black bear seen here in many years is now making itself comfortable among the Wallpack township farms. The women are exceedingly timid since the news got around and the men don't like the idea of going on lonely trips at night.

"Be a Good Loser; I Win"

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 5.—When Richard Norman of Des Moines, Iowa, formerly a resident of Kansas City, read in a Kansas City paper that John McCandles, his former partner, had taken out a license to marry Miss Ethel Anderson, who had been the stenographer of the firm of Norman & McCandles, he took a train for Kansas City.

Norman and McCandles had both fallen in love with Miss Anderson. She seemed to favor McCandles and Norman went away.

When Norman read of the marriage license the old saying about the faint heart and the fair lady occurred to him. Arriving in Kansas

City he went immediately to the home of Miss Anderson. Meantime, McCandles, who lives in Kansas City, Mo., was preparing for his marriage. He and his mother were getting his thing ready to be packed when a messenger came with a telegram: "Be a good loser, Mac. All's fair in love and war. I have married Ethel."

The telegram came from Leavenworth, where it had been sent from the train in which Norman and the former Miss Anderson were traveling to their future home in Des Moines.

Pastor Sues a Brewer

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—Charging that John Conrad, a wealthy brewer, made love to his wife, the Rev. H. W. Edwards, who is in charge of a large orphanage here, entered suit against the brewer for $15,000 damages for alienation of his wife's affections.

A capias was issued for Conrad's arrest and he was required to put up a bond of $500.

If Business Is Dull ADVERTISE And Make It Better

Advertising is the foundation stone of the modern successful store. It has created the Wannamakers, the Marshall Fields and all the other retail merchant princes of our era.

You will notice that the big city merchant keeps at it every day in the year—that is the reason of his success.

He has something to sell—some store news worth imparting to the public, some bargain to offer or some one thing to interest and attract purchasers.

He makes his name a topic of household conversation. His store news is read as eagerly as any other news. His store is thronged with buyers all seasons.

He does it by advertising—not once a week or twice a week but every day.
