JOLTS AND JINGLES

By Ad Brown

There is little doubt about the fact that this column carried the county for Wilson.

Which is the more admirable a good loser or those who rub it in?

Someone says Singler's name should be plural.

Hush, little suffragette, Don't you cry; They'll get 'em counted By and by.

So far no Jackson county man has asked for a place on Wilson's cabinet.

Once again—Kelly lost, like Kelly did.

While you are congratulating winners why overlook Shorty Garnett who made an interesting statement regarding county warrants.

Suggestion to fair management: why not pull off a race between Kelly, Singler and Clarence Reames at the next fair?

WILSON'S OPPORTUNITY.

WILSON'S election was as nearly unanimous as possible to have it—a result that never was in doubt since the republican party split into two factions and the democrats named a true progressive.

Woodrow Wilson should make an ideal president. No man in many years has been so well fitted by education, training, experience and temperament for the position. It is probable that his administration will be one of such material progress and wisdom that opposition will be kept scattered and ineffective. At least he has such opportunity.

Woodrow Wilson as a believer in fundamental democracy, will be the people's spokesman at Washington as he was at Trenton. The democratic party will probably, under his leadership, appropriate the meritorious humanitarian planks of the progressive and socialist platforms and enact such legislation as the welfare of the nation demands.

Readjustment and revision downward of the tariff, criminal prosecution for trust magnates, restoration of natural competition and destruction of artificial monopoly are among the measures the democratic party is pledged to enact—and failure to fulfill promises to the people will destroy the party as it has the republican party.

For the first time in his career, that child of fortune, Theodore Roosevelt has met adversity. Sweet are its uses, and it should ripen Roosevelt's character as it has Bryan's, submerge the egotism and make him a prophet of altruism and educator of the masses rather than a mere office seeker.

The socialist party shows a healthy growth and occupies a useful place. Its propaganda makes people think and acts as a leavening power in the politics of the nation. When the ideas it promulgates get sufficient popularity, they are appropriated by the parties in power and enacted into law, thus achieving by evolution what is impossible to accomplish by revolution among a people naturally conservative.

THE SENATORIAL ELECTION.

THE defeat of Ben Selling for United States senator was a consummation devoutly to be wished. Harry Lane is a true friend of the people and will always be found championing their cause. With democrats in complete control of the national administration, and with two democratic senators, Oregon will not suffer in the senate—though badly handicapped in the house.

The defeat of Jonathan Bourne, Jr., is greatly to be regretted, as he was one of the most useful senators for the nation as well as for Oregon. He has left his mark in the parcels post bill and other legislation. His defeat at the primaries by the republican party was a great mistake. It cost the party a senatorship. It was due to his own absence from the state at a time when his enemies had combined to slaughter him. Selling was nominated to kill Bourne and to kill off Selling also—a double murder, as the result plainly showed. Had Bourne not run as an independent, Selling's defeat would have been overwhelming.

Bourne proved a true friend to southern Oregon at a time when friendship was badly needed. It would have been rank ingratitude not to have shown appreciation of his efforts. Because he had made good, the Mail Tribune supported him.

It is evident that the people of the state as a whole regarded his candidacy as a menace to the spirit of the direct primary and for this reason he met defeat.

SPECIAL SUNDAY SERVICE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A sermon to the young people by the pastor. This sermon is one of the illustrated sermons, and the Sunday school and the congregation will help in its development. It will be interesting to you. The music for the morning will be as follows: The orchestra and chorus with the regular hymns: quartette, Sanctus by Gounod, the singers are Mr. and Mrs. George Andrews, and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gore, with Miss Flora Gray at the organ; violin solo, "Notturmo" by Mendelssohn, and played by Mr. C. W. James; soprano solo, "Come Unto Me" by Coenen, and sung by Mrs. George Andrews.

Evangelistic Meetings.

A series of evangelistic meetings will be held in the building on Main street recently occupied by Snyder's fountain beginning Sunday evening, Nov. 10 at 7:30 p. m. Subjects of interest to all will be considered each evening. Events that are now agitating the public will be discussed from a Bible standpoint.

The Bible is the most wonderful book in the world and it teaches that we are living in the most wonderful period of the world's history.

Considerable time will be spent in the study of Prophecy. Prophecy is simply history written in advance and is God's method of revealing to us the present and future.

It is interesting to know what will be the outcome of the struggle between capital and labor.

What means the unrest in society, the vast preparations for war, the Hague Peace Tribunal, the unsettled condition of the nations, the Turkish war, etc.?

The Bible answers.

The first three subjects are: Sunday, "Court Week in Heaven." Monday, "A Prophetic Picture of the World's History." Tuesday, "Bible cartoons of the World's Four Universal Empires."

A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

UNCLE JOE CUSSES WHEN TOLD OF DEFEAT

DANVILLE, Ill., Nov. 8.—"Damn" was the only comment offered by "Uncle Joe" Cannon here today when advised that his political managers had abandoned hope for his re-election to congress. Official figures from the eighteenth district give O'Hair, democrat, a plurality of 875 over the former speaker.

Although Cannon refused to comment on his defeat, close friends say he is very much broken up.
