

I Should Worry

By Winsor McCay

SOME DEFINITIONS FOR MEDFORD FANS

Abe Kemp, sporting editor of the San Francisco Bulletin rises to make the following remarks about the recent fistie frame-up spoiled by Mr. Bud Anderson of boxing fame:

Boxing for beginners: A boxer—conversationalist; fight—physical encounter (obsolete); manager—one who lives without work; promoter—same as above; lightweight—a boxer who once weighed 133 pounds; myopic astigmatism—a disease which attacks most boxers, wrestlers and professional footballers.

(Lecture period): Myopia, a nice word, but apparently too deep for the flat-skulls. Translated, it signifies nearsightedness. The boxing fans of Medford can give expert testimony on the most recent myopic jar. Fortunately, in that case, the three-shell game was thwarted by the natural ability of Bud Anderson, Vancouver boxer, who was to have been trimmed by "Freddie Corbett," a San Francisco unknown. Anderson beat his opponent.

Corbett, it develops, was George Mensie, lightweight, who once fought Joe Gans for 20 rounds, and who was expected to clean up Anderson and a lot of easy Medford fruit centimes. Corbett was hooked in from San Francisco as a dark horse, and naturally Anderson money went begging at 2 to 1 with two mysterious strangers snapping up all the kale-in sight.

Had Mensie defeated Anderson in the attempted frame-up, boxing would have been as dead as an epitaph in Medford. That's why I say boxers are the greatest knockers of the boxing game in existence. Furthermore, the mayor of Medford should immediately conscript a lunacy commission and examine Promoter Frankie Edwards as to sanity. A fight promoter who would let a squad of "strong arms" put that over on him should be consigned to a straight jacket or shoved out to pasture tagged with an Oregon boot.

Unscrupulous boxers and promoters who try to "put one over on the public" at every twist of the turnpike, sometimes get away with it once in a while, but it is usually a matter of only a short while before they get theirs. Fake fighting is now being worked to a queen's taste in France, and it will not be long before that splendid field for the boxer will be in need of fertilization.

Gentlemen, with a few more definitions the beginner's class in boxing will be dismissed:

Draw—a pretext for another purse; foul, an alibi; money, a boxer's religion; loser, a victim of highway robbery; public, a bunch of fall guys.

Frankie Edwards promptly entered a sweeping denial to the above article today. "I have nothing to explain," he declared. "But I would like to have my self appointed critic witness one of our boxing matches. The sport here is cleaner than in any other city in the United States."

YOUTH CONVICTED FOR TARRING GIRL

NORWALK, Ohio, Nov. 18.—Ernest Waeh, the first of the six men indicted for participation in the tarring and feathering of Minnie LeValley at West Clarksfield, August 30, was found guilty here today by a jury on an assault and battery charge.

Fritz Williams is considering going into vaudeville with his wife, Katherine Florence.

COLORADO WOMEN AT PIE COUNTER

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 18.—The women of Colorado are going to get some of the fat jobs under the new administration or know the reason why. They are no longer with the small unimportant positions that have been bestowed upon them for their work in political campaigns. At a meeting of office holders to be held this week the women will utter an ultimatum to Governor-Elect Ammons. Not only that but they are also going after the national administration. They want some nice state jobs, but they also want at least one of the state's big federal jobs. Several women have thrown their bonnets into the ring already for these places, particularly Honorable Alma Lafferty, member of the present legislature, who wants to be United States consul to somewhere, while Mrs. Mary Dargin wants to be in charge of the United States land office in Colorado. The women assert that it was really their votes that put Colorado in the Wilson column and that they propose to get at least some of the fat fruits of the victory.
