VIRGINIA WELCOMES WILSON BACK TO BOYHOOD HOME

STAUNTON, Va., Dec. 28.—Virginia welcomed home tonight Woodrow Wilson, the eighth of her native sons to be chosen president of the United States. From the moment the president-elect crossed the state line to Alexandria in the afternoon after he had a ten-minute glimpse at the national capitol until 9 o'clock, when he reached the little parsonage where he was born just 56 years ago tomorrow, the reception was one of enthusiasm, noise and spectacular display.

Escorted by cavalry and militia companies and a torchlight procession, the governor and Mrs. Wilson motored through the streets of Staunton to the home of Dr. Frazer, pastor of the Presbyterian church. In this home Rev. Joseph H. Wilson, father of the president-elect, lived in 1856.

SHIPS ASHORE AND AFIRE OFF STORMY COAST OF ATLANTIC

WILMINGTON, Del., Dec. 28.—Lifesaving crews were called out last night when an unidentified four-masted schooner went ashore in the Fryling Pan shoals during a heavy gale today. A Wilmington coaster and Pilot Penton were unable to reach the schooner because of the intensity of the storm. Wire reports from Beaufort, N. C., are that the cutter Seminole has gone to the rescue. Indications tonight were that the crew of the schooner will probably be rescued.

MAY HANG MORGAN AS HIGH AS HAAMAN.

GOVERNOR WILSON at the Southern Society dinner, speaking upon panic threats made against the incoming administration said:

"There are people who are making sinister predictions of the trouble that will await us at Washington. They do not need to worry. At the worst, the trouble will be public trouble and the great jury will know what the evidence is."

This indicates that Wilson intends to follow the policy he followed as governor of New Jersey—of taking the people into partnership by full publicity. If politicians betray him, as they did Cleveland, who they are and what they are trying to do, will be fully explained.

Speaking of the money trust and its power, Wilson said:

"Panic is merely a state of mind. They say machinery is in existence which can create a panic when certain gentlemen desire to predict trouble and then have it. I don't believe there is a man living who would dare use the machinery. If he does I'll hang him as high as Haaman."

The New York World thereupon asks if we have in Wilson a second Andrew Jackson who told the South Carolina "nullifiers":

"If a single drop of blood be shed there in opposition to the laws of the United States, I will hang the first man I can lay my hands on engaged in such treasonable conduct upon the first tree I can reach."

Jackson's fight was with the money power of his day, and he smashed it. Wilson's fight will also be with the money power—and let us hope he shows equal energy and ability in smashing it. An Andrew Jackson is sorely needed.

Despite Morgan's assertion that a money trust is impossible and that such a trust would depend entirely upon personality, we have a money trust to all intents and purposes.

Eighteen financial institutions by means of interlocking directorships, manage 134 corporations with an aggregate capital of $25,325,000,000. J. P. Morgan & company, the Guaranty Trust company, the Bankers' Trust company, the First National Bank and the National City Bank through 341 interlocking directors are allied with corporations having resources of $22,245,000.

The intent of this combination which is dominated by Morgan, is to control credit through control of money, and thus control the commerce and industry of the nation. We have in them a small group of men, responsible to no one but themselves and each other, who dominate the lives of a hundred million people. If this is not a trust, what is a trust? If this is not a menace, what constitutes a menace?

Morgan and his money trust have not hesitated in the past to bring on a panic to still further increase their grip as in 1907. They will not hesitate to do it again, if occasion offers. Mr. Wilson may have occasion to make good his threat and hang Morgan as high as Haaman.

ASSESSORS IN HOT WATER

SOME of Oregon's county assessors are in trouble—and deserve to be.

In the hearing before the federal court in the case brought by the government to forfeit the Oregon and California railroad land grant, many of these assessors testified in behalf of the railroad, claiming that much of the land was worthless or of little value—with less than its assessed valuation. Some of them, when confronted by actual sale prices asserted that the sale price was too high—that the land wasn't worth what it sold for.

The assessors claim that the railroad promised not to use their statements except for the case before the court, evidently figuring on their actions never being made public, and the people remaining in ignorance of the friendship shown for the corporation in its fight against the people.

Whether or not the railroads or its representatives made this promise, assessors are being given an opportunity to explain to the state board of tax commissioners, with whom the railroad has filed the statements made by the assessors in order to secure a reduction in assessed valuations—and some vigorous explanations are being made.

Either these assessors were remiss in duty in assessing these lands in the first place or if their assessments were right, they played false to aid the railroads in their later sworn statements.

The result will be awaited with interest.

QUEBEC PLANNING GREATEST OF DAMS

QUEBEC, Que., Dec. 28.—Hon. S. N. Parent, chairman of the Quebec streams committee, which has been invested with the powers of a corporation to carry out its scheme of constructing a huge storage reservoir on the Upper St. Maurice for regaining the flow of that river for generating electricity, says that the dam will be three times as large as that at Assouan, which is the largest in the world at present.

The latter cost about $12,000,000 but the provincial government proposes to build the one on the St. Maurice for about $1,250,000. The area of the proposed reservoir will be more than three hundred square miles and the amount of water to be stored will be about one hundred and sixty billion cubic feet. It will drain a basin of more than sixteen thousand square miles in area. It is calculated that it will bring in about 100,000 acres under cultivation for the first year alone.

SUBMARINES TRAVEL 800 MILES WITHOUT A STOP

LONDON, Dec. 28.—A remarkable record has been established by French submarines, which despite storms traveled eight hundred miles, submerged all the time, without a single stop. It is considered by the naval authorities in view of this feat that submarines would have the best of torpedo boats, even though heavy seas were running.

ROCKEFELLER ELUDES SUBPOENA SERVERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 28.—Aided by two deputies Sergeant-Al-Arms Riddell of the house of representatives, resumed his search for William H. Rockefeller here today. He searched the Standard Oil building and received information that since the supreme court decision solved the oil trust there were offices of the Standard Oil company in New York, but Rockefeller was not even a director of the company.

WINTER TRADE AT PUBLIC MARKET KEEPING UP WELL

The prediction that the public market would only thrive during the summer months when the gardeners and farmers of the valley would have produce to offer, is proving to be erroneous, the winter trade keeping up in splendid shape. Each market day sees a large offering of meats, vegetables, poultry and products of many kinds, the demand being brisk.

The scene at the public market today was as busy as any seen last summer. A number of ranchers offered meat aside from the regular meat booths, while poultry, eggs, honey, mince meat, fruits and vegetables were offered in quantities.

Summer and winter seems to be about the same at the market which gives assurance of being here to stay.

PEEVISH CHILDREN SUFFER WITH WORMS

Don't be angry with your child because he or she is continually irritable. In ninety-nine out of one hundred cases you will find that the trouble is worms.

Among the common symptoms of the presence of round worms are nervousness, which often leads to epileptic form attacks; dizziness, vertigo, capricious appetite, restless sleep, itching of the eyes and nose, nausea and often hysteria. Round worms are several inches in length and live in the stomach. Occasionally several hundred are found in a single person. Thread worms are smaller, often not longer than a quarter of an inch. The symptoms denoting their presence are about the same, but in this case the child has no appetite.

Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge is unsurpassed in removing worms. Not only will it destroy them, but its tonic effects will restore the stomach to healthy activity. As Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge seldom purges, the indications of its beneficial effects will be the improved condition of the person using it.

Millions of parents have praised this medicine for more than eighty years. Insist upon Jayne's Tonic Vermifuge, and accept no other. Sold by druggists everywhere. Dr. D. Jayne & Son, Philadelphia, Pa.
