COMMITTEE SAYS KIDDLE ELECTED

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 20.—In a one hour session before lunch adjournment today the senate received 18 new bills and heard the majority and minority committee reports on the right of E. E. Kiddle to hold his seat as senator from Union and Wallowa counties. The majority report, signed by Bean and Thompson, declares that Kiddle is entitled to hold his seat. The minority report, by McColloch, favors John S. Hodgins, his contestant, and suggests a complete recount of the votes. The reports were made a special order for this afternoon. Two-thirds of the 150 bills so far introduced in the house are defective because of omissions in the titles, Speaker McArthur told the house today and must be amended by committee. The reason for this, the speaker explained, is that the provision of the state constitution requiring that everything in the bill be included in the title has not been adhered to. Eighteen bills were introduced at the early session of the house.

MILLER WON'T LET ANY PRISONER OUT

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Unless the United States circuit court of appeal overrules District Attorney Miller's objections to the $60,000 bonds furnished by Pacific coast labor unions for the release of E. A. Clancy, convicted with 32 other labor leaders of unlawfully transporting dynamite, the San Francisco man must remain in the government prison at Fort Leavenworth until other sureties are provided.

STEAMER ELDER DISABLED BY STORM AT SEA

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20. Her stern crumpled by a monster wave which flooded her dining room and 30 lower deck staterooms, while she was on her way from Portland, the steamer George W. Elder is today on her way to San Diego, after touching here for repairs.

SECOND TRIAL OF DARROW

(Continued from page 1.) The Lockwood charge, the second indictment would never be pressed. It is admitted by the state that most of the evidence in the Bain case was presented at Darrow's first trial, which resulted in his acquittal on August 17 last. Bribery of Bain District Attorney Fredericks consented to postponements for one cause or another but always adhered to his original statement that he would prosecute Darrow on the second charge. A brief resume of the Bain case follows: Robert F. Bain, an aged Carpenter and grand army veteran, alleged that on Oct. 6, 1911, the day after he (Bain) had been drawn as a juror in the McNamara trial, Bert Franklin, an employ of Clarence Darrow, came to his home and gave Mrs. Bain $500, while he was away, for which he was to hold out for acquittal. Mrs. Bain admitted that she accepted the money and persuaded her husband to agree to the proposal. Mrs. Bain testified at the first trial that Franklin used every persuasion at his command to gain his ends, telling her that the McNamara brothers were being persecuted and that a frame-up was being worked to "railroad them to the penitentiary." Darrow Bankrupted Franklin was the state's star witness in the Lockwood case and corroborated Mrs. Bain's testimony in detail. Darrow's closest friends say that he is practically a nuper as a result of the expense incurred in his first trial. Darrow has held many positions of honor. At one time he was a member of the Illinois legislature and in 1902 he was appointed to represent the anthracite coal miners of that state. A state federation of labor has been formed in New Mexico.

HORSEWOMEN TO JOIN BIG SUFFRAGE PARADE IN WASHINGTON, MARCH 3

MISS KATHERINE ELKINS. A troop of attractive Dianas, horsewomen known for their proficiency in horsemanship, will have a prominent place in the big suffrage parade of March 3 at Washington, D. C. Miss Julia Goldsborough and Miss Mary Morgan, of Washington, both of whom have won blue ribbons in society horse shows, will display their horsemanship on famous mounts, and among the other women who have already promised to ride are Mrs. Glenn Smith Timms and Mrs. Churchill Candee. Recruits to the troop are being daily gathered and it is hoped that this picturesque feature will be augmented by such dashing riders as Miss Janet Allen, Miss Katherine Elkins, Miss Lucille Chertoulet, of Maryland, and many others who have won wide reputations as riders.

MISS ANNA E. STECKEL. Still confined to her bed and under the care of a physician, and suffering from the effects of the shock and injuries as the result of her barrowing experience when an attempt was made to kidnap her, Miss Anna E. Steckel, the Vassar graduate and daughter of Ruben P. Steckel, capitalist, of Allentown, Pa., it is feared, will be unable for some time to appear against Samuel Sinclair, Jr., State highway inspector and onetime Swarthmore College athlete, and his nephew, R. Walter Starr, Jr., who are charged with the abduction.

LITTLE BOB WINS IMMIGRATION BILL OVER PLUTOCRACY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—Shaking his fist under the noses of Senators Henry Cabot Lodge and Kilhu Root whom he said "Gentlemen who defended the plutocracy" Senator Robert M. La Follette forced the senate leaders to drop the attempt to force the passage of what he called the "joker immigration bill" which already has passed the house.

La Follette's attack, which was dramatic in the extreme, followed protests read by Senators O'Gorman and Stone which originated from the Dillingham immigration bill. La Follette, leaping to his feet, with his clenched fists outstretched, forced Root to admit that the operation of this provision would enable Russia to stop the immigration of all political refugees and after a bitter denunciation of the whole plan and its authors, La Follette forced from Lodge a motion to refer the whole bill back to the conference committee. This was adopted.

After his personal denunciation of Lodge and Root, La Follette said: "This clause in the bill was not considered in the house after the conference report. It would shut out every liberty loving man who has settled in my state and laid the foundation for the movement to bring the government back to the people. "Think of the childishness of turning over to Russia the decision on who shall be admitted to America! Russia could tomorrow adopt regulations to take from America men who they fear." La Follette denounced the whole "conference system" of legislation and urged the democrats who are coming into power to change it.

MILLER REJECTS BONDS FOR RYAN

CHICAGO, Jan. 20.—Additional bonds, offered here for F. M. Ryan, president of the International association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, and E. H. Honihan and Wm. Shoppe, serving sentences in Leavenworth prison for illegally transporting dynamite, were turned down as still unsatisfactory here today by United States District Attorney Charles W. Miller. Bonds for W. E. Reddin, W. B. Bert, convicted on similar charges, were also offered to the United States circuit court of appeals, which will decide tomorrow whether Miller's objections to the bonds offered for Ryan and the others are valid. Bonds for Wm. Bernhardt of Cincinnati, are en route here and should arrive late today.

POSTAL ROBBER INDICTED ON FIVE COUNTS FOR CRIMES

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 20.—The United States grand jury today returned an indictment containing five counts, against John Torgerson, who was arrested last week at Roseburg, and later brought to Portland. Four of the counts charge Torgerson with robbing the postoffices at Medford, Gold Hill, Talent, and Rogue River, in Southern Oregon, and the fifth charged the theft of a letter carrier's key at Medford. United States District Attorney McCourt today stated that Torgerson would be turned over to Sheriff Judd W. Boyd of Red Bluff, Cal., to be returned to California to stand trial for the alleged killing of Edward Miller at Vina, Cal., Dec. 4, as soon as Boyd had secured the necessary extradition papers.

SHIP AFIRE AT SEA WHILE HURRICANE RAGES

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 20.—Her hold a mass of flames, while great waves tossed her about as the wind blew 60 miles an hour, and with the two women and 24 passengers assisting the crew in checking the fire, the steamer Carthagenian narrowly escaped destruction while 500 miles east of St. Johns, according to the story told here today by those who passed through the experience. For nine hours the flames had possession of the vessel, and several times Captain McKillop was prompted to order all hands to the lifeboats, only to be held back by the heavy seas. The fire was finally flooded out, and the vessel given assistance by the steamer Numidian and the steamer Uranium, which had hastened to the scene in response to wireless calls of distress.

PLANNING TO ENLARGE BONDED WAREHOUSE

Encouraged by the large amount of prospective business the owners of the Bonded Warehouse are contemplating altering the plans for the structure to make it a two story building instead of one story as originally planned. The warehouse is located near the Medford Grocery company's plant on the S. P. tracks and is being rapidly completed. Storage space will be rented to manufacturing concerns who will sell their goods in this section from Medford, thereby effecting a saving on freight. Already enough business has been lined up to make the venture a success. Paul Wright has been appointed superintendent.

YOUTH KILLED BY FRIEND WHILE EXAMINING PISTOL

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20.—Death by a bullet came to H. A. McCall, Jr., 18 years old, here today, in his father's hardware store when a revolver exploded in the hands of Milton Stanley, 16, while the two boys were examining the weapon. The Stanley lad was held by the police.

FOR SALE—Piano, steel range, small heating stove and iron bedstead. 17 Ross Court.

THAT TIRED FEELING

Suggests Grandmother's Remedy. It's true, the season is here with its sudden changes, and the old idea that we need a blood medicine is not without reason. Too much heavy food has caused a torpid liver, sluggish blood, and a weak, tired out feeling. Sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses was grandmother's remedy but that has long ago been displaced by Vinol, a combination of the two most world famed tonics, namely, the medicinal nutritive elements of the cod's liver without oil, and iron for the blood. Vinol builds you up, makes you eat more and digest better, makes your blood rich and pure—puts healthy color in your cheeks. P. Q. Barker of Bowen's Mill, Ga., says: "When I was badly run down last spring I took Vinol in an effort to regain my health and strength and it did not disappoint me. It made me feel as well as ever." We guarantee Vinol to satisfy you and refund your money if it does not. Medford Pharmacy, Medford, Ore.

BILL TO AID WEST IN ENFORCING LAWS

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 20.—Senator McColloch late today will introduce a bill empowering the governor to appoint special district attorneys, sheriffs and constables for a limited period, not more than ninety days at a time, with the same authority of a regular official. Senator McColloch drew up the measure so that any regularly elected peace officer, who, in the governor's opinion, is derelict in his duties, may be supplanted by one of the governor's choosing.
