

YOUNG TURKS, INFURIATED, BALK AT SURRENDER OF ADRIANOPOLE TO ALLIES

NO IDEMNTY, BUT LAND, FOR BALKAN ALLIES

Will Get Adrianople and Part of Aegean Islands But Not One Penny in Cash Although $200,000,000 Was Mentioned as Sum to Be Demanded

Believe War Will Soon Be Over and That Armies in the Field Will Quietly Disband.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 23.—“We will never surrender Adrianople to the Balkan allies. We do not desire a continuation of the war but we shall save the honor of the Turkish empire or die in the attempt.”

With this declaration here tonight, Shevket Pasha accepted the position of grand vizier of Turkey, following the fall of the government of Kaimal Pasha, who resigned today with his entire cabinet when confronted with revolution if peace were declared with the Balkan people at the cost of Turkish territory.

Kaimal Pasha's resignation as grand vizier followed hard on the heels of word from the Turkish forces at Tebrataja that they had sworn never to surrender Adrianople, and that, unless the powers actively intervene, the revolution means that war will be resumed within a few days at most.

It was semi-officially stated here tonight that Shevket Pasha will immediately establish a military dictatorship to forestall any violence by the Tebrataja troops, who, it is feared, may begin a carnival of blood against all Christians unless the plan to cede Adrianople and Aegean Islands is quickly and finally abandoned.

Most of the Ottoman people regard the peace terms to which Kaimal Pasha's ministry agreed as highly humiliating.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The victorious Balkan allies will get Adrianople and part of the Aegean islands, but not one penny of indemnity.

The Balkan envoys had mentioned $200,000,000 as the amount of indemnity they would expect Turkey to pay but it was learned semi-officially today that the European powers will not allow the Balkan states to enforce this demand.

As soon as Sir Edward Grey is officially notified that the Porte has formally delivered its answer to the note of the powers, he will re-assemble the Balkan and Turkish plenipotentiaries and take steps to close the war. It is expected that the armies in the field will quietly disband.

Dr. Danoff, the Bulgarian chief envoy, would not say this afternoon that the allies would resume the war of the Balkan states were not paid indemnity.

STERILIZATION BILL DEBATED IN HOUSE

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 23.—A debate on the merits of the sterilization for habitual criminals and those morally irresponsible, occupied the house for nearly an hour today. The house sent the bill back for committee revision, some of its points being regarded as too severe.

This was done over the protest of Representative Lewelling, a former guard at the penitentiary.

“I think the bill should pass now, just as it is,” said Lewelling. “From my own experience with criminals I am convinced that criminal instincts cannot be eradicated by environment and we should make it impossible for these men to reproduce descendants who will inherit their qualities.”

KEEP IN TRAINING SO YOUR WIFE CAN'T BEAT YOU. IS COURT'S IDEA

A good course in any well equipped gymnasium ought to help a man protect himself against his wife's heavy hitting average. This is what Justice Edward B. Amend, of New York, intimated when caught between sessions and pressed for a solution to the problem of how a man may secure his life and limb against permanent injury when his wife is bent upon winning the sugging championship of the family.

To be exact, Justice Amend did not advise the gymnastic answer to the problem. He merely said he thought it might be “prudent” to take some such precaution.

Recently a husband who had never laid claim to any physical superiority and who hadn't even a speaking acquaintance with the gentle art of jiu jitsu came with tears in his eyes and begged Justice Amend to issue an injunction restraining his other and stronger half from using violence in her attempts to mould him after her own fancy. Her arguments and suggestions took the form of assault and battery in the highest degree, and friend husband invoked the power of the law to ease the lash of his Mrs. Simon Legree.

FIRST AND SECOND CHOICE BILL IS UP FOR CONSIDERATION

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 23.—A modified first and second choice vote law is today before the house for consideration. The measure was introduced by Representative Lawrence.

The bill makes the second choice vote apply only to the office of United States senator and representatives in congress.

With the first and second choice vote is also a third choice provision, every voter being required to vote for his first, second and third choice.

A candidate receiving a plurality of all three choices would be elected.

WOULD SEGREGATE SEXES SEATTLE HIGH SCHOOLS

SEATTLE, Jan. 23.—Segregation of boys and girls, and the enforcement of uniformly simple dress for girls attending high schools, are the suggestion of former President William Piggot, of the school board, which will be considered by the school board here today.

He also suggests that an hour be added to the school day. All of Piggot's suggestions are opposed by Superintendent of Schools Cooper.

ADMITS ROOSEVELT WAS MISLED WHEN HE HELPED IRON CO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Admission that former President Roosevelt was misled regarding the true condition of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company when he sanctioned its absorption by the United States Steel corporation was made from the witness stand here today by Wm. Ellis Corey, former president of the Steel trust.

Corey was a witness in the government's suit here to dissolve the corporation. “Col. Roosevelt was told,” Corey testified, “that the stock of the Tennessee company was worthless. As a matter of fact, it was the largest manufacturer of open hearth steel rails in the country and a strong competitor of the Steel corporation's subsidiaries.”

Corey admitted that the purchase was urged at a meeting of directors of the Carnegie Steel company in 1907. “The trust,” he said, “has an agreement with foreign companies regarding the selling price of steel rails.” He would not deny that rails made in this country are sold cheaper abroad than here.

When examined yesterday by Reference Baker, who is taking evidence for the government, Col. Roosevelt reaffirmed his declaration made before the Stanley investigators, “that he agreed to the merger because he believed it necessary to prevent widespread disaster to the people of the nation.”

MR. AND MRS. SHEPARD HAVE QUIET HONEYMOON

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Friends and relatives today report that Finley J. Shepard and his bride, formerly Miss Helen M. Gould, are spending their honeymoon on the Gould turreted castle heights bordering the Hudson river near Tarrytown. All the gates to the mansion are guarded by private detectives, and all outsiders are barred.

WE'LL STICK FOR RUNYARD SAY CITY DADS

Councilmen Who Refused to Confirm Appointment of L. Damon as Market Master Voice High Regard for Him But See No Need of Change.

Declare Present Market Master Has Made Market a Success and Should Be Kept in That Position.

That E. J. Runyard will remain in charge of the Medford public market for the present time at least is shown today by statements of members of the city council who blocked Mayor Eifer's attempt to remove him Tuesday evening. Councilmen Millar, Summerville, Campbell and Stewart are standing pat and announce that they will not vote to confirm a successor.

“We are not playing politics and we do not desire to throw any hindrance in the path of Mayor Eifer,” stated W. M. Campbell today. “but we can see no valid reasons for a change. Mr. Runyard has made the market the success that it is, and for that reason we shall vote to keep him in.” The other members of the council voiced practically the same sentiments.

A high tribute was paid to the personality and standing of Mr. Damon, whose name was offered by Mayor Eifer to succeed Runyard by each of the councilmen. They declare that they would not oppose him except against a man who has been tried and made good.

Since the change in the market was first announced by Mayor Eifer the Mall Tribune office has been thronged with citizens, men and women, who protested against the change, showing an overwhelming sentiment in favor of Mr. Runyard. A mass meeting to endorse him has been suggested but is considered unnecessary as the councilmen have announced that they will not abandon the stand taken by them Tuesday evening, for which they have been unanimously commended.

Mayor Eifer's position is not being condemned so much as regretted by the citizens of the city, who believe him to be sincere in his stand, but mistaken.

JAPANESE DIET TO BE DISSOLVED

TOKIO, Jan. 23.—Dissolution of the Japanese Diet is believed here to be inevitable as a result of the conflict between the faction headed by Prince Katsura and the Selyukai party. Katsura and his adherents are endeavoring to secure a majority of the members of the Diet during the suspensions of its sittings.

It is not believed they will succeed, but their strength doubtless will be sufficient to greatly embarrass the Saionji ministry, and possibly will force its resignation.

FOULKE E. BRANDT, PARDONED BY NEW YORK GOVERNOR, TO TAKE UP LITERARY WORK

FOULKE E. BRANDT AND SENATOR KNUTE NELSON ARRIVING AT GRAND CENTRAL STATION

It was with a light, springy step that Foulke E. Brandt, pardoned by Governor Sulzer after six years' imprisonment, walked a free man through the Grand Central Terminal, in New York city, shortly after his release from Albany.

The explosions of the flash lights of the photographers attracted a large crowd to the spot and when his identity became known there was cheering and shouts of “Good luck, Brandt!”

Brandt left Albany in company with Senator Knute Nelson, of Minnesota; Charles M. Johnston, editor of a Swedish newspaper which advocated his release; Mirabeau L. Towns, his attorney, and several newspaper men and members of Swedish organizations who were interested in his case. He wore a black derby hat and a gray overcoat and carried a satchel. The pallor of his face when he was returned to prison some months ago had given place to a ruddy complexion and it was quite apparent that his release worked wonders in his rejuvenation.

BOUGHT STANDARD OIL LETTERS YEARS AGO FOR $500 EACH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Sworn testimony that he paid $500 for some of the Standard Oil correspondence published by Wm. R. Hearst, was given the senate investigating committee by Charles Mooney, managing editor of the New York American in 1904 and 1905. Mooney now is editor of the Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

Mooney said he bought the letters from a white man whose name he did not know. He admitted, however, that he never had talked with Hearst about the correspondence.

BATTLING NELSON AND MISS KING OF PORTLAND ARE WED

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Clicks of moving picture machines furnished the wedding march for the marriage at Hegeswich this afternoon of Oscar Mathew Battling Nelson, former light weight champion pugilist of the world, and Miss Fay King of Portland, cartoonist for a Denver newspaper. All Hegeswich took a half holiday to witness the event.

When Nelson and Miss King arrived in Chicago this morning they found a reception committee of the residents of Hegeswich at the station to greet them. The committee bundled the couple into a waiting automobile and they were hurried to the Auditorium Hotel, where a regal wedding breakfast was served. Miss King spent part of the morning buying her trousseau.

At noon the couple, accompanied by the Hegeswich delegation, returned to that town, escorted by the Rev. Walton Larson, who performed the ceremony, and an imposing array of moving picture operators was present.

“Hurrah for Hegeswich's first citizen,” the crowd yelled.

Nelson grinned and stood up in the tonneau of the machine.

“Some bride, eh boys?” he yelled, pointing to Miss King.

“You see,” Nelson told his friends. “We decided to get married in a hurry. We had a whole lot to contend with as I had to fight to overcome Fay's wish for more time. But say, fellows, it was worth while.”

COMMONS TO VOTE FRIDAY ON SUFFRAGE

Wild Scenes Are Expected Tomorrow When a Ballot Will Be Taken on Legislation Granting Ballot to Women—Stubborn Campaign.

Advocates of Votes for Women Are Confident of Success—Precautions Are Taken.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—Wild scenes in the House of Commons are expected tomorrow when a vote will be taken on legislation granting the ballot to women. The suffragettes have waged a stubborn campaign, and the vote to enfranchise the woman is expected to create even more excitement than that which resulted in the Commons adopting the Irish Home Rule bill.

The advocates of votes for women are confident of success. They profess to see victory for the cause in the stand taken today by Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George, who was visited by a delegation of 29 suffragette leaders. He flatly announced that he favored enfranchising householders and the wives of householders, and pledged the government's support to any suffrage amendment acceptable to the House of Commons.

Great precautions are being taken by the police for a proper guarding of the house. Militant suffragettes will be kept several blocks from the chamber and no one allowed to pass the lines without due inspection.

HOUSE PASSES VICE CRUSADE BILL

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 23.—A vice crusade measure, advocated by Governor West, is today passed by the house.

The bill, introduced by Representative Blanchard of Josephine county, makes property owners liable for immorality on premises owned by them. Besides a fine of from $100 to $1000, or a prison term if convicted of maintaining or permitting houses of prostitution to be maintained on their property, it makes fines levied against women a lien on the property.

CONGRESS MAY PROBE STRIKE IN NEW YORK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—Information which may force a congressional investigation into the garment workers' strike in New York is expected tonight by Victor L. Berger, socialist congressman from Milwaukee.

“As remarkable an exposure as the industrial conditions at Lawrence may develop if the data sent for is what it is reported to be,” Berger said today. “I will ask an investigation by the house.”

Berger indicated he has evidence ready to show that the factories “speed up” the women and girl workers in order that they may compete with the sweatshops.
