WAR TO BEGIN AGAIN ON NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Powers Notified That Active Warfare is to Be Resumed Monday—All Vessels Are Prohibited From Harbor of Salonika—Coast Mined.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Hostilities between the Balkan allies and Turkey will be actively resumed Monday evening, according to information transmitted to the state department here today in a cable from United States Ambassador Rockhill at Constantinople.

The American minister at Athens also cabled today that all vessels hereafter will be prohibited from the harbor of Salonika.

The American minister at Sofia cabled:

Official notification has been received from the Bulgarian foreign ministry, that the whole of the coast of Sea of Marmora, occupied by the Bulgars, has been protected by mines.

LONDON, Feb. 1.—Practically the last hope of peace between Turkey and the Balkan allies is fled today with the departure of the Balkan envoys. It is now almost certain that war will be resumed.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 1.—Despatches here today from Prague declare that more than 250,000 Austrian troops are concentrated today on the frontier of Bosnia.

Before leaving the city Venizelos declared his belief that the second period of the war would be short.

“Our reason for resuming the fighting,” he said, “is that negotiations which do not bring peace are useless. The thousands of troops in the field are gradually exhausting the resources of the allies. We shall now destroy all the fruits of that policy by sharp and decisive action in the field.”

The departure of the Balkan envoys has greatly discouraged the ambassadors of the European powers, and those optimists who did not believe the war would be resumed.

It is now conceded that the allies are not bluffing.

The Turkish envoys are still here, and Reschid Pasha, their leader, says he has no plan for departure.

6-YEAR TERM FOR PRESIDENT PASSES SENATE

Senator Work's Bill Is Passed After Two Day Debate by Vote of 47 to 23 or One More Than Necessary—Many Amendments Offered.

The final count stood 47 for, 23 against.

The Works amendment is designed to become effective immediately on its ratification by three-fourths of the states in the union.

Immediately before the vote was taken on Works resolution the amendment by Senator Sutherland, providing that the president who holds office when the Works amendment becomes effective, shall not serve for more than four years, was rejected 38 to 29.

HOLDS UP TRAIN IN CITY'S HEART GETS $100,000

Lone Bandit Daringly Robs Express Train in Heart of Chicago's Financial District—Boldest in History of Windy City.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The depredations of Jesse James, the Younger brothers and other old time desperadoes were backed off the boards here today by the operations of a lone bandit who last night held up an express train in the heart of Chicago's business district and made his way to freedom with loot estimated at from $75,000 to $100,000.

The robbery, one of the boldest in Chicago's history, was the work of a steel nerved man. Using a handkerchief for a mask, the bandit forced the express messenger to turn over the key to his safe containing yesterday's entire receipts at the Union Stock Yards.

The conductor, armed with a revolver, attempted to block the robber's path but was knocked down by a blow from the robber's fist.

The bandit jumped from the train and, mingling with the theatre crowds in the street escaped.

HEAVY RESPONSE FOR SIGNATURES MARKET PETITION

The popular petition inaugurated by the Mail Tribune to the mayor and city council asking the retention of E. J. Runyard as market master is growing constantly, and bids fair to be the largest petition ever presented to any body of men in the history of the city.

By way of nailing a lie which is being circulated by certain parties not overly friendly with the public market, let it be known now that the Mail Tribune is not attempting to dictate the appointments of Mayor Elfert.

It simply realizes what Mr. Runyard has done for the public market and what the public market means to the people of Medford and vicinity.

The Mail Tribune is a champion of the public market and always will be found fighting for its best interests. At present its best interests demand the retention of Mr. Runyard.

But beyond all this the Mail Tribune knows that the people of Medford by an overwhelming majority desire to see Mr. Runyard retained.

GOOD CHANCE FOR ROAD LAWS AT THIS SESSION

"Excellent Chance" States W. H. Gore, "for Road Legislation, But Much Hard Work is Necessary, Particularly With House Members"

“There seems to be an excellent chance for road legislation at this session of the legislature, but much hard work is necessary, particularly among house members,” states W. H. Gore, who with W. H. Canon and G. Putnam of the Commercial club road committee, returned Saturday from Salem where they busied themselves looking after highway legislation, after accompanying the Portland delegation to Salem Thursday, in the interest of the Panama exposition appropriation.

“While we were in Salem, the senate passed the Harrett bill, an enabling act to permit counties to issue bonds for road purposes. The measure is a good one and will enable counties to go ahead with road construction.”

“The same day, the house passed the Grange enabling act, which the people voted down last fall. Representative Heames made a gallant fight against the measure, which provides cumbersome and unwieldy methods and is impracticable because it entails upon the bond buyer the supervision of the proceeds of the bonds. It was carried by a small margin. The house will probably reject the Harrett bill, and the senate the Grange bill and a conference committee be appointed into to draw up a compromise measure.”

“The outlook for trunk line or Pacific highway legislation is not so bright, but still think something may be accomplished if an energetic campaign is waged. It is probable that a state aid bill of some sort will also go through.”

“Senator Von der Hellen has the situation well in hand in the senate, and the senate is favorable to a program of road legislation. The house seems dominated largely by the Grange element and apathetic as to roads. But on the whole, the prospects are brighter than I thought at first.”

“The legislature is to visit Samuel Hill at Maryhill, Wn., Feb. 9 and as his guests will be taken over the model roads he has constructed and shown modern road building equipment and methods. Mr. Hill is having box cars fitted up for lantern pictures, and will deliver lectures upon good roads on the way to and from Maryhill. I think, after the legislators see these roads, they will be more inclined to favor a comprehensive program of road legislation.”

W. M. Colvig and A. E. Reames remained over and will assist further in road matters.

CAMPAIGN FOR WATER GETTING GOOD RESULTS

Manager Sullivan of Rogue River Canal Company States That Assistance Along Educational Lines by Local Organizations Brings Results

The educational campaign instituted by local organizations to secure irrigation for the Rogue River valley is bringing good results. According to J. T. Sullivan, manager of the Rogue River Valley Canal company. During the past week a number of ranchers have called on Mr. Sullivan and signed contracts for water in accord with the proposition of the company which places the contracts in escrow until a certain acreage is signed up, which will allow the company to proceed with the extension of its canals, to cover 55,000 acres of land in the valley.

“Since the contracts and proposition offered by our company have been placed before the public through the papers,” states Mr. Sullivan, “I find that a large number of ranchers, heretofore almost unapproachable on the subject, have taken it upon themselves to call on us and discuss the matter. Some have signed up. The educational campaign is having splendid results.”

The committees of the organizations appointed to conduct the campaign are busy with their plans which are now about in shape to actively undertake the work, and gain still greater results.

There is no doubt but that the valley, once alive to the real need of water, will put the matter through.
