SEVEN BILLS PASS IN HOUSE TODAY SALEM, Feb. 11.—Speaker McArthur's plan to submit an amendment to the people in 1914 to allow consolidation of the city of Portland and county of Multnomah, was answered in the senate today, insuring a place on the ballot in that year. The house today passed seven more bills which were sent along to the senate for the approval of that body. One was Latourette's bill to make oral evidence competent in cases of obtaining money under false pretense. In explaining its purpose, Latourette declared it would have more effect in stopping crooked stock and share transactions than all the blue sky acts that could be passed. Among the other bills passed were the following: Appropriating $22,000 for a social hygiene society at Portland; to provide for charging more than one crime in same indictment in separate counts. To enable grand juries to remain in session six months. Directing county clerks to supply large and small ballot boxes for each precinct for segregation of state and local votes.

SCOTT'S FINAL WORDS (Continued from page 1.) tures and surface which we encountered at this time of the year. On the summit, in latitude 85 degrees, longitude 86 degrees, we had minus 20 to minus 30. "On the barrier, in latitude 82.10, a thousand feet lower, we had minus 30 during the day and minus 47 at night pretty regularly, with a continuous heavy wind during the day marches. These circumstances came on very suddenly and our wreck was certainly due to this sudden advent of severe weather.

Storn is Fatal "I don't think human beings ever came through such months of suffering we have come through, and we should have got through despite the weather but for the sickening of our mates, shortage of fuel in depots for which I cannot account, and finally but for the storm which has fallen on us within 11 miles of this depot, at which we hoped to secure final supplies. "Surely misfortune could scarcely have exceeded this last blow. We arrived within 11 miles of our old One Ton camp with fuel for one hot meal and food for two days. For four days we have been unable to leave the tent and a terrific gale has been blowing about us. We are weak. Writing is difficult. "But for our own sake I do not regret this journey which has shown us that Englishmen can endure hardships, help one another and meet death with as great fortitude as ever in the past. We took risks. We know we took them. Things have come out against us, and therefore we have no cause for complaint. We bow to the will of providence, determined still to do our best until the last.

Pleads for Dependents "But if we have been willing to give our lives to this cause, which is not altogether our cause, I appeal to our countrymen to see that those who depend upon us are properly cared for. Had we lived I should have had a tale to tell of the hardihood, endurance and courage of my companions which would have stirred the hearts of all Englishmen. "These rough notes on our dead bodies must tell the tale but surely a rich country like ours will see that those who depend upon us are properly provided for. "(Signed) R. Scott, March 25, 1912."

Patriotism Aroused The keen edge of grief felt yesterday by the English race over the death of Captain Scott and four members of his exploring expedition was worn off today by realization that Scott attained his life's ambition before he died. "Antarctic travel," said Vice President Freshfield, of the Royal Geographical society, "would not be what it is—a training ground for the highest qualities of the British race—if these perils could be avoided."

The heroic deeds of Scott and his party has caused a glow of pride in every Englishman that sting of death cannot dim and the nation's patriotic spirit is more aroused over the affair than by any happening of recent years.

WEBB BILL MODIFIED PENALTY ELIMINATED WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The house this afternoon passed the merged Webb-Jenyon bill which would prevent the shipment of liquor from wet to prohibition states. It already has passed the senate. Opponents of the measure expect it will be vetoed by President Taft on alleged unconstitutional grounds.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Concurring with the house, the senate late yesterday substituted the Webb bill, which passed the house some days ago, for the Kenyon-Shepard bill, and passed it by a viva voce vote. The Webb bill prohibits shipments of liquor from wet to dry states but no provision for penalty other than confiscation of the liquor in the state where the offense occurs.

Mr. Gore writes that a most instructive and enjoyable time was had on the trip to Maryhill with the legislature as guests of Sam Hill, and much good resulted. He states that the proposed state bonding bill was very favorably received by those on the excursion. HERE'S SOMETHING COMING OUR WAY.

In engaging the justly famous Schubert company, of Chicago, to give one of their delightful entertainments here the Odd Fellows can congratulate themselves upon securing an additional and entirely unexpected feature of the greatest excellence. For it so happens that Miss Frances Rhinhart, the eminent harp soloist, is making a short concert tour of the United States in company with the Schuberts and will positively be heard here with them on Feb. 20, at the Natatorium. Keep this in mind for, although she is not advertised on the Schubert's programs or printing, she will be here with them and add two great solos to their program. It is our good luck that she is visiting her musical friends at the time they happen to be engaged to appear in Medford.

SHE HAD CONSUMPTION, WAS DYING; NOW WELL

Eckman's Alternative is being used with success in the treatment of Tuberculosis in all parts of the country. Persons who have taken it, improved, gained weight, exhilarating night sweats stopped, fever diminished, and many recovered. If you are interested to know more about it, we will put you in touch with some who have used it. You can investigate and judge for yourself. Read Mrs. Gover's recovery. Griffith, Ind. "Gentlemen: Thinking that perhaps a short history of the remarkable recovery of my mother-in-law (Mrs. Anna Gover) might benefit some other sufferers, I give the following testimonial: About September 10, 1906, she was taken sick with Catarrhal Pneumonia, and continually grew worse, requiring a trained nurse. Night sweats were so bad that it was necessary to change her clothing once or twice every night; her cough increased and got so bad that every body expected that she would not live much longer. In January, when Rev. Wm. Berg, of St. Michael's Church, at Shreveville, Ind., prepared for her death, he recommended that I get Eckman's Alternative, and see if it would not give her some relief. I then requested the attending physician to give me the diagnosis and he informed me that she had Consumption and was beyond all medical aid. When I asked if he thought that it was useless to try the Alternative, he replied that 'No physician could help her any and I could not suit myself about it.' So I immediately had Rev. Wm. Berg send for a bottle. Practically without hope for recovery, I insisted that she try the Alternative, which she did. I am glad to say that she soon began to improve. Now, she weighs 125 pounds heavier than she ever did before she took sick and is in good health. She frankly says she owes her life and health to Eckman's Alternative." (Signed) J. OS GRIMMER. Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Trouble, and in upholding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia Pa. For more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

When You Buy a Watch Cottolene makes delicious biscuit Cottolene "creams up" so beautifully that it makes delicious biscuits—light, flaky, free from grease and soggy. They almost melt in your mouth. Cottolene is the perfect shortening—a vegetable product without the possible taint of animal fat. It is far better and more wholesome than lard. It will give equally as good shortening results as butter, and Cottolene is usually one-third butter's price. Here's another economy point: Cottolene, being richer, use one-third less than either butter or lard. THE N. K. FAIRBANK COMPANY
