

JAIL SENTENCES FOR SUFFRAGETTES WHO GREETED KING

LONDON, March 11.—Under the technical charge of interfering with the police, the five militant suffragettes who attempted to throw a "votes for women" petition in King George's coach yesterday, while his majesty was en route to parliament, were sentenced here today. Four members of the party were sentenced to three weeks imprisonment and the fifth, the woman who actually threw the petition, was given four weeks.

The women were tried and convicted in Bow Street court. They defended their action by insisting that they did not mean to insult the king but merely were exercising their constitutional right. The women announced their intention of instituting a hunger strike and were led screaming from the courtroom.

The streets about suffragette headquarters today were blocked with wagons bearing coal barrels, organs, vegetables, furniture and objects of all kinds. The drivers insisted on delivering the loads at headquarters but the suffragettes refused to receive the stuff. It later developed that anti-suffragettes ordered the merchandise sent to suffragette headquarters as a joke.

WOLGAST TO ARRIVE TOMORROW NIGHT

Ad Wolgast, ex-lightweight champion of the world, Mrs. Wolgast and Manager Tom Jones, will arrive in Medford Wednesday evening to spend several days in the valley. The information was contained in the following telegram received by Mose Barkdull today:

"San Francisco, March 11.—Mose Barkdull, Medford, Oregon: Will leave tonight for Medford. Will bring wife and Jones. Best regards to all the boys. Ad Wolgast."

Wolgast is interested in a stock ranch near this city and probably will purchase it.

KLAMATH WILL SEND BIG DELEGATION HERE

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., March 11.—The initiatory degree team of the I. O. O. F. lodge of Klamath Falls is working one night each week getting ready to go to Medford on May 21, to put on the work of that degree as an exhibition before the Grand lodge, which will meet there at that time.

A special train will be taken, it is said, from this city to Medford, and it will be the object of the Klamath contingent to secure the Grand lodge meeting of 1915 for this city.

Mr. Percy Sholl is captain of the drill team, and says that he will have one of the best trained teams on the Coast by the time the Medford affair takes place.

He has as assistants a committee which was appointed to criticize and make suggestions. The committee on criticism is composed of Messrs. C. L. Meldrum, R. J. Sheets, P. L. Fountain, Jasper Bennett and E. M. Chilcote.

MR AND MRS. E. R. STEPHENS

Mr. E. R. Stephens gave his life in an attempted rescue and his wife was mortally injured by leaping from their burning home, in Ridgefield Park, north of Hackensack, N. J. Two of their five children also were injured by leaping from windows.

BUD FAVORITE AT TEN TO NINE OVER KNOCKOUT BROWN

LOS ANGELES, March 11.—Los Angeles fight fans are pondering today the unusual conditions that have made Bud Anderson, a boxer who has never traded punches with a top-notch, a favorite over the veteran Knockout Brown of New York for their twenty round bout here next Saturday afternoon. Odds continued at 10 to 9 today with a quantity of Anderson money in sight.

Both boys put in a hard day's training. The absence of the usual camp crowd permitted real attention to business. Anderson especially got good results from his workout. Brown is having difficulty getting sparring partners, chiefly because of the terrific mauling he hands his helpers.

If Anderson defeats Brown he probably will be matched for an early April date with Frankie Russell or Joe Rivers' if the Mexican will take the match.

MINIMUM WAGE BILL IN WASHINGTON

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 11.—No time was found by the house on Monday to consider the minimum wage bill, and it was postponed until Wednesday, a day before adjournment of the legislature.

This measure was passed by the senate two weeks ago with only two dissenting votes. But it has been held up by Speaker Taylor's rules in committee until Monday. It provides for the appointment of a commission of five which is to have one or more women members, to have jurisdiction in fixing minimum wages and conditions of labor for women workers. This measure, together with a minimum wage bill introduced by Dr. Croake, of $1.25 per day, will be taken up Wednesday.

CHIEF RECOVERS MUCH SILVERWARE

Acting on the complaint of the hotels and restaurants men that they were losing considerable silverware in the garbage being hauled away daily from their premises, Chief of Police Hittson visited the several garbage men in the city and recovered over 75 pieces of silver.

For a long time the garbage men in the city made a practice of returning the silverware found in the garbage but recently none has been coming back, the collectors saying they had failed to find any. Complaint was made to the chief who investigated.

Carrying with them over $2,000 of local money with which to back Bud Anderson, "pride of Medford," against Kayo Brown in their scheduled 20-round ring contest at Vernon next Saturday Messrs. Hafer, Worthington and Fox left for Los Angeles. The money they took with them represents a large number of local fight fans, loyal to Anderson.

It is impossible to secure a bet on the outcome of the go in Medford as there is an absolute dirth of Brown money. Betting on the rounds may be resorted to.

While at Grants Pass the councilmen will also study the electric light proposition and secure information on rates and the like.

The ladies of the Greater Medford club will this evening present H. E. Weed, a landscape architect of Portland, who will speak on the "Ornamentation of the City Lot." The management of it (formerly the Ugo theatre) has turned over its house for the evening.

Mr. Weed is one of the foremost authorities in the northwest on landscape gardening and is in addition a pleasing speaker. He has several lectures on different phases of the City Beautiful but the "Ornamentation of the City Lot" was the particular subject the Greater Medford club wished him to speak on. His lecture will be illustrated with 50 stereopticon slides.

KILLS HUGE COYOTE ON ANTELOPE CREEK

James Kershaw, the Azogora goat king of Antelope creek, on Monday brought out six coyote hides—which he took to the county seat and claimed a bounty of $1.50 each. Kershaw kills many coyotes each year.

One of the brutes was a monster, so large, in fact, that Kershaw threatened to claim a wolf bounty for it. It was evidently rather old and at least a foot longer than the others.

"Hunting is good in the hills," states Kershaw, "and it keeps us busy keeping our goats protected."

AVERAGE LIFE OF NURSES 6 YEARS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 11.—The average life of nurses, after they enter upon practice of their profession, is but six years, according to a report on file today with the municipal commission that is investigating women's wages and working conditions here today. The report was made by Mrs. D. P. Noel after a thorough investigation, and its authenticity is vouched for by doctors and scores of nurses.

The Rev. George Henry, in charge of the section of the commission inquiring into wages paid to girl employees in department stores, explained to the committee that his investigations thus far have indicated that no wages below $4.50 a week are paid, and this figure applies only to "beginners."

One of the commissioners admitted that girl wage earners were unwilling to come before the commission, fearing the loss of their positions.

$10,000 OPIUM ON JAP STEWARD

TACOMA, Wash., March 11.—The biggest opium seizure made on Puget sound in several years, today belongs to C. N. Adams, deputy customs inspector, who arrested K. Takaki, chief steward of the Japanese liner Mexico Maru, as the Japanese was noon. Locked in the vaults of the United States customs department in the federal building are 248 tins of opium, valued at $10,000.

The amount of the drug confiscated is too large, inspectors believe, to have been contracted for by one
