

MINIMUM WAGE LAW FOR WOMEN IN WASHINGTON

OLYMPIA, March 13.—Taking the lead in the march toward better conditions for women who work, the Washington legislature has followed the example of Oregon and passed the minimum wage bill for women, and the mothers' pension bill.

The minimum wage bill passed was drawn by Senator G. U. Piper. It provides for an industrial welfare commission of five members, which shall investigate all industries employing women and determine a fair minimum wage, sufficient to give the women employes a decent living.

"Women in this state will be not brought face to face with the choice of going hungry and half clad, or selling their honor to some vile procurer," said Senator Piper after the bill was passed.

"It is proper that we should safeguard our women, for if we degrade them we degrade the coming generation, and then the end of our reign as leader among the progressive peoples of the world is in sight."

Enemies of the bill, who say that if wages for women are increased to the basis of $12 a week suggested in Illinois, women will be replaced by men, in many trades, were told that this would be a good thing by supporters of the measure.

"Use of women in stores and factories is wrong to begin with. Let the men work and the women take care of the homes and we will be a better nation," was the answer.

SUE BELL PHONE ALLEGING TRUST

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 13.—In a complaint today on file with the public service commission, John B. Coffey, receiver, and Jay Bowerman, attorney for the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone company, charges are made that the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company and the Sunset Telegraph and Telephone company have established unreasonable, unfair and discriminating rules for the handling of messages, which has resulted, they allege in the diversion from the Northwest company of several thousand dollars worth of business each month.

The complaint was filed in person by Coffey and Bowerman, accompanied with a request that the public service commission take immediate action in the matter. It recites the history of competing companies in the Northwest, and gives a description of lines now being operated by the Northwestern company, covering with independent telephone plants and with local stations, more than 300 cities in Washington and Oregon. The history of the manner in which the Pacific company acquired the Sunset and the Independent companies is also set forth in the complaint.

LIPTON PUZZLED BY REJECTION OF CHALLENGE

LONDON, March 13.—When Sir Thomas Lipton heard of the rejection of his challenge to an international race by the New York Yacht club he declared today:

"It is a complete surprise to me to hear that the challenge is rejected. I thought my terms were the fairest in every respect because, under the deed of gift the challenger may stipulate any length between 65 and 80 feet for the water line.

"I cannot see why the challenged club should force the challenger to build a 90 foot yacht. This gives him but a small chance for success."

LOS ANGELES, March 13.—Heeding the warnings of expert judges of conditions, Bud Anderson has today knocked off training for his match with Kayo Brown at Vernon Saturday afternoon. Brown will conclude his work tonight, although he will spend an hour or two on the road tomorrow.

At the Anderson camp emphatic denial was given to a general report that Bud will be unable to make the required weight Saturday and be strong. Manager Donald declared that the Medford boy will be in the best condition of his career. He refused, however, to put Anderson on the scales for the benefit of the visitors to the camp.

LIGHT SENTENCES FOR CRIMES OF PASSION

PARIS, March 13.—A bill calculated to lessen the widespread acquittal of persons on trial for crimes of passion is introduced into the chamber here today by Deputy Peyroux. The bill is an indirect result of the acquittal of Mme. Bloch, who shot and killed Mrs. Minnie Bridgeman, an American woman whom Mme. Bloch charged with having stolen the affections of her husband. Following her acquittal, however, came a wave of leniency so great as to cause a public outburst out of which was born the bill. The bill provides a light sentence for such criminals.
