communication with the stricken city is spasmodically unreliable. Trains have been unable to reach nearer than 10 miles of Dayton since 4 o'clock this morning, when the levee first broke. Two other breaks followed and then the whole structure gave way.

Residents of the river districts were warned of the approaching danger and it is practically certain that all escaped. The entire city, however, is surrounded by water.

DAYTON, Ohio, Mar. 25.—Thousands are homeless in Dayton and vicinity and are being sheltered in tents and public buildings following the breaking of the big Miami river levee in three places. The river has passed the flood depth and is still rising. Scores of factories are closed.

Militia on Guard. Three companies of militia were ordered to aid the police. Riverdale, North Dayton and other suburbs are inundated. Last night couriers were sent throughout the threatened districts warning the inhabitants to flee. The river is the highest it has been for years.

GRAND JURY RECOMMENDS NEW VAULT FOR RECORDS. The grand jury in its report submitted the following regarding the recorder's office: "The recorder is very much cramped for both office and vault space. His vault is narrow, possibly 5x10 and 9 to 10 feet high. One side is fitted with book racks. Every bit of space is filled. Twelve or fifteen volumes of deed and mortgage records lying on the floor; also several large volumes of plat records standing on edge, the covers becoming warped and broken. The vault does not appear fire-proof."

Regarding the sheriff's office the report says: "In the sheriff's office we find great congestion of work, caused principally by the work incidental to tax collection. The jail is clean and sanitary, and in a credit to the management of Jattier William Singler. The county clerk's, treasurer's and assessor's offices are thus commended: "We find that Mr. Gardner has a large fine room and vault with desks and filing cases, ample desk room, and a new counter that adds greatly to the service of the office. Apparently there is a place for everything, and everything is in its place. The recent cleaning of the walls has added to the attractiveness of the rooms. The county treasurer's and assessor's offices are in first class condition. It is also stated that a coat of paint in the court room would not hurt."

RITCHIE AGREES TO MAKE NEXT FIGHT JULY 4

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 25.—Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, will defend his title on July 4 in either San Francisco or Los Angeles, probably against the winner of the Leach-Cross-Joe Rivers battle in New York.

Writing from Milwaukee, Ritchie says: "On June 1 I will finish my theatrical dates at Portland, Ore. During the last two weeks in May I will be in the open air as much as possible, and as soon as I finish my work in the theater I will take the first train that will carry me to Billy Nolan's ranch in Lake county, where I will rest and train for my next bout. It will take place either in San Francisco or Los Angeles on July 4."

"The bout between Leach Cross and Joe Rivers in New York will come pretty near naming our next opponent. In fact we have been offered quite a tidy sum to meet Rivers in Los Angeles on Independence day. If our terms are met, he surely will have the first opportunity of taking the title from me if he can. I have seen the Los Angeles boy in action on several occasions and feel as though I am his master in every department of the game."

WELLS FARGO WINS BATTLE FOR TAXES

SALEM, Or., March 25.—According to the decision of the supreme court the gross earnings tax law enacted by the people in 1904 was repealed by implication by the legislative act of 1909, creating a state board of tax commissioners. The case involved was the state v. Wells Fargo & Co. and is an affirmation of the opinion of Judge Galloway of the Marion county circuit court. The state brought suit against the Wells Fargo company for the collection of gross earnings taxes for the years 1906, 1907 and 1908. The company attacked the validity of the law on the ground that it had been repealed by implication by the tax law enacted in 1907 and the act of 1909. The circuit court decided in favor of the state regarding the taxes for the first 10 years, but upheld the company's contention and found in its favor in regard to the taxes of 1908. The supreme court coincided with this decision.

tile institutions, churches, schools and club buildings dividing the remaining loss.

A two-inch fall of snow during the night hampered the work of the rescuers today, and it is now feared that it will require the remainder of the week to explore the remaining wrecked and partially wrecked residences. A regiment of militia is patrolling the stricken districts, but very little looting has been reported. Only two looters so far have been arrested. They gave the names of John Fletcher and Arnold Dillon.

Fourteen Unidentified. Fourteen of the 110 bodies choking the various morgues are still unidentified and relatives and friends of the missing are flocking there to view the remains. A score of funerals were planned today, but most of the victims will be buried tomorrow and Thursday.

Plans for the rebuilding of the stricken district already have started. It is expected that Omaha's big corporations and financial institutions will form an organization to loan money to the cyclone sufferers on easy terms. A score of newly built residences in the city's most fashionable district were demolished, but not one carried tornado insurance. The mansion of George Joslyn, multimillionaire, was wrecked. He will not rebuild.

Negro Scared White.

Fourteen hours after the storm, and while the soldiers were digging in the ruins of the Diamond picture theater, believing all there were dead, a negro suddenly arose from the debris. His face was nearly white from fright. He gave one wild yell and ran down the street at top speed. It is now believed that most of the people who were in the moving picture show when the cyclone struck escaped.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 25.—An entire change of city executive officials is provided by the result of yesterday's municipal charter amendment election, according to the count which is being tabulated today. An amendment throwing out of office the mayor and city council in July was passed to provide an opportunity to put into operation proposed amendments to constitute the city council through proportional representation or to return to the old ward system, both of which, however, were defeated. The proportional representation plan was strongly supported by socialist and labor voters.

PROFESSOR PLEADS THE UNWRITTEN LAW

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 25.—The work of impelling a jury was commenced in the district court today for the trial of Professor Oscar W. Olson, the University of Minnesota professor recently indicted on a charge of murder. Professor Olson is accused of shooting and killing Clyde N. Darling, who met his death while passing or attempting to enter the Olson home on the night of March 5.

Several hours after the tragedy Olson surrendered to the police, and according to them, confessed he waited for his chance and deliberately shot Darling, whom he intimidated had broken up the Olson home. Beyond his first statement that it was a case of the unwritten law the accused professor has declined to discuss his case except with counsel.

Professor Olson has been connected with the agricultural college of the state university ever since his youth, either as a student or instructor, with the exception of one year spent at Pullman, Ill. He has always been well thought of by his associates at the university.

Fleetwood, Pa.—"During the Change of Life I was hardly able to be around at all. I always had a headache and I was so dizzy and nervous that I had no rest at night. Before I took the Compound I was always sickly and now I have not had medicine from a doctor for years. You may publish my letter."—Mrs. EDWARD B. HILBERT, Fleetwood, Pa.
