JOLTS AND JINGLES By Ad Brown

At a mass meeting of the canines of the city held last night a motion made by Snyder and seconded by the dogeatcher, was adopted by unanimous barks.

One of the new improvements which has so far gone unmentioned. is the coat of paint impartially distributed over the surface of the Barnum passenger coach and the Barnum steam "enjine."

SECRETARY BRYAN AGREES IF WOOL IS FREE lost him? OBSERVE ARBOR DAY.

THE ladies of the Greater Medford club request that Arbor day, April 11, be observed in Medford at least to the extent that every one will plant one tree, shrub or vine.

The public schools should make special observance of the day, not only in the planting of shrubs and vines in the school yards, but each pupil should plant in addition a tree or shrub of some kind in his home yard and care for Medford has no public park system outside of the Main street square and preliminary steps should be taken to acquire parks before the land becomes too valuable. There are, however, several small tracts scattered around, which have been donated principally to escape taxes, which can be improved by the planting of trees.

The Southern Pacific right-of-way between Main and Sixth streets should be parked, the shacks removed and the land otherwise beautified. Nothing could add more to the attractiveness of the city to the passing tourists. Better even than parks would be the making of every street a park by planting shade trees along the curbs.

Now is the time to plant.

TEAM WORK NEEDED.

TT is to be hoped that Mayor Eifert is sincere in his harmony talk to the city council, though his refusal to have anything to do with naming city officials, simply because he was not permitted to name all of them, easts a shadow of suspicion upon his sincerity.

The mayor's abdication offer is intended to be magnanimous in the extreme, but, while the people would not son, the pastor, deserted by his wife, sanction the introduction of the spoils system in civic af- Mabel Clarkson, who left her home fairs, and rebuked the mayor for the attempt at the special and five young children to run away election, it is doubtful if he has any right to decline cooperation in the selection of such officials. loing prison mission work, persists
