

WILSON STANDS PAT ON FREE SUGAR

PRESIDENT TO CARRY FIGHT TO THE PEOPLE

"What People Put on Their Backs and Into Their Stomachs Must Be Made Cheap, No Matter Who Suffers" Is Wilson's Final Word

Free Wool and Free Sugar Insisted Upon—No Compromise to Be Accepted—Restore Competition

(By John Edwin Nevin, staff correspondent of the United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—President Wilson is standing pat on free sugar and wool.

The crisis in the tariff fight reached today in the house and senate committees found the president ready to carry the fight to the people.

The United Press today is able to present, in part, President Wilson's tariff views, as he sketched them during the campaign, as he expounded them to congressional leaders and as he expects to urge them in a direct appeal to the people if forced to that course.

President's Final Word.

"What the people put on their backs and into their stomachs must be made cheap, no matter who suffers," is President Wilson's final word to the financiers. He insists that the idea that the passage of the proposed tariff bill would be disastrous to the country is most false.

President Wilson referred his callers to his frequently uttered views on this subject and said:

"I am always afraid that the business men who are so uneasy have something to be uneasy about. The American people are taking notice in a way they never took notice before and gentlemen who are talking one way and voting another are going to be retired to a quiet and private life."

The president sees no reason to compromise on the tariff bill. He believes the people will support him and that he can compel an adjustment of the tariff. He directed attention to the position he took when it was charged that low tariff would hit the farmer and said:

Farmer Never Protected.

"The American farmer never has been protected because he never needed protection. But everything used on the farm, everything that is worn and much that is eaten, including meats, bear a heavy duty, bringing the interesting result that the farmers are paying for a great deal of the wealth of America, but are getting nothing so far as the tariff is concerned.

"It is notorious that many members of the senate finance committee did not know the significance of the tariff schedules the committee reported in the Payne bill. It was said the tariff did not determine prices because so much competition within America kept competition and trade on a level. But haven't you seen competition disappear? Haven't you attended, by proxy, congressional hearings and court trials, where the whole process was disclosed?"

Consumer Must Pay.

"The country's business is staggering under masses of stock whereon dividends must be paid by the prices charged to the consumer. But under the proposed new tariff bill, the whole thing is upon a new basis, and business itself is going to burst its restrictions. While our exports are increasing, we are finding an outlet for them."

This is the stand by the president before the house ways and means committee when he discussed the tariff bill.

The president has decided in nearly every instance, American business enterprises will be restored as they must be under the proposed tariff bill, to a position of real competition; that the manufacturer will enlarge his plants and meet the new conditions in such a way that the country will enter into a period of real prosperity which will benefit all.

WILSON WINNER FIRST BLOOD IN TARIFF BATTLE

Broussard's Amendment to Proposed Sugar Schedule Overwhelmingly Defeated in First Test of Strength of Administration and Opponents

Immediate Free Sugar to Be Voted Upon This Afternoon—Bill Will Be Before Democratic Caucus a Week

(By John Edwin Nevin, staff correspondent of the United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—First blood for President Wilson's tariff revision plans was drawn in the house democratic caucus this afternoon when an amendment to the proposed sugar schedule offered by Representative Broussard was overwhelmingly defeated.

Broussard's amendment would have reduced the sugar duty but 10 per cent under the present tariff and it was snowed under by a vote of 85 to 14.

Today's vote was the first test of strength between the friends of the president's tariff reforms and his opponents, and the Wilson men emerged from the battle with colors flying.

Representative Broussard's second amendment, providing a duty on sugar for four years before it is given free entry, also was defeated. The vote stood 102 against to 40 in its favor.

One of Broussard's amendments provides a sugar duty starting at 37 1/2 cents a hundred weight and gradually lowering to 27-100ths of a cent per pound in 1916 and after. Another alternative proposes free sugar in five years instead of three.

Representative Hardwick of Georgia is one of the most active proponents of President Wilson's sugar schedule. He favors immediate free sugar.

Protectionists today claimed to have mustered 80 votes against the administration's program. Representative Underwood of Alabama, leader of the majority in the house, says it will be impossible to finish consideration of the bill for a week and that it will probably be April 21 before the house, in regular session, begins consideration of the tariff bill.

MORGAN'S REMAINS LIE IN MANSION

NEW YORK, April 12.—The body of J. Pierpont Morgan today lies in a bronze casket in the library of the Morgan mansion here. Only relatives and close friends were admitted to the home.

Red roses, Morgan's favorite flower, fill the library. Huge candles stand at the head and foot of the coffin. These will remain lighted until the funeral services take place next Monday.

ODDS STILL FAVOR BUD AT 10 TO 8

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 12.—Tomorrow will mark the close of hard training by Bud Anderson, who is preparing at Doyle's camp for his 20 round set with Kayo Brown of New York Tuesday evening. Bud will box 10 rounds tomorrow, after which he probably will lay aside the gloves and content himself with lighter work until fight night.

Brown, at Venice, is working daily as though his life depended on his condition. He will enter the ring in much better shape than upon the occasion of his first fight with Anderson. Anderson still leads in the betting. His friends have made him a 10 to 8 favorite. There is little Brown money in sight.

WARRANT OUT ON FELONY CHARGE AGAINST BROKERS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—J. C. Wilson and B. A. Wilbrand, who compose the firm of J. C. Wilson & Co., stock brokers, and Peter P. Burke, a former employe of the concern, were indicted on felony charges by the federal grand jury in connection with thefts that resulted this morning in Baker's plea of guilty to the embezzlement charge.

Immediately after the indictments were returned, bench warrants were issued by United States Commissioner Krull and given to Marshal Burnham to serve. The men, it is expected, will be taken into custody before night. The bond for each has been fixed at $10,000.

The Wilson firm had connections in New York and Chicago. The face of the indictment against the three men reads: "For conspiracy to procure Charles F. Baker to abstract funds of a national bank." The body contains clauses accusing the three of conspiracy to aid and abet Charles F. Baker to steal and misapply the funds of the Crocker National bank. The instrument recites many of the specific instances in which Baker applied the money of the bank to his stock speculating.

GAS SCHOONER ANVIL WRECKED AT FLORENCE

MARSHFIELD, Ore., April 12.—According to reports reaching here from Florence, at the mouth of the Siuslaw river, the gasoline schooner Anvil was wrecked at that place yesterday, with a number of persons on board. No details have yet been secured on account of telephone communication being prostrated.

The Anvil, which runs from Bandon to Portland, is 116 feet long and carries a crew of 12 men. The boat is said to be the largest gasoline passenger boat on the coast.

MALONE OF NEW YORK A BRYAN ASSISTANT

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The following nominations were sent to the senate today by President Wilson:

Dudley Field Malone of New York to be third assistant secretary of state; John Basnet Moore of New York to be counselor for the state department; Colonel Hugh Scott of the Third Cavalry to be a brigadier general.

Charles Daley, a former Harvard football star, was reinstated as a first lieutenant in the army.

40 DEMOCRATS AGREE TO FIGHT FREE WOOL BILL

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Stubborn opposition to the administration's wool program developed here this afternoon when 40 democratic congressmen from wool growing states met and decided to vote with republicans against the house wool schedule which bears president Wilson's stamp of approval.

It was decided at the meeting to take advantage of the democratic caucus rule which relieves its members from supporting any feature of a bill they oppose. It also was decided to not send any committee to protest to either President Wilson or the house ways and means committee, but to buckle down to hard work and fight to the last ditch.

Besides the support of the republican house members, the democrats opposed to free wool hope to muster 100 votes. They will ask and fight for a 15 per cent duty on raw wool. Representative Askbrook of Ohio, secretary of the democratic caucus, was elected spokesman of the anti-free wool members. Their leaders declare that President Wilson is the principal opponent to a duty on wool, asserting that a majority of the ways and means committee favor the 15 per cent duty.

TURTLE SERUM CURES SICK GIRL

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 12.—By dancing before Governor Pothier, Sophie Berger, a 16-year old Providence girl, has today proven that her tubercular knee is practically cured by an injection of Dr. Friedmann's serum. The girl was Dr. Friedmann's first patient in the United States.

It is said that previous to the Friedmann treatment, the girl walked in crutches for three years and her ailment defied treatment.

MRS. PANKHURST IS RELEASED FROM JAIL

LONDON, April 12.—Exhausted and unable to stand without aid, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was released from Holloway prison today. Suffragettes from militant headquarters received their leader at the jail entrance and took her to a private hospital. They say her condition is not precarious. For nine days Mrs. Pankhurst subsided entirely on cold water.

POPE PIUS X TAKES CHANGE FOR THE WORSE

Papal Physicians Hastily Summoned and Find That Pope is Suffering From Acute Bronchitis and Influenza—Has Effect Upon His Heart

Chief Physician Greatly Incensed at Attendants for Allowing the Pontiff to Receive Visitors

(By John Edwin Nevin, staff correspondent of the United Press)

ROME, April 12.—Pope Pius X, who has been ill with symptoms of Bright's disease for some time, suffered another relapse late this afternoon.

The papal physicians were hastily summoned and found the pope suffering from acute bronchitis and a recurrence of his recent attack of influenza. They declared his condition was due to over exertion resulting from his insistence upon seeing three bishops last night.

It is feared the result of his coughing and bronchitis have greatly weakened his heart, because of his age, and have also greatly affected his nervous system.

Professor Marchisava, the principal papal physician, is incensed today at the attendants of the pontiff for allowing him to see visitors. He scored them severely and declared he would be responsible for the pope's life no longer if he ignored his physician's orders.

BURGLARS ATTACK MRS. A. E. WHITMAN

Word is received from Klamath Falls to the effect that robbers last E. Whitman, formerly manager of the Eagle Drug company of this city, bound and gagged Mrs. Whitman, stole a watch and $60 and left Mrs. Whitman unconscious on the floor.

She regained consciousness and staggered to a neighbor's house, where three men and three women became frightened and wouldn't let her in. They phoned for the police, who found her back in her home unconscious and almost suffocated. Police and doctors arrived shortly and she is now resting well, though severely shocked.

Mrs. Whitman is a sister of Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Paul Hansen of this city.

CAMINETTI AND DIGGS INDICTED

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 12.—Indictments were returned by a grand jury here today against Maury I. Diggs, former state architect, and Drew Caminetti, two young married men of Sacramento, on a charge of violating the white slave law. Another indictment charging the two men with conspiracy also was returned.

Attorney Harris, representing the two Sacramentans, was indicted on a charge of conspiring to suborn perjury and in the event of conviction faces the possibility of a long prison sentence.

Caminetti and Diggs stand indicted for taking two Sacramento society girls, Misses Marsha Washington and Lola Norris, to Reno for immoral purposes.

FIRST WHITE HOUSE CRANK PLACED UNDER ARREST

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The first white house crank to be arrested in President Wilson's term is in jail here today. She is Helen Kelly, 37, and was arrested after making insistent efforts to see the president about a fancied wrong.

WAGE PROBERS GRAB REVELERS CHICAGO CAFES

Members of Smart Set Seized While Slumming and Forced to Go Before Legislative Committee and Testify Along With Girl Dancers

Raid of Subpoena Servers Occurs at Midnight—Frantic Efforts to Conceal Identity—Cafes Lose License

(By John Edwin Nevin, staff correspondent of the United Press)

CHICAGO, April 12.—Snatched from their revelries in some of the gayest of Chicago cafes, bundled into automobiles and hustled to the La Salle Hotel, where they were forced to testify before the state senate "starvation wage" probers, a score or more of Chicago's "smart set" today stand out prominently in one of the biggest sensations in the city's history.

The raid of the subpoena servers occurred at midnight, throwing several hundred fashionable revelers into a panic. Prominent society women were forced to stop dancing the turkey trot and tango and forced to tell the probers what part a fast life plays in the social evil.

The witnesses included the wives of millionaires, cabaret singers and other frequenters of the night life. The guests and managers of Reector's and The States, two famous loop restaurants, also were served with subpoenas.

Two prominent married women of Peoria, Ill., went into hysterics when the investigators ordered them and their male companions to climb into an automobile and with them go to the La Salle Hotel. A woman member of another slumming expedition leaped head first through the window of another cafe at Wabash avenue and Twenty-first street. Women in the cafes in the redlight district fell on their knees and begged the investigators to release them. Men waved handfuls of bills of large denominations and vainly pleaded to be allowed to go. Officers, aiding the investigators, blocked all exits and no one was allowed to escape. The raid was the biggest round-up in Chicago's history.

A Sorry Spectacle.

The probers had arranged to take testimony in the Reckwood dining room at the hotel and their plans were not marred by a single hitch.

When the witnesses arrived, Lieutenant Governor O'Hara, chairman of the investigating committee, calmly invited them to be seated.

"We are just looking into the variations of the latest smut songs and animal dances," he said.

The witnesses presented a sorry spectacle. The women were disheveled and frightened. The men sullen and angry.

Four of the male guests caught in the net at Reector's are prominent in Chicago's business life. One is a capitalist, another a manufacturer, the third a broker and the fourth a prominent member of the board of trade. The committee also examined four other witnesses from Reector's.

The licenses of Maxim's cafe and Roy Jones' restaurant were revoked by Mayor Harrison today as a result of the activity of the legislative vice probe committee.

SPECIALTIES SUFFER ON STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, April 12.—Chemical preferred dropped 26 points and many other specialties suffered as the result of the heaviness of the market here today. Active stocks rallied briskly before noon.

A brisk rally toned up the entire market before the closing. Liquidation was on a large scale in some of the newly formed industrial combinations, but its effect on the standard stocks was slight.
