The Young Ladies' Amoma Bible class of the Baptist church held their semi-annual meeting for the election of officers in the parlors of the church last Wednesday evening. The chief business transacted was the election of the following officers for the ensuing six months. Miss Carlin, president; Miss Nora Daily, vice president; Miss Olson, secretary and treasurer; Miss Mary Gore, chairman of visiting committee; Miss Marion Waldron, chairman of entertainment committee; Miss Carnes, reporter. Proceeding the meeting a delicious supper was served the class in the Boy Scouts' tent, just back of the church. Clever hands had transformed the improvised dining room into a veritable bower. The color scheme was carried out in the class colors, blue and white. Blue and white crepe paper festoons and a profusion of white spring flowers, artistically arranged played a prominent part in the decorations. The place cards were dainty little blue and white hand painted scrolls. Mrs. Aikens, the popular and efficient teacher of the class, was given the seat of honor at the head of the table. Miss Carlin, president of the class, was seated at the foot. Great credit is due the entertainment committee for the delightful time enjoyed by all present.
