

JAPAN RENEWS PROTEST AGAINST ALIEN LAND BILL

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Frank declaration that the California anti-alien land bill is aimed directly at the Japanese, despite attempts to conceal its real purpose, was voiced here today to government officials by the Japanese ambassador in renewing his protest to the California legislature. Japan's formal protest is expected to be filed later.

President Wilson does not believe he can prevent the passage of the bill. The president and Secretary of State Bryan conferred again this morning over the measure and decided to watch closely the situation and, if necessary, to send a representative of the state department to Sacramento to get first-hand information.

President Wilson holds that a state's right to enact legislation is paramount and it is not believed he will interfere. It is understood that Japan already is planning to boycott American goods. The president is trying to demonstrate to Japan that the general feeling in the United States should not be judged by the situation in California.

Later the president arranged to confer with Secretaries Lane and Houston and Senators Works and Jones over the California situation.

It was stated positively at the white house that no official declaration of the president's policy regarding the land bill would be forthcoming at this time.

GREAT DISPLAY OF AGRICULTURE AT FAIR

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—The largest and most comprehensive display of agricultural and horticultural interests that the world has ever known will be one of the chief features of the Panama-Pacific International exposition, which will open at San Francisco on Saturday, February 20, 1915, to commemorate the achievement of the Panama canal.

Under the classification of exhibits which has just been completed, the department of agriculture has been given ample space for a record-breaking display and the horticultural department, with a building of its own, will be added to and enhanced by the general effect of the exposition which, when completed, will present the appearance of a vast garden.

The allied departments of agriculture and horticulture at the Panama-Pacific exposition will excel in their comprehensiveness anything that has ever been attempted at previous expositions. The displays, and exhibits, covering an area of more than 20 acres, will include every possible phase of the agricultural and horticultural industry and will serve as a gigantic school to farmers, land owners, gardeners and mechanics as well as even to the layman whose sole object in visiting the exposition is one of purely human interest.

More than 40 acres of land on the exposition site will be occupied by agricultural, horticultural and live stock exhibits.

In addition to the multifarious attractions to the agriculturist from all parts of the world, a special feature of the exposition which will be of immense educational value to the farmer and land economist will be the congresses and conventions which are being arranged for the discussion of agricultural and land problems.

FRUITMEN TALK OF ADVERTISING

A large number of fruitmen met this afternoon at the It theater for the purpose of discussing the advertising of the fruit industry. W. F. Gwin, sales manager, and L. E. Moacham, advertising manager, of the Northwestern Fruit Exchange, were the principal speakers.

The speakers were in accord with the present national campaign to increase the consumption of pears and apples. The theme was very interestingly presented.

BUD ANDERSON DEFEATS BROWN FIFTEEN ROUNDS

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 16.—Bud Anderson of Medford is in line today for a match with one of the lightweight heavies as the result of his encounter here last night with Knockout Brown of New York, which was stopped in the 15th round after Brown had taken a terrific beating and was a helpless target for his opponent's punches.

Anderson won his battle from the start. The first round was even, but from the second period on Anderson constantly increased the lead he established in that session. The New York veteran exhibited a brand of courage that stirred the heart of every one of the 8000 spectators. Knocked to the mat a dozen times, the little Dutchman refused to be counted out, and after each knockdown he scorned the respite offered by covering up or clinching, and rushed at Anderson undaunted.

Stops Unequal Battle.
Referee Nyton stopped the unequal battle after it had become evident that Dan Morgan, the New Yorker's manager, would permit his boy to be cut to gilets rather than throw up the sponge. Incidentally, the Vernon town constables were warning up in the aisles preparatory to taking a hand in the unequal fight.

Anderson again demonstrated conclusively that he has much to learn before he becomes a finished fighter. While his deadly wallop was much in evidence, his work savored throughout of the amateurish. He used very poor judgment a dozen times when he had Brown in trouble, assailing the befuddled easterner with round-house swings that landed any place above Brown's heels when one calmly directed punch should have ended the bout.

Bud's Judgment Poor.
Also, Bud's judgment of distance was open to criticism. Bud was never in trouble, however, and by his showing he won many friends who believe that the experience gained in his two battles with Brown will make him a dangerous opponent for Rivers or Mandot.

Anderson's right eye was almost completely closed early in the battle. With this exception he left the ring unmarked. Brown's lips were badly cut and puffed. Otherwise he was not badly battered.

Bert Fagan Knocked Out.
Bert Fagan knocked out Bert Daley in the fifth round of the semi-windup. Martin Leahy and Roy Rogers went four rounds to a draw in the ring warmer.

Brown Rushes to Ropes.
Round 1.—Brown rushed Anderson to the ropes. Anderson fought his way back to the center sending body blows and taking hard punches in the face. They fought fiercely at close range both landing hard to the body and face.

Staggered Kayo in Second.
Round 2.—Brown again rushed Anderson sending him into his own corner. Anderson fought his way out swapping stiff punches. Anderson showered lefts and rights on Brown's face taking one hard punch on the jaw in return. Anderson staggered Brown with a left to the jaw. Anderson's round.

Brown Weather's Storm.
Round 3.—Anderson led with left and rushed into clinch. Anderson rocked Brown several times with right swing to head staggering him. Anderson became trifle wild and Brown escaped further damage.

Kayo Drops to Knees.
Round 4.—Anderson rushed and landed hard right on jaw. Brown apparently unable to put up a defense. His jaw was an open target and Anderson sent him to his knees with a left swing that landed on his ear. Anderson had better of the mid-ring rally as the round ended.

Brown Grows Wild.
Round 5.—Brown missed three right swings and rushing into clinch landed a hard right to Anderson's face. Brown rushed Anderson to the ropes and the Medford boy staggered Knockout with a terrific right to the chin.

First Blood for Bud.
Round 6.—Anderson split Brown's lip as he rushed into a hard right jab and clinched. Both men slowed down a trifle and the fighting was desultory and without much effect.

Brown Knocked Down.
Round 7.—Anderson met Brown's rush with two rights that stopped the New Yorker. Brown took another hard right to the jaw. Brown jarred Anderson with a straight left to the jaw. Anderson recovered, however, and knocked Brown down with a straight right. Brown was up instantly.

Pierce Fighting in Center.
Round 8.—Anderson opened with a series of lefts and rights to face, even exchange in middle of ring. They clinched and fought fiercely.

Anderson Rushes.
Round 12.—Anderson rushed and snapped back Brown's head with two hard rights which he followed with a hard right to Brown's wind. They exchanged light blows and clinched. Brown rocked Anderson's head with left to face. Anderson's round.

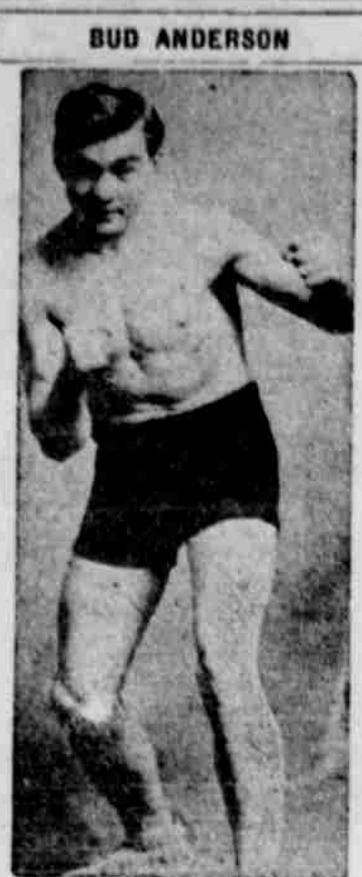

Brown Badly Hurt.
Round 13.—Both missed and they fell into a clinch. Anderson whipped over a hard right to the jaw. Anderson sent Brown reeling against the ropes. The German is badly hurt. Brown went to his knees, under a volley of rights and lefts. He rushed Anderson to the ropes as the bell rang. Anderson's round by a mile.

Brown Down for Count of 9.
Round 14.—Anderson knocked Brown flat on his back with a right swing to the jaw. Brown took the count of nine and was groggy when he arose. He hung on. Anderson missed several vicious swings. Brown drove in a terrific right to Anderson's stomach. Brown went down twice under rights to jaw. Once more failed to take the count hanging on at the bell.

Brown Knocked Out.
Round 15.—Anderson sent Brown against the ropes with a volley of rights. Brown apparently helpless, while Anderson with a volley sent Brown down. He took count of nine. Brown hung on. Another right to the body sent Brown down a second time. He again fell under a third blow to the jaw. Referee stopped battle while the New Yorker lay prone.

Bud Anderson.

Anderson planted a hard right that drew blood from Brown's mouth and sent him reeling.

Brown's First Round.

Bud Grows Wild.
Round 10.—Anderson leaping out at the bell shot right to neck snapping a right to jaw that staggered Brown. Brown countered to the jaw. Anderson swung wildly Brown landing repeatedly. Brown's round.

Both Men Wild.
Round 11.—They clinched. Brown volleyed and landed right to body. Anderson appeared as tiring rapidly. Brown also was not loath to rest. Toward the end of the round both rallied. Brown hit Anderson's sore eye hard as the bell rang.

Anderson Rushes.
