EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

R. W. Hitchcock, who owns an orchard about two miles and a half southeast of here, was here and gave me the following item that I thought of enough importance to be inserted in the Eaglets: Fred Lewis, who bought a part of the old A. S. Carlton place, is going to try an experiment in the way of utilizing his orchard land and at the same time fertilizing it. He is sowing the 20 acre tract that he has in old or fruit bearing trees, in clover, and his 60 acres that he has planted in young trees and intends to sow that in clover and alfalfa also, and as the land is under the ditch, intends to put water on it and by that means will obviate the necessity of continually cultivating the soil and secure a quantity of fine feed. He thinks that it will be a good plan to plow the clover up about every four years and thus enrich the soil. I can see but one difficulty in that plan and that is, if he uses the ordinary spray for his trees there is danger of the stock that eats the clover, either green or in hay, being poisoned, as it is said that several horses have been killed in the valley by that means, but that the clover is a fine fertilizer no one will question. He intends to try a part of his orchard land with alfalfa and timothy.

Another item that has just been handed to me by my neighbor, B. H. Bryant, that will be of interest to the readers of the Mail Tribune is that on last Wednesday, April 23, evening, a number of our musically inclined citizens met in Brown's hall and organized a brass band of 16 pieces, with Frank Nichols as director; A. E. Strong, secretary and treasurer; P. T. Wilfley, Herbert Welmer and A. E. Strong, managing committee. The names of the pieces and names of players are as follows: Cornets, Frank Nichols and Herbert Welmer; clarinet, Herbert Carlton; piccolo, A. E. Strong; flute, Joseph Singleton; baritone, P. T. Wilfley; slide trombone, B. H. Bryant and Frank Newport; alto, Chalmers Ringer and Merritt Martin; tenor, Carl Ringer and Ray Harnish; b flat bass, William Wright; tuba, Frank Brown; snare drum, Joe Mooman; bass drum, Thomas Riley. As most of the members are old players, they will be making music in a short time. Quite a number of our young folk had planned to have a picnic dinner upon the banks of Rogue river last Sunday, but the day was so cold and windy that only part of them went and they divided, some of them going up to Peter Betz, on Rogue river, and some of them to F. J. Ayres', but they report having had a fine time even if it was a cold day.

In a former article I spoke of the action of the school board in employing the teachers for the next year and yesterday morning I had a talk with F. Polonzo, one of the directors and he tells me that they have not secured the services of Professor Buchanan of Butte Falls, as announced. He had put in his application and the board had decided to employ him and so notified him, but as he has not notified them of his acceptance of their offer they are looking for another man. I also spoke of one of our teachers, Miss Jane Knox, who has charge of the third, next to the highest, room, being left without a school, and I wish to state that she did not apply for a position here, as she has a school engaged near Portland.

ALONG ROGUE RIVER

There is some talk of the Portland Cement company starting a plant about two and one-half miles from Rogue River and the Commercial club is offering every inducement to get the plant near this city. There are some obstacles in the way but the club realizes that these must be met and overcome and are doing all in their power to help get the plant started. There is some talk of building a trolley line out to the plant. This is a pretty big undertaking for so small a city but Rogue River has enough push and energy to remove mountains.

M. S. Johnson was a Medford visitor Wednesday.

H. N. Starr of the Starr Mercantile company spent Sunday with his family in Grants Pass.

Judge and Mrs. O. H. Gilmore spent Tuesday in Medford the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Streets.

Ward Gage and J. W. Jacobs were in Grants Pass on Wednesday looking after business matters.

Rev. Maury Spencer will be installed pastor of the Presbyterian church on Thursday evening, May 1. Rev. Spencer has supplied the pulpit ably and well for the last ten months and has received a call to become the regular pastor here. The public is invited to attend this service at 7:30 p. m.

The improvement club has secured Professor Horard of the University of Oregon to give a lecture on bird life in the opera house on May 17th. The lecture is free and the public is invited.

James Martin of this city has been elected delegate to represent the Southern Oregon Presbytery at the general assembly to meet in Atlanta, Ga., next June.

Miss Nannie Oden has gone to Three Pines to spend the summer.

The Ladies' Improvement club is pushing matters in regard to the Harvest Festival for next fall. The committees have all been appointed and are planning the work and the ladies hope to get the help of every one in the community and have a display which will be a credit to this part of the valley. The club has also taken up the Industrial Fair for the school children and have promised Superintendent Wells to see that prizes are offered and every encouragement possible given the boys and girls in this movement.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Miller of Portland, have moved onto their Evans creek ranch and Mr. Miller will work the place himself.

WILLOW SPRINGS TWIGLETS

Will Packham spent Monday in Talent.

D. S. Blackford and Ralph Dean during the last few days purchased automobiles.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hoy are visiting Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Stone. They will leave shortly for their home at Woodstock, Ill., after touring the northwest.

Mr. and Mrs. John Slaty, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Dean and family motored to Sams valley Sunday. They spent the day with Mrs. Dean's mother.

L. M. Foss has been in Portland several days on business and while there took time to digest a number of fine operas and enjoy a breath of city life.

The grange will hold a box social at the schoolhouse Saturday evening, May 10, 1913. The program will be a great treat and we hope to see everyone from everywhere come and enjoy themselves. Wait for the posters.

The Willow Springs baseball team won the game played at the school rally Friday afternoon. The boys certainly played an interesting game as the league teams, the score being nine to three. A prize was awarded to the champion.

Do not forget the Parent-Teachers' club, Friday afternoon. An interesting program has been planned by Miss Taylor, who has the afternoon's work in charge.

Willow Springs Rally. One thousand strong was the number at the rally Friday, April 25, the largest gathering of this kind ever held in the state of Oregon. The schools participating were Tolo, Table Rock, Agate, Central Point, Dardanel, North Jacksonville and Willow Springs. They came from far and near, on horseback, in automobiles, on hayracks, everything but aeroplanes.

During the forenoon the program was rendered by all the schools combined, the Central Point band furnishing music frequently. At noon luncheon was served by the ladies of the district, to the speakers, directors, band boys and guests in general. Coffee was prepared for all and, by the way, the coffee, sugar and prizes were donated by the merchants of Central Point.

The afternoon's program consisted of addresses by George A. Briscoe, of Ashland; B. F. Mulkey, of Medford, and J. Percy Wells of Jacksonville. Mrs. Mable Babson entertained the audience with a piano selection and Rev. Aldrich, in his ever pleasing manner, convulsed the house with his character sketches. Interspersed with these numbers was music by the band.

While standing room was impossible, baseball, tennis and croquet were indulged in by the younger set.

The leading feature of the day's entertainment was the awarding of a certificate to our school district, No. 14, proclaiming it to be "a Standard school," the first in the valley.
