BOY IS SENT TO AID SOCIETY

Lawrence Roundtree, who lives with an uncle, and who will be 16 years of age in June, was sent to the Boys and Girls Aid society at Portland Monday by Juvenile Judge F. L. Tou Velle. The boy is said to have attempted to wring a five-year-old baby girl.

At his hearing before Judge Tou Velle today the boy admitted for the first time that he was guilty and when asked if he knew it was wrong he stated he did and that he did not know why he had done so. Judge Tou Velle believing that the boy should be given a chance sent him to the Aid society rather than to the reform school. He has never had the advantage of a mother's training.
