

COUNCIL PASSES WEED ORDINANCE

Routine business was transacted by the city council at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening. The Fourth of July celebration committee was empowered to act as it saw fit for the occasion. Several ordinances were passed. Licenses granted and the monthly bills allowed. Paul Krutzer of Riverside avenue dramatically protested the action of the water superintendent in cutting off his water because he would not install a meter for the two acres he was irrigating, but the council refused to interfere. Paving of several alleys was ordered.

The measure requiring the removal of weeds, etc., passed without a dissenting vote. It concerns all property within the city limits, except where grass is grown for crops or grazing purposes. It will mean less danger from fire this summer and a more beautiful city.

City Handed to July 4th Committee
By unanimous adoption of a resolution the streets and alleys, vacant places and public spaces were officially handed over to the Fourth of July committee on that day to be used as the said committee may see fit, providing that the interests of the merchants and ordinances of the city are not interfered with.

Special provision was made to prevent fakirs and transient peddlers from selling their wares and competing with local merchants. Otherwise the entire city shall be at the disposal and under the direction of the committee.

Drinking Fountains
The question of allowing free drinking fountains in business houses was taken up, but the matter was referred to a committee. A compressed air tank, that is necessary before the siren whistle on the fire hall can be used, will probably be provided for at the next meeting.

An ordinance requiring that a license of $20 be paid before an automobile owner can use his car inside the city limits of Medford for hire and establishing a maximum rate was referred to the license committee.

New Sewers and Sidewalks
An ordinance requiring a sewer system between Second and Ninth streets, on Oak street was unanimously passed at the city council meeting last night, as well as one for a sidewalk on East Main. Sidewalks one side of Dakota avenue, where several property owners have neglected to construct them, were also required by a unanimous motion.

WORDEN DEFEATS WHITE IN KLAMATH RECALL

KLAMATH FALLS, June 4.—With a majority of nearly three to one, Will S. Worden defeated Frank Ira White in the recall election for County Judge. The total vote, not counting some small outlying precincts, which will make Worden's lead still further, gives Worden 2,065 to White's 803. This leaves Worden a majority of 1,262.

It also shows that the vote all over the county was by far the largest ever cast in any sort of an election, the total reaching nearly 3,000 when the final figures are all in and counted. This vote was largely added to by the women who have been given suffrage, this being their first general vote. The figures last night show a vote of 2,868.

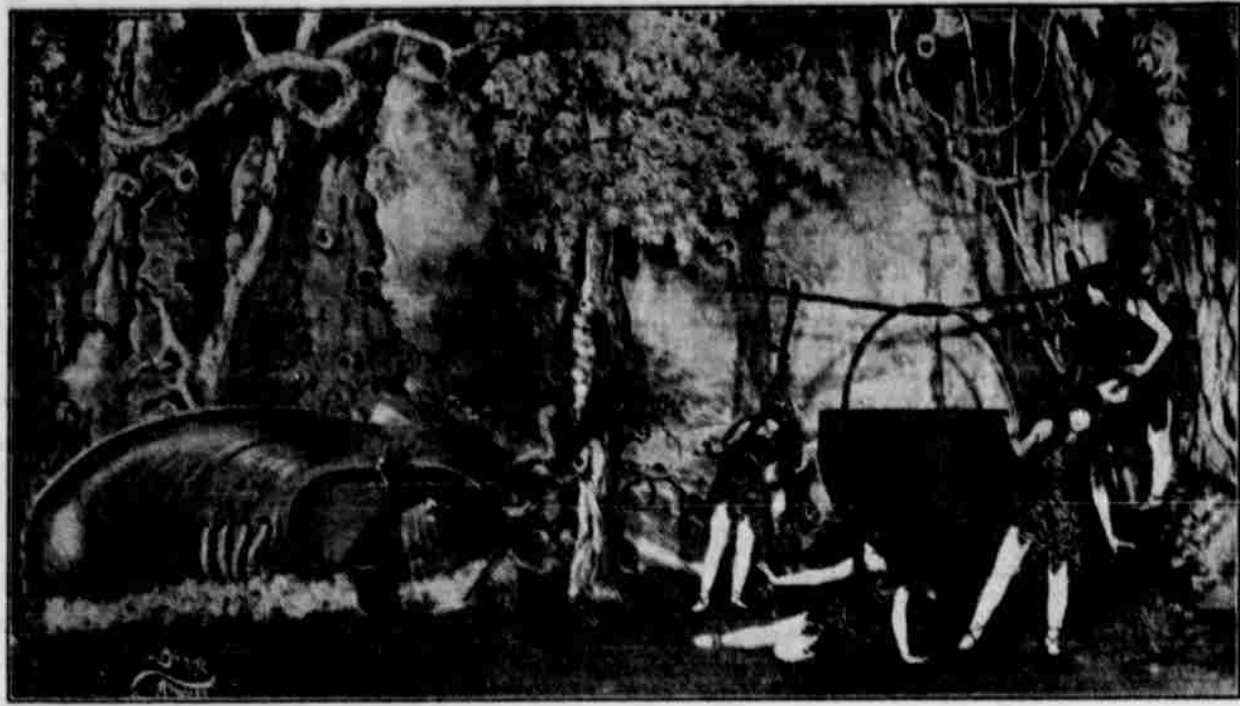

BRITISH TREATY FOR ARBITRATION EXPIRES

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Uncle Sam's arbitration treaty with Great Britain, which has been in force since 1908, and under which such questions as the Newfoundland fisheries dispute and the Alaskan seal controversy were settled, expired today. A new treaty will probably be considered immediately by the diplomats of England and America. If one is put through to take the place of the old one, it will be the first during W. J. Bryan's term as secretary of state.

O. N. G. ENCAMPMENT WILL BEGIN AUGUST 19

Word has been received by Captain A. W. Deane that the annual encampment of the Coast Artillery corps, O. N. G., at Fort Stevens will begin August 19 this year. The Seventh company is now preparing itself to uphold its 100 per cent efficiency record of last year, and from now until camp time will hold frequent drills and instruction in the fire control work connected with firing the 10-inch guns.

USE SUN FLASHES TO FIGHT FOREST FIRE

GRANTS PASS, June 4.—Super-visor Maeduff of the Siskiyou forest reserve has received a heliograph outfit for installation in the reserve to aid in the reporting of fires within the territory. Mess ages are transmitted by these instruments by the means of mirror flashes, and the ones received here are the regular U. S. army type. One of the instruments will be established at Snow camp, at the head of the Pistol river in Curry county, and another on Pack Saddle mountain on the Winchuck, 25 miles distant, and it is expected that no difficulty will be experienced in reading the mirror flash messages at this distance on reasonably clear days.

Later another set of two instruments is expected to arrive, and these will be established on High Dome and on Ship mountain. These four heliograph stations will cover the territory not already covered with telephone.

BIG VAUDEVILLE SHOW PAGE THIS AFTERNOON

The second week of Pantage's vaudeville will open this afternoon at the Page theatre with what promises to be one of the best bills seen on this circuit in many months. All along the line from Portland south the press comments have been most enthusiastic. The price, 25 cents, for the afternoon and 35 cents and 25 cents in the evening gives Medford people the best variety show in the state for the money. The new Page is the coldest building in the city and the management have supplied every convenience for their guests.
