STANTON GRIFFIS' BUNGALOW BURNS

The bungalow of Stanton Griffis together with two hundred and fifty dollars in paper and silver representing the entire savings of Mia Hara, the Japanese cook were burned in a fire yesterday afternoon. The house was on the Burrell orchard.

Many valuable pieces of furniture and bric-a-brac, rugs, pictures and a well stocked library, also were destroyed but by strenuous efforts on the part of the owner and ranch helpers the silver, piano and considerable linen and house furnishings were saved.

The cause of the fire which was first noticed about 2:30 in the afternoon is a mystery. Mr. Griffis was at work in the orchard and the Jap boy was working in the garden. A ranch hand first noticed smoke issuing from a window and in a few minutes the entire structure was in flames.

BUD COMING TO RIDE ELKS' GOAT

PORTLAND, Ore., June 11.—Bud Anderson, who is matched to fight Lench Cross, the New York dentist at Los Angeles July 4, will leave for Medford tonight where he will spend several days before going to the scene of battle to begin training.

Dr. Conroy examined Bud's thumb which was injured in his fight with Mandot recently, and found that it was almost ready for service and that the plaster of Paris cast could be discarded soon.

SUBMARINE UNDER WATER FOR 27 HOURS

LONG BEACH, Cal., June 11.—At 8 o'clock this morning the Cage submarine, the invention of John M. Cage, of Long Beach, holds a new world's record for submergence, having been under the water for twenty-seven hours. The previous record of twenty-four hours was made by the United States Submarine, Octopus, at Narragansett Pier, R. I., in 1907.

Word came from the boat this morning that everything is in good shape, and it is expected the boat will stay down until 5 o'clock this afternoon, as originally planned, making a record of thirty-six hours. Guy V. Hoopengartner, business manager of the submarine boat company, and a former telegraph operator, has been constantly at the wire which connects the boat with the Postal Telegraph Company's Los Angeles office, keeping in touch with the upper world and sending hundreds of messages from the bottom of the sea to all parts of the country.

FEDERAL REGULATION OF JOURNALISM.

THE decision of the federal supreme court that newspapers must publish statements concerning their ownership, indebtedness and circulation and mark all paid reading matter as "advertising" brings us a step further along toward government control of journalism and a possible censorship.

The newspaper is a semi-public institution to a certain extent a public carrier, and the public has a right to certain knowledge concerning its ownership, management and conduct. This right has long been recognized and most reputable papers have published their circulation figures, and properly labeled their advertisements. Those who do business with it, have had access to its financial condition.

In semi-public institutions, there is always a question where the dividing line between public and private interests extends. The government has now pushed the public rights further than ever before and places information hitherto regarded as purely personal to stockholders before the world.

The danger in the decision seems to be the precedent established of giving postal authorities almost arbitrary control over private property. It would not be a difficult matter to push the control a little further and legalize a censorship that would effectually destroy the liberty of the press.

If the government will now only establish the rates newspapers can charge for services rendered, so that the publishers can realize a fair return upon the investment, which few do now, every publisher will hail government regulation of journalism with delight. As it is, the government is only concerned about the debts and the public about getting the service at less than cost.

ADVICE FROM DESTROYERS.

THERE has been more or less criticism by the Oregonian and other opponents of higher education of the Mail Tribune's assertion that the way to stop the continued abuse of the referendum against the state university appropriations would be to apply the referendum also against the O. A. C. Nevertheless, it is the truth.

If the referendum had been applied two years ago to the O. A. C. or at least circulated, there is slight doubt but that the O. A. C. forces which fostered the university referendum would have compromised.

The situation was the same this year. The referendum could have been used as a club in self defense or as a weapon in offensive warfare. The powerful friends and sympathizers of the O. A. C. would have seen to it that their pet tax-eating institution was not exposed and the skeleton kept dangling in the closet instead of shaking its white bones in the glare of publicity.

Of course the university can not engage in the referendum business, but there is nothing to keep its friends from nothing to hinder those who believe in fair play from it. It is no worse for the university to play the game than for the agricultural college, though the Oregonian thinks it awful. But there is never a word of censure for the notorious political activities of the O. A. C. while the university is told to meekly await the slaughter which its enemies have marked it for, in order to enhance the greatness of the agricultural college.

The Mail Tribune's pressman has been busy with his pencil and has figured out that it requires 12,656,250 lines, feet of paper to print one year's issue of the Mail Tribune, or one strip of paper 72 inches in width 2400 miles in length, or in air line almost from Medford to New York.

Of Interest to Dairymen

The amount of salt necessary in butter depends largely upon the market requirements and varies from three-fourths of an ounce to an ounce and a half per pound of butter, one ounce per pound being the average.

The temperature at which cream should be churned will vary according to the conditions from as low as fifty degrees in the summer time to 65 degrees in the winter. We cannot set a temperature at which you churn. The temperature will have to be determined by experimenting and should be such as will bring the butter in small granules about thirty to forty minutes after starting to churn.

The best method of preserving butter and the method that is used almost exclusively is by chilling it to a freezing point or below and keeping it until ready to use, in that condition. This is the way they store all storage butter, but on the farm very good results have been obtained by keeping it in a strong salt brine solution. The butter is packed in stone jars and the brine is poured over the top and left in as cool a place as possible until you are ready to use it. You will find that great care must be taken in the selection of the cream and the care of the butter in this kind of storage, but if proper methods are used in handling, the butter can be kept from four to six months in good condition.

200 MEXICAN TROOPS DYNAMITED IN TRAIN

NOGALES, Ariz., June 11.—Two hundred Mexican federal troops are reported dead today in the dynamiting of a troop train near Guaymas by constitutionalists. Many others were wounded. A detachment of General Ojeda's federals immediately began pursuit of the insurgents. With Medford trade is Medford made.

ASHLAND MAN FIRST GROOM UNDER NEW LAW

The first marriage license under the new law, whereby the groom is forced to take a physical examination and present a physician's certificate, was issued Wednesday to Wm. B. Isaacs and Attie Barnehardt of Ashland. The couple were made man and wife by Judge Tou Velle, the witnesses being Alden P. Whitney and Ursel Wasson.

DOLL SHOP AT PAGE NEXT FRIDAY

Do you folks believe in Fairies, As they did in Peter Pan, If you do, our task is easy Entertain you now we can.

But it's not as with little Peter, Who to manhood never grew And not with Mother Windy Nor with the Pirate crew.

It's just with lots of dollies, Who tho' stiff by day When, at night aroused by Fairies, Can sing, dance and play.

We have dolls from merry England, Who can walk for miles and miles, We have others fresh from Paris In their very latest styles.

We have dolls from far off China, And the flowery kingdom to, We have dollies Dutch and German And some from Yankee Doodle Doo.

Oh, I might go on forever, 'Bout the dolls in our shop, But you'll never see them never, Unless I really stop.

In the prologue Florence Trovbridge gives before the curtain arises upon the wonderful shop full of dollies of all nationalities and the old shopman is seen sitting there snoring away thinking of his dolls, in busy time the funny old workman is busy repairing broken dolls. The dolls are impregnated by many of Medford's clever young people who are as follows:

Broken doll, Vera Olmstead; Baby Doll, Helen Parmer; Colonial Doll, Helen Dahl; Parisian Doll, Dorothy Wicke; Dutch Doll, Mrs. C. E. Lalleau; Lumpy, the famous rag doll, Fletecher Fish; Topsy, Will Beveridge, and many others.

DON'T OVERLOOK THIS

A Careful Perusal Will Prove Its Value to Every Mail Tribune Reader.

The average man is a doubter, and there is little wonder that this is so. Misrepresentations make people skeptics. News-days the public ask for better evidence than the testimony of strangers. Here is proof which should convince every Mail Tribune reader.

H. J. Durfee, 32 North Bartlett Street, Medford, Oregon, says: "I was troubled by my kidneys off and on for years. If I caught a slight cold, it always settled in them, causing my back to become very lame, weak and painful. Last summer I was suffering in that way and on a friend's advice, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills. I found this remedy to be exactly as represented and in a few days the trouble left me. I know of many other persons who have obtained benefit from Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FOR THE NECK AND SHOULDERS

A Free Prescription That Instantly Obliterates Blemishes, Tan, Freckles, and the Marks Left by High Collars.

The Dutch neck and the evening gown too often expose the discoloration and blemishes of high collars or the effects of tan and freckles. It is easy to overcome these conditions and make the neck beautiful and white and soft and smooth—to overcome, in other words, every blemish and make the low neck as attractive as it is comfortable. This preparation can also be used on the shoulders and face, and it is marvelously effective to beautify the hands and arms.

If you want to try it, go to your druggist and get a one-ounce bottle of Kulux Compound. Pour the entire contents into a two-ounce bottle, add quarter ounce witch hazel, then fill with water. Prepare this at your own home. One application will delight you. It is deliciously cool and soothing and it is not affected by perspiration. It will not rub off.

If you put it on one hand only, or on one side of the neck and note the difference, you will see the wonderful change it makes instantly. The results are immediate and continued use of this preparation will keep your skin as soft and smooth as a child's.

"HOW DID THE BIRD KNOW THAT?"

Knowledge is power. Our knowledge of your wishes is the powerful factor in our business.

Our knowledge of the drug business in all its details— Which will be apparent to you the minute you enter this store— Will only gain as your confidence That confidence by which we will hold your business.

The sweetness of low price seldom equals the bitterness of poor quality.
