A. S. Rosenbaum, general manager of Harriman lines in Medford, has received the following from Southern Pacific officials:

"The Southern Pacific company will take pleasure in donating a silver cup to the Jackson County fair, to be held in your city September 17 to 21. It is our suggestion that the prize be given in the interest of the poultry industry as we are satisfied there is no better section in the country than the Rogue River Valley for this industry. We hope your people will agree with this view and on advice of the name of the fowl they select for our prize, we will go ahead and have the necessary wording placed on our cup.

JOHN W. SCOTT,
General Passenger Agent,
H. A. HINSHAW,
General Freight Agent."

HOMESEEKERS WARNED BY OREGON BANKERS

PORTLAND, Ore., June 19.—Oregon bankers are today sending broadcast warnings to prospective homeseekers, homesteaders and immigrants against speculators and "wildcaters," and advising consultation with committees composed of local commercial club members and bankers before land purchases are made. The movement is not aimed at legitimate real estate agents, explained Leslie Butler, a banker of Hood River, who has returned from the state convention at Salem, but against those who have been keeping productive lands out of productivity and holding them for advance at enormous figures.

"Designing promoters," he said, "have taken advantage of Oregon's lead in encouraging city men to go back to the farm and have bought up fine tracts for sale at unnatural profits."

COVE FLOURING MILLS BURNED TO THE GROUND

COVE, Ore., June 19.—The Cove Flouring Mills and Warehouse burned to the ground early this morning, involving a loss that will exceed $40,000. An electrical storm may have caused the blaze, which was discovered by the miller after he had begun work.

BANK ROBBER VISITS MINE CAMP ON WAY TO SEA

ROSEBURG, Ore., June 19.—Sheriff Quine today is redoubling his efforts to capture Raymon Diamond, the young man who robbed the Glendale state bank, following arrival of a miner from a camp twenty-five miles west of Glendale, who related a thrilling story of a visit paid the mine by the fugitive.

According to the miner, Diamond entered the mine bunkhouse and calmly sat down, with rifle slung over his arm. Though he did not let his finger leave the trigger and though he eyed his hosts closely, he made no hostile demonstration.

The miners were taken completely off guard, though they had been warned to be on the lookout. After inquiring the way to the coast, Diamond waved his hand and started away in the direction of Gold Beach.

As he heard the miner's story, Quine notified the sheriff at Gold Beach to patrol the trails and himself threw a posse along the back track to prevent escape should Diamond receive warning and retrace his steps. He now believes he has Diamond surrounded so that escape will be difficult.

NEW ROAD SURVEYED OVER MCKENZIE PASS

EUGENE, Ore., June 19.—Ralph B. Hunt, a civil engineer, left Eugene today, accompanied by a crew of ten men, for the upper McKenzie country to lay out a new road over the McKenzie pass across the summit of the Cascade mountains into Eastern Oregon, which promises to become a popular route for automobilists, as the grade is much lighter than by the old route and the road can be made much smoother than the other. Dan Linton, who has been up there all spring in the employ of the county, keeping a portion of the road in repair, accompanies the party as guide. He says that portion of the road built last year is in good condition and practically as good as when laid out. There is still much snow on the summit of the mountains, but the surveying crew will work on the lower levels till the hot weather melts all of it off.

HUMAN TIGER HANGS ON FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Attorneys for Jacob Oppenheimer, "the human tiger of Folsom," have failed to obtain from Supreme Court Justice McKenna writ of error to reverse the judgment of United States Judge Van Fleet of San Francisco, and unless Governor Johnson of California decides again to reprieve the notorious murderer, Oppenheimer will hang at Folsom prison tomorrow.

Justice McKenna did not palter on the plea of Oppenheimer's attorneys. He flatly refused their petition. The attorneys this afternoon are trying to get another justice of the supreme court to issue a writ of error to act as a stay, but it is more than doubtful if they will succeed.

HENWOOD FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

DENVER, June 19.—The jury in the second trial of Harold Henwood for the killing of Geo. E. Copeland, brought in a verdict of first degree murder last night and prescribed the death penalty.

Henwood shot Copeland, Sylvester L. von Phul of St. Louis, and James W. Atkinson in a barroom at a local hotel May 24, 1911.

Copeland and Von Phul died. In the first trial Henwood was convicted of murder in the second degree.

Henwood testified the quarrel with Von Phul resulted from the attempt he made to secure letters which had been written to Von Phul by Mrs. John W. Springer, a Denver society woman, wife of a wealthy banker and stock raiser.

Mrs. Springer was divorced from her husband after the shooting. On the second trial Springer took the stand in behalf of Henwood. Copeland and Atkinson were bystanders when Henwood began shooting.

The verdict came as a complete surprise to Henwood and his friends who expected acquittal or at the worst a second degree verdict. Henwood nearly collapsed when the result was known and for some time appeared dazed and bewildered. Although his lawyers will appeal it is probable that a new trial will not be granted and only a pardon can save the convicted man from the death penalty.
