Mr. Bowlby favors a 16-foot road-bed for the main county artery, with 8-foot laterals. By grading the road-bed 16 or 20 feet wide for 8-foot roads, there is ample room for turn outs and the money will go twice as far.

As Jackson county is the first county to go ahead with the bonding proposition, it will receive first aid from the state, asserts Mr. Bowlby, confirming statements made here by Commissioner Kay. Next year material assistance in cash from the state can be expected.

BEGGARS REAP RICH HARVESTS

That it pays to be a beggar in Medford was shown when an able bodied deaf and dumb man cashed in forty odd dollars in nickels and dimes at a local store Monday evening, the result of one day's alms seeking in Medford. At this rate, his income is over a $1000 a month.

A short time ago a "blind beggar" and a woman companion reaped a rich harvest singing on Medford streets. The couple were ejected from their hotel, when it was found they were frauds and both could see.

Ninety-nine out of every hundred beggars that drop off in Medford are professional beggars and should be branded as frauds and ordered out of the city. Most of the alleged institutions solicited for are also fraudulent.

TO STOP RUNNING LIVE STOCK AT LARGE

A petition is being circulated to enforce the new state law prohibiting the running of cattle and domestic animals at large in Northeast Medford precinct, excluding Roxy Ann. Twenty-five per cent of the voters are necessary to legalize the petition. The law makes it illegal to pasture animals on the neighborhood and animals permitted to run at large can be taken up and impounded at the owner's expense.

Northeast Medford has suffered considerably from the raids of cattle and horses and is the first district to enforce the new law.

RESURVEY OF ALASKAN WATERS PETITIONED FOR

KETCHIKAN, Alaska, July 1.—Mariners are preparing to petition for a re-survey of Alaskan waters, today, following an accident to the steamer Al Ki, Captain W. E. Gup-till, which ran on an uncharted rock near Klawock reef and ground off her keel. This is the fourth accident in two weeks to steamers plying the Alaska trade, all of which have been caused by vessels hitting uncharted rocks. Two of the vessels were lost and two are in need of repairs.

The Al Ki stopped here for an examination and is proceeding south under her own steam.

AMERICAN WIFE DIVORCED FROM INDIAN HUSBAND

SEATTLE, Wash., July 1.—On the grounds of cruelty and personal indignities which she charges were inflicted upon her, Ruth Anna Singh, an American girl, is divorced today from her Hindu husband. The wedding occurred on April 10, 1910, when Ruth was only seventeen. On the witness stand the wife said that her husband refused to take her out to amusements, quarreled all the time and laughed at her when she grew hysterical. She said her husband always slept with his head to the east and prayed forty-five minutes a day.

LEVY REFUSES TO BET ANY MONEY ON RIVERS' CHANCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 1.—If Willie Ritchie, lightweight champion, has ten thousand dollars to gamble that he beats Joe Rivers here on July 4, Joe Levy of Los Angeles, Rivers' manager, is glad of it. But that's all. Levy doesn't want any of Willie's coin at the prevailing odds of ten to eight, or at any other odds.

"All I hope is that Willie gets it down," said Levy today, "but he won't. Will we take any of it? Why should we? If we win we get the big prize—the championship. That's the only chance we're taking. We will be thoroughly satisfied with that."

And Levy's view is about that of the most of the betters. Ritchie is still a ten to eight favorite but there is little money going down. Many persons like Rivers, they say, but few back their opinion with their coin. The impression is strong, and is hourly growing stronger, that Wolfgang Ritchie more in sixteen rounds than Rivers can. And still Ritchie came along and won with the old right cross, for, though a foul ended the fight, Wolfgang was stung and stung hard by that same smashing right.

Two factors are believed to weigh heavily against Rivers. Ritchie's right cross to Rivers' glass jaw. In working out here with his sparring partners, Young Huddy and Cove have repeatedly reached the Mexican with the right cross. Of course, the blows were light but it is pointed out that Ritchie waited sixteen rounds to put that punch on Wolfgang, and it is predicted that if Rivers is as open to it as he seems there will be mighty little fight after that blow lands.

SEEK TO BRING NURSERYMEN HERE

N. L. Bennett, the nurseryman, has returned by auto from Portland where with H. B. Patterson, he represented Medford at the Nurserymen's National association and strived to bring the next coast convention here.

"I think we can secure the convention for 1916," said Mr. Bennett, "but the exposition will prevent our bringing it before, although we placed the town on the nurserymen's map and they all know we are after it. The first sun seen in two weeks was in the Rogue river valley. It has rained continuously at Portland. The roads are in bad shape, in consequence."

"I see Medford is voting on an official rose. I prefer the Urie Brunner, as the best all round rose for this section."
