

HOUSE LEADER FLAYS MULHALL; DENIES CHARGES

Underwood, Democratic Whip Denounces Ex-Lobbyist in Bitter Attack Before Senate—Testimony Shows Watson of Indiana Ingrate.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—One of the biggest and most significant explosions caused by the revelations of Martin M. Mulhall, former lobbyist for the National Association of Manufacturers, came today when Oscar Underwood, democratic house leader, openly attacked Mulhall before the senate lobby probes, before whom Mulhall's cross-examination will begin this afternoon. And Underwood got little satisfaction when he denied Mulhall's claims to a close acquaintance.

Soon after today's session started Underwood appeared in the committee room. He evidently was angered by Mulhall's testimony that he had frequently conferred with the house leader. Interrupting the proceedings, Underwood pointed to Mulhall and shouted:

Denounced by Underwood
"Is that Mulhall? Well, I never saw him before. I tell you, it is not right to let a man like this attack public men, particularly when he is blackmailing his former employers. That man was never in my committee room."

"You say 'blackmail,'" said Senator Reed, "that means that money has been demanded."

"Well, I won't merely make a statement," said Underwood. "I want to be put under oath. I sent my janitor here to deny Mulhall's statements and he was sent back."

"Other substantiated have denied Mulhall's statements, too," said Reed, "but afterward we saw receipts for the money paid them."

Underwood then in a sworn statement denounced Mulhall. Referring to a letter which mentioned him, Underwood said:

Underwood's Denial
"This letter in itself manifestly shows Mulhall lying. I know neither Emery nor Kirby, and positively have not talked with either about labor matters. His whole statement is made of whole cloth. To show you how Mulhall lied, he states there was an issue about making Congressman Wilson of Pennsylvania chairman of the labor committee. There was no such issue. The man is lying. He was merely trying to make these people believe there was something doing to earn his money."

"Mulhall's face is an unusual one and I would know if I ever saw it. I may have talked to Kirby in a corridor, but the personnel of the labor committee of 1910 shows that it could not have been satisfactory to an anti-labor faction."

Senator Walsh of Montana then read a letter from Emery, chief counsel for the N. A. M., to Mulhall which had inclosed two checks for $75 each to be given to Harry Neal and Harry Thornton, janitors

DANIELS TO COME ABOARD OREGON

PORTLAND, Or., July 29.—After spending a strenuous day in Oregon which included a trip to the mouth of the Columbia river and reached its climax in a banquet given in his honor by the commercial club and attended by 400 prominent business and professional men, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and party departed for Spokane last night on the first lap of his return journey to Washington.

During his visit the statement that evoked perhaps the greatest enthusiasm was made at Astoria from the summit of Telegraph Hill, 400 feet above the city, in which he declared:

"I will come to Oregon again next year, and the next time I come it will be through the Panama canal on the battleship Oregon at the head of the battle fleet of the nation."

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst Refuses to Eat, Drink or Sleep and Paces Cell all the Time, Refusing to Lie Down—Attack on Prison Feared.

LONDON, July 29.—Fearing that suffragettes plan an attack on the institution as a result of yesterday's demonstration there, Scotland Yard detectives today surround Holloway prison, where Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, daughter of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, is confined. As the result of her appearance yesterday at the weekly suffragette meeting at Pavilion hall, Mrs. Pankhurst was reported considerably weaker today.

It was learned today that Sylvia Pankhurst has started a sleep strike. She refuses either to eat or drink and paces her cell all night, refusing to lie down.

Two women arrested as a result of yesterday's demonstration at Holloway prison were entered to two months' imprisonment. Their names were not announced.

CAMINETTI TRIAL BEGINS WEDNESDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 29.—Maury Diggs and F. Drew Caminetti will lead here tomorrow in the United States district court, division number one to the charge of violating the Mann white slave act. The attorneys for the defense will be Robert Devlin, Ned Conaghan, M. B. Woodworth and Luke Howe of Sacramento.

Caminetti and his counsel appeared in court today to plead, but were advised that he had made a mistake in the date.

The defendants tomorrow will plead to the specific charge of transporting Marsha Warrington and Lola Norris out of the state for immoral purposes. August fifth they will plead to the charge of conspiracy to violate the Mann act.

F. C. Koon, a real estate dealer of Seattle, and R. H. Frazer, a piano instructor of the Sound city, have arrived here en route to Crater lake, having made the entire trip on bicycles without a puncture. They encountered bad roads out of Seattle, due to rainy weather, but found the Pacific highway in good shape, the best stretches being in the Willamette and Rogue River valleys. At Cowitz river they encountered a flood and were forced to take a boat for twenty-five miles, the roads being under water.

They will go to the lake and back on bicycles, thence to San Francisco, where they will ship their wheels home and return by boat.

SEATTLE TO CRATER LAKE BY BICYCLE

MADERO'S FRIENDS NIP PLAN TO WORSHIP FELIX DIAZ

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 29.—Plans for the entertainment of Felix Diaz, nephew of the Mexican dictator in this city, were abandoned today and arrangements made to cut his sojourn in San Diego as short as possible, when it was learned that sympathizers of the Madero government in the Mexican quarter here were threatening violence against Diaz, who was expected to reach the city on the American-Hawaiian liner Virginia late today on his way to Japan.

NO MEXICAN POLICY FORMED BY PRESIDENT

Wilson Withholds Definite Action to Give Mexicans Chance to Adjust Their Own Quarrels—Thinks Hard Times Will Force Compromise.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—President Wilson for the present will announce no Mexican policy. This was admitted at the White House today. He has decided to withhold any definite action by the United States and to give the Mexicans an opportunity to reconcile their factional differences without interference of any kind by America.

President Wilson has let it be known that he believes the economic pressure in Mexico, which is terrific, will force a settlement between the warring factions. The industries of the country are paralyzed. Its merchants are bankrupt and French financiers who have loaned millions on millions in Mexico are pressing for reforms. Huerta, the president is informed, can bring peace to the land if he will retire, and the executive hopes that success will attend the efforts of European financiers, who are trying to force Huerta's resignation.

Prominent Mexicans have assured President Wilson that American mediation in Mexico might succeed, but they want a chance to straighten out the tangle themselves. It is not known how long President Wilson will wait for their efforts to bring fruit, but it is known he does not want to wait long.

The status of Ambassador Wilson, who is still here, still is unsettled. It is believed he will resign.

G. O. P. FAVORS TARIFF AGAINST MONEY

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Senator Galinger, on the floor of the senate, today threatened a republican filibuster on the tariff unless the democrats agree to drop all financial legislation at this session. He said:

"This session was called to consider the tariff and now we are told that we are to discuss currency revision. We must stay here and sweeter. I want to say that if I must stay here until snow flies we might as well stay to discuss the tariff as anything else."

MOTHER SEES DEAD CHILD AT MOVIES

BRUSSELS, July 29.—Among the merry crowds that throng the picture palaces at Liege may be seen each night a sad-faced, lonely woman clad in deepest mourning.

A few weeks ago her five-year-old daughter died. Shortly before, the child had been romping in the park with a number of companions when a cinematograph operator happened to take a picture of the scene. The film in which the child appears is now being shown at the various "movie" houses in the town, and the bereaved mother never misses an opportunity to watch the shadow of her little one flicker across the screen.

FIRST PHOTOGRAPHS OF POPE PIUS TAKEN SINCE ILLNESS.

That Pope Pius has fully regained his health, at least so far as his appearance goes, is indicated by photographs which have just arrived in the United States. These were the first taken since March, when his life was despaired of. The photographs show him to be as powerful and heavy as ever, and there is nothing to indicate that he has any kind of weakness.

SMOKED A PIPE REPAIRING AUTO NOW IN MORGUE

TACOMA, Wash., July 29.—Because he smoked a pipe while repairing an automobile, Gus Johnson, 48, an employee of the Kentucky Liquor company is dead here today from terrible burns which he received by the explosion of gasoline that followed.

Johnson, who was working beneath the machine in the basement of the store, lighted his pipe and tossed the burning match aside. It landed in a pool of gasoline which flared up and ignited oil dripping from the automobile and on other parts of the floor beneath the car. Before the man could crawl from under the machine it was a mass of flames. Then there was a terrific roar as the gasoline tank of the car exploded, throwing Johnson a distance of twenty feet.

The fire department was summoned and extinguished the fire before it spread to other combustible material near at hand.

CHINA STEADILY SUBDUES REVOLT

WASHINGTON, July 29.—That the Chinese republic is making steady advance toward suppressing the revolution there and that the revolt is expected to collapse soon is the advice received here today by the state department from Shanghai. Other dispatches indicated that Americans and all other foreigners are safe.

SHANGHAI, July 29.—Chinese rebels continued today to bombard the foreign settlement, but no loss of life was reported. Americans here believe the revolutionists are falling.

HARRIMAN'S DAUGHTER LOSES JEWELS.

NEW YORK, July 29.—A rope of pearls worth $60,000 and other gems to a total of $75,000 were stolen from the home of C. C. Rumsey at Narragansett Pier within the last forty-eight hours, according to delayed police information here today. Mrs. Rumsey was a daughter of the late E. H. Harriman. It is said that the thieves left not a single clue and it is even uncertain as to exactly when and in what way the robbery was perpetrated.

FREE WOMAN WHO SLEW BEAST WHO TOOK SHAME'S TOLL

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 29.—Free of all responsibility for the killing of the man who compelled her for years to lead a life of shame, Mrs. Leah Delmont walked out of a coroner's inquest room today with the congratulations of the jurors still ringing in her ears, climbed into the automobile of Mrs. Charles Wellington Rand, a wealthy society woman, and rolled away to begin a new life.

After Mrs. Delmont had told the jurors a story that brought tears to their eyes, the verdict that freed the woman was returned immediately. In a body, the jurors rushed to her and seized her hands or patted her shoulders reassuringly while they commended her act.

During her recital Mrs. Delmont made the startling statement that during the five years she worked for Delmont in the streets of a score of cities she earned about $6000, all of which was given to him. And in response to a question of why she had done this, she recently replied: "Because I loved him."

Accordingly to her story, Mrs. Delmont met her husband in San Francisco in 1906. Her parents were killed in the fire of that year, and with no one to turn to, she went with Delmont when he suggested that they take a long trip. She was then sixteen years of age. Immediately, the woman testified, he commanded her to "go to work." They traveled to Salt Lake City, Denver and many other cities.

WALL STREET STOCKS EVENLY BALANCED

NEW YORK, July 29.—Even distribution of gains and losses marked the opening of the stock market today. There were slight advances in Steel, Northern Pacific and Reading, while Can and Union Pacific were down half a point each.

After the first hour the market became reactionary and declines of a point or more occurred in such leading issues as Reading, Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Lehigh Valley and Can. The few gains were confined to stocks of little speculative importance.

Bonds were steady. The market closed strong.

WENATCHEE, WASH., JULY 29.—Milk from a cow which had grazed in an orchard sprayed with arsenate of lead is held responsible for the death of three babies here today. The babies were treated for dysentery and it was not until the cow died that the real cause of the deaths was revealed. All orchards in the valley were sprayed with this solution about ten days ago and precautions are being taken to prevent more fatalities.

OPERATORS WILL END STRIKE IF MEN BAR UNION

Copper Mine Owners Willing to Arbitrate if Western Federation Is Ignored—Hears Threats of Dynamite Against Homes.

CALUMET, Mich., July 29.—The operators in the copper district this afternoon agreed to meet representatives of their striking employees, but flatly refused to negotiate with officials of the Western Federation of Miners. It was believed all differences would be adjusted soon.

The Calumet and Hecla company last night smuggled several hundred men into the mines. It was reported that a plot had been discovered to dynamite a house where several mine operators are staying, but the miners ridiculed the rumor.

LANGSING, Mich., July 29.—Following a conference here today with Vice President Mahoney of the Western Federation of Miners, Governor Ferry announced that plans would be made to arbitrate the strike.

WOLGAST MONEY WAVED TO SEAL RITCHIE MATCH

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 29.—Ad Wolgast and Tom Jones appeared here today and almost before an audience had formed at their first port of call, renewed their talk of betting $25,000 that Wolgast can beat Willie Ritchie in a return match.

Jones, to emphasize his declarations, exhibited a package of bank notes, on the outside of which reposed a $1000 bill. He declared that he and Wolgast have raised the amount of their proposed bet, and that he will hound Ritchie until he leaves Los Angeles in an effort to force him into a match.

Wolgast's proposition, voiced by Jones, provides for the wagering of $20,000 at even money on the result of the battle, regardless of what the general betting odds may be. The remaining $5000 Wolgast wants to bet that he will knock out the champion, but he wants what Jones pompously termed "justifiable odds" for this bet.

DENY DISMISSAL OF CAMINETTI CASE

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Flat denial of reports that he intends to dismiss the Diggs-Caminetti and other white slavery cases because he has a new interpretation of the Mann law, was voiced here today by Attorney General McKeen.

"The reports are untrue," said McKeen. "The Diggs-Caminetti case will go to trial August 5."

SUPREME COURT RULES 8 HOUR LAW OFF BALLOT

Hands Down Detrimental Decision to Woman's Betterment—Klamath County Treasurer Must Name Depositories.

SALEM, Ore., July 29.—A case of much importance, that of Marie Equi and Mrs. Outman against Ben W. Olcott, secretary of state, was decided by the supreme court today. This case asks for a writ of mandamus to issue, compelling Olcott to place the women's eight hour bill proposed by initiative, on the ballot at the special election in November, 1913. Attorney General Crawford filed a demurrer in this case and the demurrer was sustained. This means that no measure other than those referred by the legislature can go on the ballot at the special election this year.

Other decisions handed down were: B. Graves versus Portland Railway, Light and Power Company, appellant; appealed from Multnomah county; action to recover damages for personal injuries, affirmed.

F. F. Williams versus Pacific Surety company, appellant; appealed from Multnomah county; motion to recall mandate, denied.

Prudential Loan and Trust company versus Merchants' National Bank, appellant; appealed from Multnomah county; involving garnishment proceedings, affirmed.

The supreme court also held today that the county depository law applied to this year, and that it was incumbent upon county treasurers to name depositories.

This decision was in a suit brought by the state, for the First National Bank of Klamath Falls, against J. W. Siemens, county treasurer of Klamath, in an original application for a writ of mandamus to compel the county treasurer to appoint county depositories, which he refused to appoint on the ground that the law did not become effective until June 3.

U. P. PRESIDENT DENIES CONSOLIDATION

PORTLAND, Ore., July 29.—A. L. Mohler, of Omaha, president of the Union Pacific, today denied that the matter of consolidating the management of the O. W. R. & N. Company and the Oregon Short Line with that of the parent system had ever been contemplated, and says that he does not believe such a plan would be practical. Rumors to the effect that such a consolidation would be made in the near future have been circulated at various times during the past few months.

President Mohler arrived today from San Francisco on a tour of the country and will remain here two or three days. He stated this his visit had no significance, being simply of a social nature.

I. W. W. DENOUNCED BY BILLY SUNDAY

HOOD RIVER, Or., July 29.—Billy Sunday, former major league baseball player, and for years a well-known evangelist, is emphatic today in his denunciation of anarchists and Industrial Workers of the World and their alleged vilification of the American flag. In a speech before the Horticultural Association here after he had scathingly arraigned the anarchists and Industrial Workers as being the greatest curse of the country, Sunday said:

"My father made bullet meat of himself for four years' fighting to free the slaves and prevent a disruption of the country. I am willing to do likewise for my flag."

Fair Weather Predicted.
PORTLAND, Ore., July 29.—Oregon: Fair tonight; Wednesday fair with rising temperatures interior northwest portion; northwesterly winds.
