E. J. Kaiser of Ashland, the veteran journalist, was in Medford Friday on his return from his first trip to Crater Lake. He states that there is a great deal of travel to the park, the roads thither from every direction being lined with conveyances carrying tourists.

E. J. Langley, Pioneer Miner of '52, Dead

E. J. Langley died at Watkins at the home of Willard W. Moses at 7 p. m. Friday, August 1, of old age. Mr. Langley was 81 years of age and one of the pioneers of Oregon.

LARGE CROWD ENJOYS EVERYWOMAN AT PAGE

A crowded house saw and heard the allegorical scenic production of "Everywoman" at the Page Friday evening and the audience evidently was greatly pleased. There were many pretty girls on the stage, the settings and costumes were elaborate, the morals that adorned the tale obvious.

ROBINSON SHOOTS SEASON'S FIRST DEER

Charles Robinson had the honor of getting the first deer of the season, bringing in a five-prong 200-pound buck from Griffin creek Friday morning.

SECRETARY GARRISON GOES THROUGH CITY

Secretary of War Garrison and party passed through Medford Friday evening en route to Portland from San Francisco. In the party were: Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war; General Leonard Wood, chief of staff; General J. B. Alshirk, quartermaster general; General E. M. Weaver, chief coast artillery; General Andrews, adjutant general.

northwest and of others who are undecided. Before sending such names in will, from the number allowed us, send a Jackson county book to each one, at our expense.

JURY DISAGREES IN FISH POACHER'S CASE

The trial of Cal Allen, Charles Mees and Wallace Le Clair, Grants Pass fishermen, arrested for fishing with nets under the Ament dam at Grants Pass Friday, resulted in a hung jury. The jury was discharged after being out several hours, and the case set for retrial Monday. Four stood for a verdict of guilty and two for acquittal. No evidence was submitted by the defense. Prosecutor Kelly represented the state, and will also again prosecute the case Monday.

"One Good Joke Deserves Another" One of the funniest "Bunny" comedies that has ever been released by the Vitagraph company is "One Good Joke Deserves Another," to be shown next Sunday and Monday nights at the H theater, and at the Sunday matinee, 2:30 p. m. Bunny plays a joke on his friend, who returns it with interest. The second joke is carefully planned and leads its victim into all kinds of trouble.

A dummy baby is thrown from a bridge into the water and Bunny is given the credit for the hoax by the frate fisherman who drags the river for the "corpse." Bunny thinks it a very poor kind of a joke, but the magistrate enjoys it and adds a little extra pointer of his own. It is a screaming farce which should not be missed. With this is a two-act special feature (Pathe), "Governor's Double"; (Edison), "Civic Parade of New York City"; "He Would Fix Things." The best possible for 10 cents only.
