EAGLE POINT EAGLES

By A. C. Howlett

Miss Marian Howan of Seattle, Wash., is here visiting the family of Frank Lewis.

E. J. Kaiser, for years editor and proprietor of the Valley, now the Ashland Record, came dashing in to the Sunny Side last Friday afternoon, said that he just ran in to say "How do you do," as he did not have time to stop but we, that is my wife and I, were glad to see him once more as your E. P. correspondent wrote regularly for his paper for eight years and we had many happy hours together.

The Ladies' Improvement club have had the park cleaned up and now it looks quite attractive.

C. H. Natrik is superintending the street work in this town and has a small force of men and teams at work, but after O. & C. P. Co. get the line up so as to furnish power for the rock crusher they, the city dade, will probably put on more force.

Mrs. E. O. Nichols, who has been visiting relatives and friends in San Francisco returned to her home last week and says that she is glad to be back to good old Rogue river valley once more.

Miss Gurnell Jackson, who has been on business in Butte Falls returned home last week and last Saturday had the company of Miss Edna Howers.

Miss Cantor of Derby attended church here last Sunday.

Last Sunday Mr. John Pelton and wife of Douglas county, his mother-in-law, Mrs. Granger and daughter Miss Marvin Granger of Ashland drove up in his auto and called for dinner. Mr. Pelton was elected sheriff of this county some years ago and when he left the office left it with a clean record and a host of friends.

We also had Mrs. Ariles—that is the way she spells her name—Green daughter of the late J. J. Fryer, who has been stopping in Seattle for sometime here for dinner, she was on her way to Los Angeles where she was formally in business. She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ada Hicks and Mrs. Hicks' daughter, Mrs. B. A. Freedland of San Francisco, they were all here Sunday for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. C. Hurn and their two boys, Lee and Joe, Miss Mable Proutt, Miss Mable Wamsley and her father, G. H. Wamsley, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moomaw, W. D. Knighton and wife, Clay Cole, J. H. Colby of the Medford lumber yard and Jud Edsall were also guests at the Sunny Side for dinner. Jud Edsall came in from Klamath Falls Saturday night. He has been engaged in the logging business out there this past season.

Clay Cole, the engineer on the P. & E. railroad, who has been up in the Willamette valley, on a vacation for the past two weeks returned to his post Monday morning, and Mr. Dozier who has been serving in his place left the Sunny Side Sunday afternoon after making the run to Medford and back, going to Medford in his auto. He and his wife have been stopping at the Sunny Side for the past two weeks.

E. J. Olson of Dubuque, Iowa, F. H. McClure of Portland, Ore., and Walter Doe of Oakland, Ore., came out last Saturday and spent the night with us. They are interested in orchard land in this section as also a farm west of Jacksonville.

BUTTE FALLS

Misses Emerson, Smith and Shields, who have been here for the past week, returned to Central Point Monday.

Miss Nina Sears is spending this month with Miss Veri Rigby at Mosquito.

Rev. Smith spent last week and Sunday here. He is a Sunday school evangelist and is planning a picnic for Eagle Point, Derby, Reese creek and Butte Falls Sunday schools to be held the 14th at Derby. The superintendent of the association to which Rev. Smith belongs will be present and everyone is anticipating a splendid time.

Roderick Baker and Bernice Edmondson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edmondson, were married by Rev. Day at the home of the bride's parents. It was a very quiet affair, because of the recent death of Mrs. Edmondson's father. Those witnessing the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. Ben Edmondson, Mrs. Day, Mr. Baker, Sr., and Marcus Baker. The bride and groom will spend this winter with the bride's parents.
