

You Really Can't Blame Mutt and Jeff for This

STEERS $7.50 TO $8
HOGS $9 TO $9.70
SHEEP $4 TO $4.25

PORTLAND, Sept. 1.—Receipts for last week: Cattle, 2064; calves, 21; hogs, 829; sheep, 4096, and horses, 1.

The cattle market has suffered a decline and while not severe, it amounted to a quarter. Buyers could not be induced to bid over $8.00 for any quantity of choice steers. A few picked from the lot sold at higher prices but the bulk was a $7.50 to $7.75 affair. Half fat and poorly finished beef is a drug on the market, unless of feeder quality. Desirable feeders are selling freely $6.00 to $6.50. Butcher stock has been uneven and prices ranged wide. Good cows at $7.00 and steers at $8.00. Bulls at $5.00 and calves at $9.00 are liberal quotations in the cattle market.

A difficult hog market to judge. One short car sold Thursday for $9.50 and one car of contracted stuff came into the yards Friday, but these were the only two at the unloading chutes on those days. Monday's top sales were $9.30 and one load Tuesday "off cars" at $9.70. What the market would do in the event a reasonable liquidation occurred and buyers had a respectable hog spread is hard to conjecture. Monday had the only receipts of the week and the total was extremely light. On the basis of majority of swine transactions the prices seem strong at $9.00 and $9.50 and demand firm.

Mutton and lamb buyers furnished the only interesting feature to the otherwise drab livestock market. Weeker sales at $4.25, ewes at $3.85 and $4.00 and lambs at 5.25 created an active trade. Killers are not short on sheep house supplies, but they fancy the prime stuff evidently, which is but a small proportion of the total receipts. Prices are considered steady.

COPPER STRIKER'S GIRL WOUNDED BY DEPUTIES

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 1.—Margaret Faska, daughter of a striking copper miner, was shot and fatally wounded here today when a force of deputy sheriffs clashed with a mob of strikers and their sympathizers. Militiamen quickly quelled the rioting.

Reports indicate that the deputies fired at the strikers when the latter refused to leave mine property.
